TIMES TEST DIPLOMACY

Chinese Situation Difficult

Envoys Evade Representative of Northern Rebels at Peiping Legations

Powers Recognize Nationals but Fear to Offend Potential Victors

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Another delicate diplomatic situation is confronting the State Department with the growing military activity in China of the so-called northern coalition against the forces of the Nanking government.

The problem which now has arisen is caused by the recognition by the principal powers of the Nanking government as the ruling regime in China. The advance of the northern troops southward and the coalition establishment at Peiping (Peking) of a diplomatic mission has created a delicate situation for the foreign envoys on the ground.

DODGE ISSUE

Dispatches reaching the State Department have disclosed that Nelson T. Johnson, the American Minister, and his colleagues of the Diplomatic Corps are spending much of their time in Nanking—the seat of the southern government—to keep from dealing directly with the northern diplomatic representatives in the old capital of China.

With the ever-present possibility that the current struggle may establish a new regime in China the diplomats are loath to completely ignore the northern representative if they are in residence in Peiping. On the other hand, their governments have recognized the southern regime and they must continue to deal with it as long as it maintains responsible control of so large a part of China as it now does.

SEAT OF WAR

This latest civil war is being waged over a concentration area with Tsinan as its center, more than 1,000,000 troops being potentially available. The northern strength has come about through an alliance of the old-time crusader, Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang, the so-called Christian general, and Gen. Yen Hsi-shan, war lord of the prosperous Shansi Province. The southern troops are being led by Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, nominal President of China.

The northern diplomatic representative, a commissioner in rank, has already publicly indicated he expects the new northern government to organize fully in the old capital and has delivered to the foreign missions in Peiping a statement by Gen. Yen that he will be completely responsible for the protection of foreign lives and property in the area. Records of the State Department tonight showed 2617 Americans in the areas affected by the military campaigns. In some of these areas American consular agents and representatives are urging citizens of the United States to leave for places of safety.

Minister Wu of China, told the

BANDITS IN NICARAGUA SHOT DOWN

Twelve Killed and Others Wounded in Three Battles With Guard Forces

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) June 8. (AP)—Gen. Douglas McDougal, commander of the Nicaraguan National Guard, announced tonight that the recently launched offensive against banditry has resulted in three engagements in as many days, with twelve bandits killed and at least nine wounded. The guard had no casualties.

Gen. MacDougal said the guardsmen, officered by United States marines, are scouring the hills and jungles of the northern sector, forcing the bandits to fight in their own haunts.

The first fight occurred Thursday, Capt. Fagin with a small detachment engaged a group of forty bandits at a point between Palacaguina and the Yali range in the Department of Jinotega. After a fifteen-minute battle the bandits fled, leaving two wounded.

Capt. Puller and Lieut. Lee, with thirty-five guards, charged up a hill in a hot fight against another group the next day. Seven were killed, including the leader, Marcial Rivera, and the number of wounded was not determined. The fight was at Los Cedros, west of Guapinol Mountain in the Department of Matagalpa.

The third battle occurred yesterday at Mancalian, just east of La Trinidad in the Department of Estell. Lieut. Cobb with a small guard detachment surprised fifty-nine bandits under the chieftain Pedro Blandon, killing five and wounding seven.

Supplies and arms were captured in all three engagements.

WIFE SWAPPERS ACQUITTED

Only Consciences Can Punish Two North Dakota Couples, Judge Rules in Odd Case

MINOT (N. D.) June 8. (AP)—The State of North Dakota cannot penalize two Renville county couples who traded mates, and only the "unfailing penalties of their conscience" can punish them, in the opinion of District Judge Buttz of Devils Lake.

Judge Buttz made his ruling in the strange case last night, holding that if any punishment is to be meted out it must be "those fierce and refined pains and punishments which conscience alone may inflict."

FOUR ACQUITTED

An acquittal of the two couples, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rikansrud and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Knight on charges of living together unlawfully was ordered by Judge Buttz, who held that such acts in this State have not been made a public crime.

On January 28, 1929, decrees of divorce were obtained by the two women in District Court here, each testifying for the other that the defendant's husband had been untrue.

The husbands lingered outside the courtroom while the women obtained the decrees, which forbade each of the four litigants to remarry for a period of ninety days.

The two couples drove to Melita, Manitoba, two days later where, in a double ceremony, they exchanged mates and made their honeymoon trip back to their farms.

FAMILIES EVENED UP

The women went to the homes of their new mates, but kept the custody of their children, except that one son of the Knights stayed with his father to make the families more even in size, the Riksansruds now having four children and the Knights three.

The couples asserted they believed each would be happier if there was a different mating, and afterward each asserted a new happiness had been found.

It was charged by the State, in instituting prosecution against the couples in Renville county, that they were not legally married through the Canadian ceremony inasmuch as the divorce decrees had forbidden any of them to rewed for ninety days.

DRIVE ON COCKTAILS LAUNCHED

Philadelphia Social Set Leader Starts Campaign on New York Drinking

NEW YORK, June 8. (Exclusive) Addressing herself to women listed in the New York "Social Register," Mrs. George Holt Strawbridge of Philadelphia has started a quiet campaign here to abolish the cocktail and other drinks at all social functions and to organize a committee of women prepared to insist on prohibition enforcement in their immediate circles.

Hundreds of letters citing the example of Mrs. Edward B. McLean of Washington, who started dry-breakfast parties a year ago, have reached New York women within the last few days.

Boston, Chicago, Baltimore and Philadelphia already have been canvassed on the same premises and New York is now being stormed.

Mrs. Strawbridge's ultimate aim, as expressed in her circular letter, is to form a national committee comprised of local groups all over the country, but "with no spectacular crusade, no public meetings, no newspaper publicity."

PUBLIC EYE DIRECTED TO STAR SHOW

Celestial Luminaries in Form of Meteors Billed for Appearance Tonight

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—Astronomers urge the public to watch for meteors tomorrow night.

Not in many years has there been a meteor shower at this time of the year and no certain prediction is made for Monday. The possibility of the shower was pointed out recently by a Japanese astronomer, who said he believed the meteors are associated with a newly discovered comet which is not far from the earth.

Reports of the meteors, if they appear, are wanted by the American Meteor Society, which uses them to learn about the earth's atmosphere fifty to 100 miles aloft. The time, duration and position of bright meteors are wanted. If they explode or show colors or tails, those points are wanted also.

This information should be sent to Prof. Charles P. Oliver of the University of Pennsylvania, head of the American Meteor Society.

The meteors should be looked for near the constellation Hercules. This constellation will be nearly overhead early in the evening.

Way Cleared for Approval of Fund for Boulder Dam Construction

Prompt Passage of Bill by House Expected as Consequence

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 8. (Exclusive)—Contracts for the sale of power and water from the Boulder Dam project recently executed by Secretary Wilbur with the city of Los Angeles and other interests are valid and comply with the conditions laid down in the Boulder Dam Act, Atty-Gen. Mitchell has ruled, it was learned today.

His opinion, sought by the House Appropriations Committee, is expected to clear the way for early approval of the $10,660,000 appropriation for initiating construction work now pending before the committee. With committee approval, the bill will be promptly passed by the House and then pressed for immediate passage in the Senate.

Text of the opinion was said tonight to be in the hands of Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, who is expected to present it tomorrow.

The Boulder Dam item was included in the second deficiency bill and was assured of quick approval until Arizona interests raised the question of validity of the contracts which the Boulder Dam Act requires before construction can be started. Members of the committee agreed to hold up the appropriation measure until opinion of the Department of Justice could be obtained.

CAUSE AND CURE FOUND FOR COLDS

Maryland Discovery Expected to Put Malady Under Control of Science

BALTIMORE, June 8. (AP)—The cause and cure for the common cold which is estimated to cause the American worker a loss in wages alone of $2,000,000,000 a year, is believed to have been discovered by Dr. J. A. Pfeiffer, associate of the University of Maryland Medical School.

The scientist in a paper before the University of Maryland Biological Society, announced the isolation of a microscopic organism and its identification as the source of man's most common ailment. He described it as the micrococcus coryza.

"We are certain that the micrococcus in question is the one we have been looking for and that persons can be immunized against its attacks," Dr. Pfeiffer said today. "We have proved both points to our satisfaction and experiments with animals and with humans."

The organism he has succeeded in isolating after years of research, by scientists the world over, is entirely new to bacteriology, he said. He uncovered it in the course of seven years research into the causes of cold, and did not make public his discovery until his theories had been confirmed in practice as well as in the laboratory, he said.

A vaccine has been worked out and has proven successful in experiments with human beings and an antitoxin that should be equally successful is being developed, he said.

CAROL KING IN RUMANIA

Crown Won by Exiled Prince

Air Coup d'Etate Succeeds as Assembly Restores Full Rights of Royalty

Divorce from Helen May be Annulled, and Michael Stands Next in Line

BUCHAREST, June 8. (AP)—Carol Caraiman, citizen, today became King Carol II of Rumania by a vote of the Rumanian Parliament which lacked only one vote of being unanimous.

Thus the first successful airplane coup d'etat in history became a spectacular and constitutional conclusion.

A man who renounced his royal rights January 4, 1926, and went into exile with a woman companion, now wears the crown of his father; his son Michael, the boy King who has ruled with a regency council, returns to his sand box and velocipede with the status of Crown Prince, and there are indications that King Carol's divorce from Princess Helen, mother of Michael, will be annulled for reasons of state.

THOUSANDS CHEER

The accession of the former Crown Prince occasioned a wildly enthusiastic popular demonstration. Amid splendid weather the city was gaily decorated, and 200,000 cheering subjects lined the two-mile route from the Royal Cotrecini Palace to the Chamber of Deputies when the prodigal Prince moved in a state procession to take the oath as Carol II.

King Carol's royal rights were restored by a special session of the Senate this morning. Then, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the National Assembly of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies was solemnly opened to consider his proclamation as King.

The first speaker was Prof. Nicholas Jorga, once Carol's tutor, and his friend through prosperity and adversity.

With his voice choking with emotion, Prof. Jorga declared that the decree of January 4, 1926, which banished Carol was a monstrosity.

"It was wrung from the late King Ferdinand, the victim of intrigues, by Carol's enemies, and signed by the King with trembling hands and tear-filled eyes," he exclaimed. "The act was also illegal because the Prince could not renounce the succession, which had not yet been opened. Today reparation is due Carol. It is also due Rumania for the fate of the country and dynasty."

ONE NEGATIVE VOTE

The entire House arose and cheered, and when a ballot was taken on the restoration of rights 486 favored it. Only one negative vote was cast, this by M. Bratianu, Liberal leader.

A proposal by the Deputy Bunian then was read, asking the Assembly immediately to proclaim Carol King Carol II. Julio Maniu, former Premier, in a stirring address as leader of the National Peasants' party, approved the proposal, and was followed by representatives of the other parties.

The proclamation was made immediately after the vote while the cheering legislators shouted "Long live King Carol the second!" The cry reached the immense throngs outside and was taken up by them, sounding like the organized cheering of American political parties at national conventions.

As its final act the Assembly made the former boy King Michael the hereditary successor, giving him the title "Grand Viovode" and creating him Duke of Alba Julia.

OATH TAKEN

Then, arrayed in the full-dress uniform of a general, the new King left Cotrecini Palace with an escort of cavalry to take the oath while the populace en route acclaimed him wildly. Accompanying him were his brother, Prince Nicholas, and high officials.

Arriving at the Parliament House while airplanes circled overhead,

FAMILY DISCORD AIDS COUP

Friend in Exile Says Stage Had Been Set in Long Negotiations for Carol's Return to Throne

[Copyright, 1930, by the New York Times]

BELLEME (France) June 8. (Exclusive)—The complete story of how Prince, now King, Carol's sudden return to Bucharest was carefully prepared and then precipitated by unexpected discord in the royal family was told here by Capt. Paul Dimitresco, who returned tonight from Munich where he alone accompanied Carol last Tuesday.

Gathered at the chateau which is the property of Mme. Lupescu, Carol's abandoned mistress, was a group of young Rumanians led by Capt. Dimitresco, for years devoted to the almost hopeless cause of the exiled and dispossessed heir to their country's throne. Most of them exiles themselves, they were celebrating their victory tonight and when the news of Parliament's vote giving the crown to their prince was received by telephone they stood with bared heads and drank to the health of "King Charles."

Reviewing the facts which led up to the adventure, Capt. Dimitresco said that long negotiations had been carried on through political and military circles in Bucharest in Carol's behalf ever since the death of his arch-enemy of Rumania's strongest politician, Jean Bratianu. In recent months these negotiations gave reason for the strongest hopes and nearly all the difficulties were believed to have been overcome. Obstacles in the way were lightened by the fact that Mme. Lupescu voluntarily made a personal sacrifice, urging Carol to follow his conscience. But the date for his return had not been set.

It was at this juncture, that it was learned there had occurred in Bucharest an incident between Prince Nicholas, a member of the regency, and the Queen Mother, Marie.

Prince Nicholas had quarreled with his mother, it is said, with regard to the personality and political influence of Prince Barbu Stirbey and had threatened his resignation from the regency, to take place last Tuesday. The Queen Mother declared to Prince Nicholas that he must refer the question to Prince Wilhelm of Hohenzollern, head of the Rumanian branch of the fami-

GREATER EINSTEIN THEORY WILL BE GIVEN TO WORLD

Newest Concept, Embracing All Physical Phenomena, to Upset Ideas of Space and Matter

[Copyright, 1930, by the New York Times]

LONDON, June 7. (Exclusive)—The whole scientific world awaits with keen interest the production by Prof. Albert Einstein of an equation or group of equations which will give a complete picture of all physical phenomena. The distinguished German physicist has been evolving his theory of relativity into a larger theory to explain all physical action and reaction.

The completion of this theory calls for a special study of the importance of electromagnetic phenomena in which Einstein discards the theory of the ether, which he considers a makeshift fabricated to explain something for which scientists at the time did not have the correct explanation. It will be his purpose to accommodate in equations electromagnetic phenomena with gravitation and geometry.

AIM EXPLAINED

Prof. Einstein, in a speech at Nottingham University Friday night, explained how he has been working for one set of equations which will describe completely our physical system. He said he thought he was close to it.

The savant gave a taste of the manner in which he will bring strident alterations to our concepts in the emphasis he placed on the importance of space as a factor.

"It now appears," he said, "that space will have to be regarded as a primary thing with matter only derived from it, so to speak, as a secondary result. Space now is turning around and eating up matter. We have always regarded matter as a primary thing and space as a secondary result. Space is now having its revenge."

Prof. Einstein's address, which was delivered in Germany, was translated by Dr. I. H. Brose. A stenographic report of Dr. Brose's translation of the lecture in part follows:

LECTURE TRANSLATED

"Prof. Einstein does not wish you to accept his remarks on credit, but wishes to explain in the clearest way possible what he considers to be the trend of modern physics. What he has to say is his purely subjective opinion and by no means generally recognized. He thinks he can give you at least some outline of what his view is of the future of the subject, but he does not want his remarks to be regarded as assertions. He wants them to be regarded as humble expressions of his opinion.

"He will now concentrate our attention on fundamental conceptions which lay at beginnings of the foundations of physics. Prof. Einstein makes clear what the prescientific view was and explains that the primitive concept was that of a rigid body and that relationships in the positions of rigid bodies preceded all ideas of space; that space was not a primary conception and that it was only through dealing with the position and relationships of bodies that the idea of space later emerged.

BASIS OF EARLY IDEAS

"These ideas of space were due, of course, to contact relationships between bodies and it is interesting to know that the classical science of the Greeks did not operate with space, but exclusively with bodies. A rigid body is at the bottom of all the conceptions of geometrical space of Euclid.

"The idea of a space continuum entered into science only when analytical geometry was invented by Descartes. How did the idea of space originally arise? The Greeks approached position in geometry by considering the position of bodies with regard to each other. This, of course, suggests a body of reference. We are familiar with co-ordinate systems in geography in the way in which they were used—for instance, in maps of geography.

"Space appears expressed in bodylike form by means of these axes of reference. This is really the way in which space as such entered into geography in the first place and there was no physical basis for it. Relative motion occurs only with reference to one or more bodies. The great change took place in that view when Newton proposed his mechanics.

NEWTON'S MECHANICS

"The fundamental idea of Newton's mechanics was the introduction of the idea of force—that is to say, acceleration. Acceleration can be imagined only in reference to a real rigid body. It is a wonderful tribute to Newton's genius that he could go so far as to give space a definite physical reality.

"He included it among the other realities. This is an aspect of his theory which has not been understood or has been neglected or misunderstood by some of his followers.

"Prof. Einstein is very anxious that this particular point be emphasized—that space entered as a definite physical reality. It was a point which was missed even by the philosopher Kant.

"A remark should be added about the physical idea of space. There are two aspects. In one space is to be regarded as the quintessence of positional possibilities of bodies, and, secondly, as definite dynamic system of reference.

"Prof. Einstein emphasizes that Newton's space is to be regarded as absolute in the sense that positional possibilities of rigid bodies are to be considered as quite independent and outside forces, although he does not take temperature into consideration. This space is independent of all physical causes and is something which is absolute in itself.

"In Prof. Einstein's opinion a definite change in the view of nature after the time of Newton occurred when the idea of the electromagnetic field was introduced by Faraday and Maxwell. The only real things at that time were bodies, space and time. Those were constructive elements from the physical viewpoint of the times. There were no others.

"Faraday introduced the idea of 'a field,' and his contemporaries were bound to that method of introducing the idea of a state owing to the manner of thought of their time.

INTRODUCTION OF ETHER

"They, therefore, introduced a new body called ether—or at least a new idea which they called ether—to represent a physical state. The introduction of ether was necessary in order to allow electromagnetic phenomena to occur in space. This view received considerable strengthening at the hands of a Dutchman named Lounts, who showed that in the electromagnetic theory of states, all ponderable bodies were those of ether and not of material bodies themselves.

"Looking back now we might ask why ether as such was introduced. Why not have called it 'state of ether or state of space?' The reason was they had not yet arrived at a realization of the connection or lack of connection between geometry and space and so they felt restrained to add to space a variable brother, as it were, which could be a carrier for all electromagnetic phenomena.

"The next change in the idea of space was comparatively small. It was due to a special theory of relativity sometimes called the 'restrictive' theory of relativity. Classical physicists had two separate continua which were to be regarded as a performing stage for continua. Those were space and time. Altogether, they formed four dimensional continua, three being in space and one in time.

"But it had to be subdivided into two blocks due to the fact that there were a before and an after and to satisfy the requirements of simultaneity. It was found, however, that to satisfy the demands of the constancy of propagation of light, the subdimensions of space and time could not in this way be preserved or carried out.

SPACE TIME PHENOMENON

"The space-time phenomenon of the special theory of relativity was something absolute in itself, inasmuch as it was independent of the particular state of motions considered in that theory.

"A definite change in our ideas about the role and constitution of space was due to the enunciation of the general theory of relativity, for which the ground had been prepared by the special theory of relativity. The law of inertia—we called it Newton's first law of motion—has shown a gap in its logic because we are not able to tell when co-ordinate systems were in acceleration or in rotation. We had no definite means of establishing it.

"This is what is known in the general theory of relativity as 'the principle of equivalents.' It implies that an accelerated co-ordinate system can be regarded in a certain sense as equivalent to what was known as the 'inertial system.' Watches and measuring rods were not found to operate in the same way for accelerated systems as for co-ordinate systems of the special theory of relativity.

"To preserve the theory of relativity for the accelerated motions as well as for the uniform regular motions of the special theory of relativity, Euclidian geometry having been found to be too restrictive, had to be rejected and a new geometry of space found. In order to preserve position possibilities of space we were compelled to regard them as no longer independent of positions of other bodies.

NEW VIEWPOINT

"In other words, the privileged position of geometry had to be given up and the viewpoint of covariants as it is known to mathematicians has been gained. This means that for a description of physical phenomena we must regard all generalized co-ordinates as of equal validity.

"What, as general theory, has relativity then actually achieved? Prof. Einstein does not want to enter into the question of three experimental tests which have all conformed to his suspicions, but the main achievement of the general theory of relativity is that it has advanced a uniformity of view of the physical world structure. The metrics of space can be derived directly from the full equation and it produces a number of hypotheses which were originally thought necessary to account for physical phenomena. It has built, so to speak, a bridge between geometry and physics."

SIMMONS SENT INTO OBLIVION

North Carolina's Democrats Defeat "Hoovercrat"

Josiah Bailey Nominated to Take Seat in Senate

man who has ruled the Democratic politics of North Carolina like a czar and who is credited with leading 100,000 Democrats away from his party's Presidential nominee two years ago and delivering them to the Republican nominee, Herbert Hoover.

WHAT IT MEANS

To many political observers the turning out of Senator Simmons means the death of the "Hoovercrat" movement in the South. They point to the fact that Virginia, which, like North Carolina, went Republican two years ago, was returned to the Democratic regular column this year when it rejected Dr. William Moseley Brown, irregular Democrat, for that party's gubernatorial nomination and selected instead Dr. John Garland Pollard, who remained regular. The Republicans and the insurgent Democrats led by Bishop James Cannon of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, had fused on Dr. Brown.

In Alabama, where Senator Heflin bolted the Democratic Presidential nominee, as Simmons did in North Carolina, Heflin has been barred from participation in the Democratic primary. He could not even get his name on the ballot. For the past several months Heflin has been campaigning from one end of his State to the other but if he wins he must do so as an independent running in November. Only a political miracle can save him.

SIMMONS "THROUGH"

The results in North Carolina show that party organization is still most effective in that State. It was admitted by the Simmons people, as well as by his opponents, that at least four-fifths of the organization was with Bailey because of Simmons's irregularity two years ago.

Simmons, it was predicted, would carry with him to a man the 100,000 Democrats who bolted with him two years ago but his future depended upon the extent to which the regular Democrats would "forgive" him for delivering the State to the Republicans in 1928. The results show that not many thousand were willing to forgive and forget.

Simmons undoubtedly is "through" politically. He is an old man and his health is feeble. His supporters expect him to go into retirement in his modest home at Newbern without hope of a comeback. He is 76 years of age. He was elected to Congress in 1886 and in 1900 was elected to the Senate for the term beginning March 4, 1901. He was re-elected in 1907, 1913, and 1924 without serious opposition. Throughout the World War he was chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and in that capacity he piloted all the legislation for financing the war through the Senate. Southern Democrats in Congress have looked to him for leadership in all matters of domestic policy, especially in relation to the tariff and taxation.

GREAT TURNOVER DUE

Defeat of Senator Simmons assures one of the greatest turnovers of many years in Senate membership in the next Congress.

Already two other members of the Senate have been defeated for renomination—Senators Deneen of Illinois and Grundy of Pennsylvania, both Republicans.

Previously, six Republican Senators announced they will not be candidates to succeed themselves in this year's election—Gillett of Massachusetts, Gould of Maine, Phipps of Colorado, Goff of West Virginia, Sullivan of Wyoming and Baird of New Jersey.

Thus, nine of the thirty-five members of the Senate up for reelection this year are already out of the race. Senator McMaster, Republican, South Dakota, is the only member to go through a primary contest victoriously so far.

Senator McNary of Oregon, the assistant Republican leader, was renominated without opposition but most of the other candidates face both primary and election battles.

BAILEY OBTAINS MAJORITY OF 70,000

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) June 8. (AP) Furnifold M. Simmons, United States Senator from North Carolina, yesterday joined Senators Grundy of Pennsylvan and Deneen of Illinois in defeat for renomination.

The veteran Tar Heel legislator, who has been virtual dictator of the Democratic party in the State since he defeated Senator Butler, Republican, in 1900, was snowed under by Josiah W. Bailey, Raleigh attorney, by a majority of around 70,000 votes. The switch is regarded in the State as entirely due to the fact that Senator Simmons in 1928 refused to support Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee for President, and threw his influence to Herbert Hoover, the State going Republican nationally for the first time in a third of a century. Bailey entered the primary with the avowed intention of "punishing" Simmons.

DEFEAT CONCEDED

With 1513 precincts out of 1799 in the State giving Bailey 178,869 votes to 117,969 for Simmons, the venerable North Carolina Senator told the Associated Press from his home in Newbern that "to the best of my knowledge from returns I have received, I have been defeated."

Senator Simmons ridiculed predictions that he might run as an independent.

While Senator Simmons was being defeated within the Democratic party, George E. Butler of Clinton, a brother of the man Simmons defeated in the general election of 1900, was running ahead in the Republican primary for nomination for United States Senator to oppose Bailey. Butler and Representative George M. Pritchard of Asheville are so close together with about one-fourth of the State reported, however, that it is regarded as likely that a run-off primary will be necessary.

BOLTER "PUNISHED" IN NORTH CAROLINA

CAROL BECOMES RUMANIAN KING

Carol entered the building with a tremendous ovation.

He took the oath, administered by the patriarch Miron Christea, a member of the former regency council, and received his first congratulations from Nicholas, who is regarded as having been a leading figure in plans for Carol's return by airplane Friday.

"You have again a mission to accomplish the last wish of King Ferdinand," said Nicholas.

The late King always had looked forward to seeing his tempestuous elder son occupying the throne.

AMNESTY GRANTED

The royal proclamation of King Carol II followed, the King delivering it personally and causing it to be placarded on billboards throughout Bucharest later. Its chief feature was the granting of amnesty to all political prisoners, but he said among other things that he has returned to serve his country and that he harbors no vengeance against anyone. "Not even against those who sought by calumnies to place a veil between me and my people."

He ended with an appeal for all religious and political groups to cooperate for the general interest of the state and said his first effort will be to develop an army which will maintain the Rumanian frontiers.

The King left Parliament for the grave of Rumania's unknown soldier, where he laid a wreath and knelt. Then he visited the royal palace from which he had been banished and was deeply moved by the emotion of the old servants. They kissed his garments and wept, while the King warmly shook their hands but was unable to speak.

DANCING IN STREET

The entire country heard the proclamation ceremony broadcast by radio, and tonight the happy inhabitants of Bucharest danced in the streets. Now they are looking forward to the festival of the coronation, which will take place in October at Alba Julia, where King Ferdinand was crowned.

With a new King in power the political situation has changed considerably. The ministry of Premier Maniu resigned yesterday and M. Mironescu formed a new Cabinet.

Tonight, with the installation of the King completed, the new Cabinet had completed its work and resigned. Thereupon King Carol began consultations with a view to forming a new government. His first visitor was former Premier Maniu, but later his friend, Prof. Jorga, called and the indications tonight are that Jorga will form a ministry, with Maniu holding one of the principal posts.

The first King Carol preceded King Ferdinand, Carol II's father.

ENEMIES BLAMED

In taking the oath King Carol II said, "An exile of more than four years, far from the people among whom I was born and nurtured, was inflicted upon me by certain persons who by their words filled with sorrow the soul of their great King—my dear father—and whose object it was to break the bonds between me and the Rumanian nation."

"The sublime demonstration of today," he continued, "clearly shows that these persons did not achieve their aims, and that the unshakable love which I have borne in my heart for Rumania has been abundantly rewarded in the affection shown me by the nation and its representatives.

"In keeping with the words of the gospel, I wish not the death of the guilty but their return to the right path, which they should never have left. I have not come to take vengeance against anybody. It is with all the warmth and affection of my soul that I desire to gather under one shield all those who have the will and power to collaborate for the progress of the country."

WOMAN KILLS HERSELF

SAN JOSE, June 8. (AP)—Mrs. Caroline Esteban, 38 years of age, wife of Manuel Esteban, Sunnyvale ranch hand, was found dead at the foot of a high water tank at her home in Sunnyvale this morning. She had apparently taken her own life by jumping from the tower.

FAMILY DISCORD BRINGS ON COUP

ly, and announced her departure for Bavaria to consult him.

Carol at his Normandy chateau received a message requesting him to go to Sigmaringen, Bavaria, to attend this family council, which was to be presided over by Prince Wilhelm, son of the former King Ferdinand's brother, and Carol's own cousin.

Carol replied to his mother agreeing to attend this meeting when a colonel in the Rumanian army, whose name is now withheld, arrived here with important information.

This colonel, representing the most influential interests of the country, made a complete expose of the internal political situation which convinced Carol that the conditions he fixed for his return had been fulfilled. An important revelation was made that the Liberal party, particularly its younger members, would not oppose Carol's recovery of the crown. A dramatic feature in this connection was that it was due mainly to the efforts of George Bratianu, son of former Premier Bratianu, that the Liberal opposition had been undermined.

INJUSTICE RIGHTED

George Bratianu, 36 years of age, professor of sociology at the University of Bucharest, had become a leader of the Liberal party in Moravia. Since his father's death he became convinced that injustice had been done to Carol by his family and he determined to use his influence so that this injustice might be righted, according to Dimitrescu's declaration.

This was the situation when, at the moment Carol was preparing to go to Bavaria for the family conclave, he received an urgent message from his brother, Prince Nicholas, sent after the Queen mother's departure from Bucharest, declaring in effect that "now's the moment."

Prince Nicholas's message, couched in the most emphatic terms, informed Carol that everything was in readiness for his return and he had only to appear and the army, people and Parliament would welcome him to the throne.

"This message was the deciding factor," said Capt. Dimitrescu. "Arrangements were quickly and secretly made. I accompanied the Prince alone and we went to the Gare De Lest Tuesday night and bought tickets for Munich. We arranged with the French aviator La Louette to meet Prince Carol at Munich and our plans were accomplished on schedule. It had been arranged that a Rumanian army plane would meet him at the frontier to convey him to the capital."

Dimitrescu tonight denied statements that there had been a secret meeting of reconciliation between Carol and Princess Helen. "Their reconciliation depends entirely on Helen," he said. "But there is every reason to hope it will be effected and that she will become Queen."

CHINESE PUZZLE FACING POWERS

Associated Press today he had complete confidence in the ability of the southern government to withstand the northern onslaught.

Students of Chinese affairs described the Yen-feng campaign as not one looking toward the overthrow of the Chinese Nationalist movement instituted by the Nanking government but one to gain control of the latter and conduct its policies on different lines.

It is generally admitted that the presence in the northern coalition of both conservatives and radicals may present Gen. Yen with a serious problem internally, which may seriously embarrass his military activities.

NATIONALISTS ASSERT REBEL LOSSES HEAVY

SHANGHAI, June 8. (AP)—An official statement issued today said that the rebel losses in the recent battle near Sin Cheng were 20,000 killed, 1000 taken prisoner and 15,000 surrendering voluntarily.

Meanwhile the government has concentrated seven gunboats at Yochow to co-operate against the Kwangsi rebels, who are reported to be advancing from the southward in the vicinity of Chansha.

An official message from Tsinan, which the armies of the northern coalition have been reported dangerously near for several days, said that the city was quiet today. It was added that the government forces are continuing air raids against the enemy, bombing Shansi and rebel camps along the Shantung-Chihli border.

FOREIGNERS' LIVES RESPONSIBILITY TAKEN

NANKING, June 8. (AP)—The government today advised foreign diplomatic representatives it would assume full responsibility for protection of the lives and property of foreign nationals in the various war zones during the government's campaign against the rebels.

CHINESE BANDITS KIDNAP TWO SPANISH PRIESTS

HANKOW (China) June 8. (AP)—Father Hidalgo and Avioto, Spanish priests, were kidnaped from Hwoshan, about 150 miles northeast of this city in Western Anhwei Province, presumably by the same bandits who a week ago captured Father Clifford King at the Catholic Mission at Sinyangchow, 100 miles north of here in Southern Honan Province, it was learned today.

The bandits are demanding ransom in the form of arms and ammunition. The three priests are believed held in a village twenty miles west of Sinyangchow.

Taking advantage of the departure northward of Nationalist government troops, outlaws in large bodies have been operating in this district for several weeks.

Each particular ailment is the outcropping of the upset condition—and if you are to recover your health, you must get your entire system back to normal.

One condition of the system leads all others as a cause of trouble. That condition is called the acid condition—by means of excessive acidity of the blood, of the tissues, of every part of the body.

And such ailments as various forms of stomach, digestive and intestinal disorders, rheumatism, arthritis, neuritis, kidney and bladder ills, liver trouble, diabetes, high blood pressure and stomach ulcers are very often accompanied by the excess acid condition, which MUST be altered for restoration of health.

OFFICIAL KILLS WIFE IN RIOT

Mississippi Church Festival Scene of Wild Fight

Youth Dying in Fray Over Rum Search of Auto

Other Persons Injured When Hit With Gun Butts

EUPORA (Miss.) June 8. (AP)—Mrs. Lee M. Ferguson, 45 years of age, was fatally wounded at a community singing festival near here today by her husband, a magistrate, who precipitated a pitched battle by his attempt to search the car of two youths for liquor. One of the youths, Tom Elkins, 19, was shot through the lung and is not expected to live, another man was shot and two others were slugged in the melee.

Hearing the gunshots which threw into turmoil a large crowd of farmers, their wives and children, Mrs. Ferguson ran toward her husband and into his line of fire. She died soon afterward.

Elkins and another youth, Watts Bowen, sat in a car on the church grounds, crowded by the throng there for an annual singing and church festival, a great item in the social life of this rural section. Some estimate the attendance exceeded 1000.

Magistrate Ferguson and two deputies, Bunyan Putnam and A. Y. Vaugh, believed the youths were drinking and started a search of the car. Elkins is said to have demanded a search warrant.

While friends led the protesting Bowen away, Elkins either fell or was knocked from the car. Others of the gathering said he was shot as he lay on the ground. A bullet penetrated one of his lungs and he was taken to a Houston (Miss.) hospital.

Sim J. Sewall, 65, a bystander, was shot through the knees. In the free-for-all battle which attended the shootings and T. D. Cattle, 18, and Archie Morris, 23, were slugged with gun butts.

CLEVELAND (O.) June 8. (Exclusive)—One kiss stolen from Mrs. Avilla Butler of this city was evaluated at only 6 cents by a jury which heard her plea that it was worth $25,000.

And not only that, the court charged her $10 to help pay the costs of the trial, so that in reality she is out both the kiss and $9.94. What she had to pay her lawyer is not in the record.

She accused Dr. Leonard W. Kuttler, Cleveland surgeon, of trying to kiss her when she visited his offices two years ago. He denied it.

HOME-BREW AID GIVEN BY LA GUARDIA

Guide on Within-the-Law Beverages Issued for His New York Constituents

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—A guide to his constituents on how to make "nonintoxicating wine and home-brew" and not run counter to the prohibition law has been issued by Representative LaGuardia, Republican, New York wet, on the basis of a bulletin from the Agriculture Department on "unfermented grape juice, how to make it in the home."

The bulletin, he says, describes kinds of "juice" from zinfandel to alicante and dealing with all the "interevning brands still fresh in the memory of the gourmand," and how to make them.

The rules laid down by LaGuardia include:

"The beverage must be made in the home and consumed in the home. It cannot be transported. It can be made only in quantities in keeping with the size of the family, and cannot be given to strangers or sold to friends.

"The home must be used exclusively for dwelling purposes. The beverage must be nonintoxicating in fact," but, he said, "it is not for the prohibition department or any of its officials or agents to determine what is intoxicating. That is a matter which only the jury with the aid of the court can determine. The average home-made wine used with meals in reasonable quantity and not producing or stimulating excitement of the mind, elation, enthusiasm, frenzy or madness may be considered as nonintoxicating within the meaning of the law."

LaGuardia said he is mailing the rules to each of his constituents.

Permission to Drag Canal Will be Asked

BY JOHN P. GALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, June 8. (Exclusive)—The finding of the body of one of Chicago's most notorious gangsters, Eugene (Red) McLaughlin, in the drainage canal near Summitt, Ill., Saturday, and the fact that six other prominent gang leaders have been missing from their usual haunts for days, have created consternation in the ranks of gangdom. The police today are of the opinion that missing members of various gangs have suffered a similar fate to that of McLaughlin.

McLaughlin's body, mutilated by bullets, trussed up with insulated telephone wire and wrapped in his overcoat was brought to the surface of the canal waters by accident. A tug boat dragging for logs hooked the heavy wire which had been wound round and round the body and to which seventy pounds of iron had been attached. Otherwise McLaughlin's name would have been but a memory and his death a matter of doubt.

THOSE MISSING

Officials of the State's Attorney's office on Monday will ask the sanitary district to lend tugboats for a search of the canal for bodies of the other missing gangsters, who are George (Bugs) Moran, North Side gang chief and deadly enemy of "Scarface" Al Capone; Teddy Newberry, a leader in the Moran faction; Leo Mongovan, one of Moran's bodyguard; Bennie Bennett, who left a profitable booze business in New York to join Moran; Robert Schmidt, known as "Frisco Dutch," constant companion of the dead McLaughlin, and Willie Higgins, who entered Chicago's racketeering after a like career in St. Paul.

It is the theory of investigating officers that all or several of the missing men have been executed by Capone's reported "shock troops." 100 of which, according to the police, have been imported to Chicago from Brooklyn and New York. These men, the police say, have been brought here in small groups for the last two weeks.

DETERMINED TO RULE

The Moran gang rebelled, according to this line of reasoning, against the new order of things in gangland that followed Capone's organization of the men who live outside the law, with himself as czar. Capone, it was pointed out, is determined to rule the city's lawlessness and let the money roll into his hands through a central headquarters. Under such conditions the political and police sanction of a "wide-open town" is more easily obtainable.

As has usually been the case in sudden death or disapearance of his enemies, "Scarface" himself is living a life of apparent inactivity in Florida—with an ironclad alibi.

His imported killers, however, as police mention, have the protection of anonymity, being completely unknown to both the authorities and other gangsters here.

It is for this reason that gangdom is carefully on the lookout for a sensation. None of them, the police say, are roaming around the streets.

TRAILS LOST

Moran has not been seen by his friends, so far as police can learn, since the 2nd inst., on which date there was a shooting in the rear of a hotel near Belmont avenue and Sheridan Road, where he had a "hide-out" apartment. Seach of the Fox Lake district, where he maintained a retreat, and his West Side home disclosed nothing.

Mongoven has not been seen since May 29, last, when he forfeited a bond of $202,000 put up to guarantee his appearance for trial on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. The exact date of Newberry's disappearance is not known.

Bennett dropped from sight February 24. He was standing in front of the Tremont Hotel in Dearborn street near Madison, when he received a message Moran wished to see him. That is common practice among hoodlums in "putting a man on the spot."

"Frisco Dutch" Schmidt has been seen in his usual haunts since McLaughlin disappeared.

Higgins has been missing a month.

A significant fact is that John (Billiken) Rito, Newberry's guard, was slain in March. His body was recovered from the drainage canal.

Other pertinent facts are found in the circumstances surrounding the gang massacre recently at Fox Lake, in which Sam Pellar, Joe Bertsche and Mike Quirk were killed and George Druggan, brother of the renowned Terry, and a woman companion, were injured.

MAN WHO SOLD GUNS FOR MASSACRE SHOT

ROCKFORD (Ill.) June 8. (AP)—Frank Thompson, who sold the weapons used in the St. Valentine's Day massacre of the seven Moran gang hoodlums last year in Chicago, was shot above the heart and seriously wounded today. He was brought here to the hospital by attendants at a filling station into which he drove and collapsed.

When did stretchers disappear from the chair?

In the days of armor, the ample tonnage of men-about-town required that chairs be rugged—chair legs were reinforced with stretchers or crosspieces. As armor disappeared, there became less need for rugged furniture, and in the time of Queen Anne, the stretcher had almost entirely vanished. Today, Queen Anne chairs with stretchers are rare and highly prized. Their traditional design has been faithfully followed in the Danersk chair illustrated below.

What is petit point?

Madame de Maintenon, secret wife of King Louis XIV, was fond of needlework and her skill in covering canvas with pictures was naturally imitated by all the ladies of France. "Gros point" (French for "large stitch") was a stitch covering two strands of canvas. "Petit point"—"small stitch"—covered only one strand, and resulted in tapestries or chair coverings which were exceedingly fine. Gros point and petit point are two of the many attractive materials available as coverings for the Danersk chair pictured below.

What is a mortise?

Each part of a fine chair carries either a projecting piece called a "tenon" or a slot known as a "mortise". The chair parts are then joined by carefully fitting the tenons into the mortises and driving through wooden pegs to hold them fast. This method of making adds much to the desirability of the chair, but requires such skilled craftsmanship that its use is limited to the finest furniture pieces, such as the Danersk chair shown below.

The comfortable Danersk chair pictured above is modeled after a rare Queen Anne chair with cabriole legs connected by stretchers. The English original was valued at $3000. The Danersk reproduction, however, though it can be had covered with gros point, petit point or other pedigreed materials—is quite moderately priced. This chair is now made by the Danersk colony of Scotch and English cabinetmakers; with mortise and tenon construction, hand pegged joints and all the traditional marks of fine craftsmanship. Come and see our interesting displays for every room of the house.

REBUKE AIMED AT 'REFORMERS'

Conference of Social Work Hears Dr. Van Waters

Usual "Uplift" Movements Receive Criticism

Best Way to Do Real Good for Masses Defined

BOSTON (Mass.) June 8. (Exclusive)—"Reform" or "uplift" movements are far removed from genuine social work, Dr. Miriam Van Waters, president of the National Conference of Social Work, told 500 delegates at the opening of the fifty-seventh annual meeting of the organization here tonight.

Dr. Van Waters is referee of the Los Angeles Juvenile Court and at present on leave of absence as consultant for President Hoover's Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement.

"Reformers," said Dr. Van Waters, "commonly have a low opinion of mankind, but the attitude of the social workers is one of respect. Public opinion confuses the two and is mistaken in this. The social worker finds in those with whom he deals qualities showing regard for others, self-sacrifice and loyalty quite as commonly as poverty, avarice and crime. To attempt by means of legislative and constitutional reform to arrange matters so that the interests of some will not conflict with those of their fellows wholly lacks the concept of personality and relies too much on rewards and punishments."

DIFFERENCE SHOWN

Dr. Van Waters said it is this attitude toward personality which sets the social worker apart from reformers adopting a program of militant warfare.

"The social worker has built up a concept of the laws which lie at the foundation of behavior. When the idea of causation appears, praise and blame disappear. We hear no more about the 'worthy poor,' but we hear a great deal about the vital quest of the way of life.

"The subject matter of our study is the adjustment of men to their environment as to common not separate wants; for example, we do not seek to aid a man to become a better mathematician, but a better member of his household and community."

CHANGES TRACED

Recounting the stages of progress through which the National Social Work conference has passed during the last fifty-six years, Dr. Van Waters said that the first period of thinking was characterized by brick and mortar—an age of building alms houses for poor relief. At the first meeting in 1874, she stated, the attendance was seventy-nine. The gradations through which the organization passed to emerge today with more than 5000 delegates to the present conference were described by her successively as the "hereditary" era when ancestors were blamed for the discomforts of the individual; the "statistical" era when it was discovered by investigation that the condition of the poor could be improved by other means that relief giving—resulting in techniques of investigation, cooperation and registration, as well as in increased demand for trained workers.

LEGISLATIVE ERA

The next era, from 1904 to 1914, marked a period of extensive legislation in an effort to ameliorate the condition of the less privileged. Health of workers in industry, regulation of hours of labor, became the serious concern of law-making bodies, followed by enactments having to do with sanitation, safety and social insurance.

"A change in attitude marks the present era beginning in 1924," she concluded. "Research is its characteristic. Intensive specialization as well as scientific skepticism is to be seen in our attitude toward the work in hand. We look before we leap; we make a survey before we build; we live in an order based on the personality of man; if we attempt to ignore the complexities of human relationships we not only contribute nothing to the progress of mankind—we do not even make life worth while to the man who has been cured of an ear ache."

Bishop William Lawrence of Boston presided at the opening meeting.

Portugal Honors Murdered Envoy

LISBON (Portugal) June 8. (AP)—The body of Dr. Von Baligand, German Minister to Portugal, who was shot and killed yesterday by an assassin, today lay in state at the German Legation.

Four sailors commanded by a lieutenant from the cruiser Koenigsberg formed the guard of honor. Members of the Portuguese Cabinet and of the Diplomatic Corps, calling at the Legation, filed before the casket.

The Cabinet met in extraordinary session today and decided to give Dr. Baligand a state funeral tomorrow. All public departments, legations and warships in the harbor will fly flags at half-staff. The government suspended all official receptions.

FIGHT OVER PARKING AREA ENDS IN DEATH

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8. (AP)—Blows over the heart received in an altercation with an unidentified motorist over a parking space are declared to have caused the death of Richard P. Miller, who died at his home several hours after the fight. Joseph Webster, Miller's companion, said Miller's car collided with another which was attempting to back into the same parking space. Both Miller and the unidentified driver jumped out of their cars and a quarrel followed. Several blows were struck.

PARACHUTE JUMPER HURTLES TO DEATH

HUDSON (N. Y.) June 8. (AP)—A parachute jumper fell to death here today from 2500 feet, his rip cord not pulled. He was Frank Levinsky, 22 years of age, of Chicago, who substituted in an exhibition for another man.

Mexico Sends Corn to Needy

MEXICO CITY, June 8. (Exclusive)—Ninety tons of corn as the first shipment to alleviate food shortage and lack of prime necessities in the State of Chihuahua have been sent by the Federal government to the affected region, according to an official statement issued at the Presidential offices. Stoppage in the mining industry in Chihuahua due to the drop in silver and the general depressed condition of the industry has left thousands of workers jobless and in urgent need of food relief.

MORE AIRWAYS TO GET LIGHTS

Federal Program Takes in 3000 Additional Miles

WASHINGTON, June 8. (Exclusive)—Plans for lighting 3000 more miles of airways during the fiscal year beginning July 1, next, were announced today by Clarence M. Young, assistant Secretary of Commerce for aeronautics.

With the completion of this program there will be a total of 17,500 miles of Federally lighted airways.

The construction program will include twenty additional airways radio stations broadcasting weather information on an hourly basis to pilots in flight, bringing the number of such stations up to sixty-five.

Flight Across Ocean Delayed

BALDONNEL (Ireland) June 8. (AP)—Reports of bad weather late today caused Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith to postpone once more his attempt at an east-west flight over the Atlantic Ocean.

The take-off has been set for early tomorrow, but the second postponement left the time undecided. The airplane, the Southern Cross, is in the hangar here at Baldonnel tonight, ready to fly to the Curragh Camp, whence the start will be made.

FLYERS TO UNITE

FRESNO, June 8. (AP)—Aviators from all parts of the State are to meet in Fresno July 11 and 12 to form a State association through which legislation favorable to flying will be fostered. The Fresno chapter of the National Aeronautical Association is sponsoring the meeting.

FEARS ANNULED FOR DIVORCEES

Mexican Justice Reassures Decree Holders

MEXICO CITY, June 8. (AP)—Justice Francisco Diaz Lombardo today set at rest the minds of many Mexicans and Americans who had obtained divorces in Cuernavaca, State of Morelos.

The third division of the Supreme Court last week threw a cloud over Cuernavaca divorces by revoking one issued there on the ground that the Morelos law was invalid, but Justice Lombardo, who presides over that division, announced today the decision affected only the case granted.

He said the constitution forbids the automatic annulment of all cases by a decision on one.

WOMEN REVERE MEMBERS GONE

National Federation Holds Lodge of Sorrow

Natural Amphitheater Stage of Memorial Rites

Buglers Sound "Taps" for Biennial's Dead

MT. MORRISON (Colo.) June 8. (AP)—In the nature-made cathedral of the Bowl of the Red Rocks, west of here in the Colorado Rockies, members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs gathered today for their biennial memorial service.

"Singleness of purpose has drawn members of the General Federation into a close bond of love," said Mrs. Thomas G. Winter of Pasadena, Cal., past president of the General Federation, in the memorial address. "We are left to carry on the ideals fostered by the loved ones who have departed. Their cause and ours are one in honoring their memory. We must not fail them."

NATURE'S CHAPEL

Nearly a thousand persons sat in the natural amphitheater before the rostrum hewn from the richly colored red rocks of the bowl. A forest of pines framed the spot where Mrs. John F. Sippel, national president of the federation, opened the services. She read the names of women prominent in the work of the federation who have died within the past two years.

A trumpet quartet stationed high up in a cleft on the side of the jumbled mass of rocks played "Evening Star" and "Lost Chord."

"TAPS" FOR DEPARTED

The plaintive notes of "Taps" echoed through the bowl and remained in the air after the buglers had taken their trumpets from their lips as the brief services ended.

The memorial service was the only scheduled session of delegates to the twentieth biennial convention of the federation today. A pow-wow for the professional press at Indian Hills preceded the services in the Bowl of the Red Rocks.

Commerce Department Lists Tariff Figures

Dutiable and Nonpayment Totals Compared

Cuban Sugar Ranks Highest of Revenue Items

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—An important contribution to the tariff bill discussion was made today by the Commerce Department in the form of a statistical trade analysis showing just how far domestic import duties affected American international trade in 1929.

No comparisons were made between the present tariff duties and those projected in the bill now going through the last of its Congressional stages.

SUGAR PAYS MOST

During 1929 the study shows of total United States imports amounting to about $4,300,000,000 $2,843,000,000 came in without incurring any duty under this country's tariff as it now exists and $1,566,000,000 paid duty. The greatest single item of tariff collected came from Cuban sugar, which paid during the year $197,000,000, or nearly a quarter of the entire amount collected by the government from tariff. The greatest collection of duty-free imports was arrayed under the classification of raw materials intended for use in manufacturing, which included 29 per cent of all American imports with the most important commodity crude rubber.

IMPORT COMPARISONS

In the matter of imported foodstuffs during 1929 the tariff had a fifty-fifty effect. Foodstuffs imported free of duty amounted to $525,000,000 in value, while foodstuffs imported after tariff payment were worth $436,000,000. Cocoa, coffee and a number of other exotic products were included in the free collection.

Manufactured goods imported incurred the greatest amount of tariff charge last year. In the category of partly finished manufactures imports free from tariff amounted to $630,000,000 while imports subject to duty amounted to $245,000,000. However, on completely manufactured goods the imports paying duty amounted to $565,000,000 in value, while the imports free from duty amounted to $397,000,000.

Stored Foods, to Remain Impurity-Free, Must Be Kept in Air that is PURE as well as Cold

Food Washed with Pure Air
EVERY 60 SECONDS
in the Modern ICE Refrigerator

CERTAIN stored foods pass off impurities in the form of gases, unpleasant in odor. These impurities are absorbed by other foods—therefore should be removed quickly. Thus food, to remain impurity-free and to prevent decay, must be kept in air that is constantly purified as well as chilled.

The circulating air stream in the modern approved★ ICE Refrigerator "picks up" these gaseous odors and carries them to the melting ice film, where they are absorbed and eliminated through the drainpipe. This air stream circulates throughout the Ice Refrigerator every minute, day and night. Thus ICE actually washes the air that circulates in your refrigerator every 60 seconds.

Too, ICE-freshened air in a modern, approved ICE Refrigerator provides just the right atmospheric balance of "cold" and "dry" air to keep food at its best. Thus "mouldiness" or "drying out", caused by air too moist or too dry, is prevented. Foods preserve their natural, delicious flavors, juices and the all important vitamins.

ICE is the only form of Refrigeration which unaided and unregulated, supplies just the proper degree of moisture to the refrigerator "air stream".

The modern, approved ICE refrigerator maintains the various degrees of cold (under 50°) needed for safe preservation of different foods —43°, for milk and other perishables—slightly higher temperatures for foods less perishable.

Food costs are one of the most important items in your budget. A modern ICE Refrigerator quickly pays its cost in the food spoilage it prevents. Ice Refrigeration is the most economical in first cost and operating cost. Thus it is the most perfect and economical form of refrigeration. Ask your Ice man to show you the new approved ICE Refrigerators —today.

Picketing of Shops Going on in Wider Region

[Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.]

BOMBAY, June 8. (Exclusive)—The civil-disobedience campaign is entering a new phase with a tendency for the Indians to withdraw wholly from the legislative and provincial assemblies, thus assuring virtually no opposition to Viceroy Lord Irwin's program for the session one month from now.

On the other hand the government is moving stronger laws and emergency ordinances against the violators, while the nonpayment of taxes rapidly is overshadowing the salt campaign.

In the Kairz region, near the Ahmedabad district an officer has issued twelve notices confiscating the lands of farmers who refused the payment of revenues. It is anticipated that this program will be adopted generally, making the nonviolence program more difficult when the tenants are ejected.

The Indian Merchants' Association has sent the Viceroy a number of resignations of members of the National Provincial Assemblies. The Viceroy had wired the association of his willingness to meet the delegation, but the resignations were forwarded today instead of carrying out the meeting.

The picketing of foreign shops is extending throughout India. In the larger cities the picketers are being arrested for obstructing traffic. Even film theaters are picketed if they are British-owned.

Smoki Indian Ceremonials Held

Ancient rituals of the Smoki Indian tribe were presented at Prescott, Ariz., yesterday when prominent men of the region staged the annual Snake Dance and other ceremonials of this fast disappearing race.

ARIZONA SNAKE DANCE THRILLS

Smoki Indians Invoke Great God of Rains

Weird Ceremonials Present Picturesque Spectacle

Ancient Rites of Dying Race Live Once Again

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) June 8. (NANA)—Chanting their weird incantations to the gods of earth and air, bronzed-skinned Smoki tribesmen, semiclad today presented in their annual ceremonial dances one of the most spectacular pageants of the colorful Southwest.

Dances and ceremonials of Hopi, Zuni, Pueblo and Navajo Indians, the agricultural tribes of ancient Arizona, were portrayed in picturesque and spectacular manner, concluding with the ritualistic, mystic, and to the onlooker, terrifying snake dance, the Smoki's prayer to the great Rain God.

Young and prominent men of this city represent tribesmen. They are the Smoki banded together in this rich setting of the by-gone ages to make an accurate study of and to perpetuate the ancient rites of a dying race. In the languages of their red-skinned forebears, with proper ceremonial and correct costume, or lack of it, as the case may be, this faithful band each year portrays a group of the southwest Indians' rituals, ending always, as today, with the sacred snake ceremonial.

AWED THRONG

With a background of a Hopi house, fashioned of adobe, about the doors of which were gathered the squaws of the tribe, the spreaders of sacred corn meal and the bands of chanters, the Smokis danced before an awed throng of 5000 persons.

Preceding the first ceremonial, the joyous rainbow dance of the Navajo Indians, a sand painting of the Smoki Sun Shield, symbol of the dances, was made by priests of the tribe, using the brilliantly colored sands of the Painted Desert for pigments.

At certain times in tribal life among the Hopis and when the signs of the medicine man are propitious, may the daughter of the chief choose her husband and such a time is represented in this ceremonial. From the sacred kiva first emerged the medicine man, who, after painting a circle of the corn meal, stood within it and began his incantations. As he chanted, a weird call answered from the house tops, and the medicine man then built a fire before the kisi, formed of cottonwood boughs, intoning his prayer the while.

Shortly after, the chief's daughter, followed by her hand-maidens and preceded by the drummers of the tribe, emerged from the hogan, formed in a semicircle about the kisi, and after the chanters had sung the old Hopi chant of the marriage days, knelt about the medicine man and his altar. Here the old Zuni chief and his young son appeared, approaching from the distance, and the dance started.

MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED

To the quickening beat of the tom-toms, the two chiefs, Hopi and Zuni, met, and the medicine man, carrying his brew from the altar, led the girl to the young Zuni brave, solemnizing in this manner the marriage which led to the last long war betwen the two tribes.

Following the ceremonial of the marriage, the old chiefs left together, followed by the young couple and the bride's maidens, whose blankets were brilliant and wonderfully beautiful. The tempo of the dance again changed, slowing to the more mournful song of the plains Indian, the chanters disappeared, followed by the dancers, leaving only the old medicine man before his kisi. Alone, he ran to his corn-meal circle, once more the weird call sounded from the altar, again answered from the housetops, and the ceremonial was concluded.

And then came the spectacular snake dance, the prayer to the "litle brothers" of the snake kingdom to assure the rains which will bring bountiful crops and happy times to the tribe. The ceremonial, in the Hopi tongue, in addition commemorates an ancient peace between the Hopi tribe and the snake people. The dance is given each year by the tribe on one of the high mesas in the Hopi reservation and annually, as well, by the Smokis

PLEA FOR RAIN

According to the history of the tribes, ages ago the snake people were killing the Hopis, who were unable to resist the poison of snake bite. Finally, the peace was declared, and the Indians dance in celebration of this and to invoke the Serpent Gods for the necessary rainfall. During the dance, the snakes are handled with great reverence by the tribesmen, and at its conclusion, are carried in the direction of the four winds, there to be released.

In the ceremonial dance, Antelope and Snake priests took part, the Antelopes, gorgeous in vivid paint and bright "kilts," first emerged from the kiva, dancing in solemn step to the beat of the drums, followed by the Snake Priests, who, to the ever-quickening beat and throb of the drums, began their writhing and twisting dance, a dance leading them in front of the cottonwood kisi where their "little brothers" awaited them and in front of which the "thunder board," a hollow step, had been set. Drumming feet on the "thunder board" carried word of the prayer dance to the snake people of the nether regions as the movement of the dance grow faster and faster.

SNAKES DISTRIBUTED

Finally the time arrived for the snakes and these were brought to the Snake Priests from the kisi and given, first one and then, two, to each of the whirling dancers. Writhing snakes then played a part in the drama of the ceremonial, as the dance steps took on a serpentine formation and the braves, winding one serpent around their necks and carrying the other, always gently and revently, between their teeth, went into the closing figures of the dance.

Forming around a circle of sacred corn meal, which in the meantime had been made by the squaws of the tribe, at a change in the beat of the drum, they dashed to the center, hurling the squirming snakes to the ground, danced back and then, with one wild shriek from eighty throats, ran to the circle again, each dancer grabbing two snakes with which he ran from the arena, to release the serpents toward the four winds of heaven, so that these "little brothers," in turn, might carry to the gods of rain the prayers of the tribe and to the sacred snake people the assurance of the Indians of their gratitude for peace.

CHURCH CENSUS SHOWINGS TOLD

Membership and Population Proportions Unchanged

Figures Same as for Ten and Twenty Years Ago

Enrollment Ratio for Cities Ahead of Rural Areas

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—Religious census statistics made public by the Institute of Social and Religious Research show that of every 100 persons of more than 13 years of age in the United States, there are now fifty-five church members, the same as there were ten and twenty years ago.

Only 52 per cent of those in the rural districts are church members, compared with 58 per cent of those living in cities. The analysis also shows that 41 per cent of the ministers of seventeen white Protestant bodies are not graduates either of college or seminary.

The report, made by Dr. C. Luther Fry, says that at least sixty-two of every 100 adult church members belong to a Protestant church, while thirty are Catholics and six are Jews. Women predominate in church membership, 48 per cent of the males of the country over 13 years of age and 63 per cent of the females being members.

Republicans Hunt Timber for Party Chieftainship

Chairman's Retirement Seen as Imminent Possibility

Watson, Moses and Skelley Being Mentioned

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Republicans high in party councils apparently believe the retirement of Claudius Huston as chairman of the National Committee is imminent for they are casting about for a successor.

Friends of the Republican leader look for his retirement some time this summer, probably after Congress adjourns, but apparently President Hoover and the party craftains have not agreed so far on a new pilot.

Several names have come up for discussion in conferences looking to selection of a successor and it is known Mr. Hoover is taking an active interest in the discussions.

REFUSES TO RESIGN

Mr. Huston got into difficulties when his testimony before the senate committee showed he had diverted funds as president of the Tennessee River Improvement Association in behalf of Muscle Shoals legislative activity and used these funds in his brokerage account before turning them over to the association.

However, the national chairman after a recent conference of party leaders flatly refused to resign while under the fire of the lobby committee. Just how his retirement will come about is unknown. It is known that President Hoover has not asked for his resignation. Should he gives up his post it is believed it will be voluntarily.

Walter Newton, executive secretary to President Hoover, and Walter F. Brown, the Postmaster-General, are among those most frequently mentioned in the discussion over a successor to Huston.

WATSON AND MOSES

However, there is no indication of their choice. The two veteran party leaders in Congress, Senator Watson of Indiana, and Moses, of New Hampshire, are mentioned.

The appearance at the White House last week of William G. Stahlman, national committeeman for Alabama, has brought his name into the discussion also. Skelly was one of the original Hoover supporters in that State.

At an early meeting of the executive committee of the National Committee it is expected to be called to select a secretary in the place of Representative Port, of New Jersey, who resigned last winter.

CAVALRY IN MALTA RUNS AT RIOTERS

Charge Made Necessary by Demonstration Directed at Catholic Archbishop

MALTA, June 8. (AP)—Mounted police were forced to charge dense street crowds here today to halt a demonstration against the Catholic archbishop of Malta by supporters of Lord Strickland, head of the Malta government.

The disorder occurred after the White Sunday services conducted in the cathedral by the archbishop. Crowds assembled outside the building shouting "Long live Strickland! Down with Italy!"

Police were hurried to the scene in force, but were unable to disperse the throngs until the mounted men charged from several points. The archbishop remained in the cathedral behind closed doors for a time. When he came forth police escorted him to the palace amid cheers from his supporters and counter-demonstrations from the other factions.

Several arrests were made and all shops remained closed during the disturbance.

Lord Strickland's government has been at loggerheads with the Catholic authorities. The friction started when the church proposed to transfer a monk who is a British citizen to a Sicilian monastery against his wishes.

SCIENCE HELPS TO CURB PAIN

Life Span No Longer But Easier, Doctor Says

State Official Says Child Lives Saved

More Middle-Aged Persons Alive Today

SACRAMENTO, June 8. (AP)—In spite of the triumphs of preventive medicine the span of human life has not increased, Dr. Walter M. Dickie, director of the State Department of Public Health, declared. The greatest advances, he said, have been made in the saving of lives of children and young adults. Individuals who are past middle age have not escaped mortality hazards to so great an extent as have younger persons.

Dr. Dickie cited diabetes as an example of an adult disease which, by means of modern scientific discoveries, has been robbed of much of its pain and suffering. The discovery of insulin, used to treat diabetes, has probably had little or no effect on the death rate for the disease, he said, but it is of the greatest value in treatment.

DIABETES DISCOVERED

Deaths in California from diabetes have increased from 545 in 1920 to 1043 in 1929, health department statistics revealed. This does not mean, Dr. Dickie said, that there is twice as much diabetes as there was ten years ago, but that facilities for its discovery in patients have increased. "The facilities for the discovery of diabetes and other diseases commonly found in adults have been extended greatly during recent years. The increased number of annual physical examinations, activities of insurance companies in promoting the health of their policy holders, the more extended use of diagnostic facilities in public clinics and the added interest in all health matters have accomplished considerable in the discovery of cases of diabetes which might otherwise not have been brought under treatment," he declared.

HEALTHIER MIDDLE AGE

More emphasis should be placed on health of individuals past middle age, Dr. Dickie urged. "While the span of life has not increased, the median age of death has been advanced many years, and there are more people of middle age living in the United States today, in proportion to the population, than ever before.

"Since two-thirds of the cases of diabetes develop in persons over 40 years of age, and since there is a large number of persons in this age group, the increased prevalence is natural," he explained. "While there has been no reduction in the mortality from this disease it does not present the gloomy picture that it did ten years ago."

High School Boy Dies on Eve of Commencement

CUCAMONGA, June 8.—In the midst of preparations for commencement exercises, the student body of Chaffey Union High School was plunged in sorrow today at the death of George Oliver Klusman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Klusman, prominent growers of this community.

Klusman, a student of the school, died unexpectedly of a throat ailment at San Antonio Community Hospital. He had been ill but three days. A request was made by the youth that should he die, he wished to be buried at the side of his grandfather, Oliver Klusman, in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Glendale, and burial will be there Tuesday following services at Upland Presbyterian Church at 10:30 a.m.

Dr. R. C. Stone of Upland will assist Rev. J. M. Chamberlin of Cucamonga in the services. Pallbearers will be chosen from the Boy Scout troop of which the youth was a member.

In calling the committee together, Chairman Borah believes a report of the treaty will be made to the Senate this week.

RULING ON DUTY AFFECTS MANY

Numerous Alien Fishermen Here to Pay on Catches

Most of Those Concerned Reported as Japanese

Discussion Called on Effect of Tariff Legislation

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Between 300 and 400 fishing boats in Southern California waters will be affected by the new Treasury Department ruling enforcing the duty on fish caught on the high seas by alien-owned boats, according to an offhand estimate by W. H. Mahar, deputy Collector of Customs at San Pedro.

Most owners affected are said to be Japanese, other foreign-born having become naturalized, but all are said to recognize the government's justification and will conform openly and willingly.

Points in the ruling remain to be cleared up, for instance, whether the high seas for fishing purposes should begin outside a line between the outlying Catalina and Santa Barbara groups of islands. Methods of compliance also are in nebulous form. One idea is for foreigners to form an American corporation and document to it the alien-owned boat, belief being that the law requiring two-thirds of the incorporators to be American was repealed last August. Other alien-owned boats, it is deemed probable, actually will transfer ownership to American individuals.

Estimates have been made that should the ruling apply rigidly to waters outside the mainland's three-mile limit, almost a score of additional customs inspectors will be needed, if the fishing fleet is to be given convenient service. This additional force will be necessary despite the fact that sardines and tuna are exempt from duty, for alien-owned craft will have to enter and clear regardless, entailing inconveniences to both sides. On other varieties of high seas fish, alien-owned boats would pay 1 cent a pound duty, a provision long on the books, but never enforced at this and certain other ports.

CHAMBER COMMITTEE WILL SPONSOR MEETING

The proposed tariff's effect on carriers and importers will come before the harbor and foreign commerce committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce tomorrow. Custom house brokers and customs officials, importers and steamship representatives and others interested in foreign trade will be special guests at this meeting.

Louis H. Schwaebe, collector of customs, has been asked to participate in an advisory capacity. More than 150 copies of the proposed tariff recently were mailed to those expected to attend, with Mr. Schwaebe's suggestion that they be studied sufficiently for discussion at tomorrow's meeting.

The Dollar globe-girdling liner President Wilson disembarked thirty travelers from New York and Panama yesterday, and will sail westward at noon today after embarking as many more. In the twenty-four-hour period in port she will discharge 1800 tons of cargo picked up around the world and will load 1500 tons for the Near West, as the Orient now is called.

American Hawaiian steamship Company will transpose its O. & O. steamers operating in the North China service with those plying to South China, it was announced by F. A. Hooper, district manager. The change will be effective with the sailing of the Golden Peak from Los Angeles July 16, next. She is to go to North China, while the Golden Wall's departure the following day will be switched to South China. The only ship of the fleet not to transfer will be the Golden Mountain, remaining on the South China service.

Her skipper bewildered by the early morning fog, the Wrigley tug Vivo ran aground at daylight yesterday near the Pilot Station. She was refloated later by the Wrigley tug John M. Stewart, a survey showing but little hull damage.

The Donaldson-Pacific steamer Gracia, in Saturday with general freight from the United Kingdom and bananas from San Jose de Guatemala, was delayed seven hours by the fog in getting out for the north yesterday, not sailing until 11 a.m.

The engine room of the new Danish East Asiatic liner Amerika, in from Copenhagen on her maiden voyage, yesterday was filled with local marine engineers inspecting her new-type Burmeister & Wain Diesel engine. It is the first of its type in service, being a double-acting, two-cycle motor with six cylinders developing 7000 horsepower at a weight of only 115 pounds a horsepower.

Capt. Carl Knudsen, the Amerika's master, announced on arrival yesterday that, although the motor was designed to give the ship a top speed of sixteen knots, it drove the 16,000-ton vessel 406 miles through head seas on the 4th inst. On her trials the Amerika logged 17.5 knots.

In the two years since the Jones-White law became effective, the Shipping Board has lent ship operators $93,000,000 toward constructing thirty-four vessels costing $125,000,000. Twenty-two will be of passenger-cargo type, twelve will be tankers. It is estimated 80 per cent will be spent in wages, either on materials or constructing the vessels. A greater program is in prospect.

JOHN BUNN CHOSEN TO COACH STANFORD BASKETBALL TEAM

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, June 8. (AP)—John W. Bunn, former basketball coach at the University of Kansas, today was selected Stanford University basketball coach. The appointment was made by the board of athletic control subject to approval of the board of trustees. No opposition by the trustees was anticipated by the athletic board.

Bunn is understood to be on his way here from Kansas. While at the helm of the Kansas team, he rolled up a large number of victories in the Missouri Valley Conference. In college Bunn was a football, basketball and track letter man.

SCHMELING LACKS SKILL

Leonard Bewails Lack of Boxing Ability as Shown by German Challenger for Heavyweight Title

BY BENNY LEONARD,
Retired Undefeated Lightweight Champion of the World

SCHMELING'S TRAINING CAMP, ENDICOTT (N. Y.) June 8. (NANA.)—I have had my last look at Max Schmeling in training. He has been particularly fortunate in coming through his training session (I couldn't very well call it a "siege") without suffering even so much as a bloody nose, in spite of the fact that he has used more different sparring partners than any other man who ever trained to fight for the heavyweight championship of the world.

And yet, am not satisfied with his boxing. He doesn't know as much about blocking or evading punches, nor as much about delivering them, as I think a heavyweight champion ought to know.

JACK SHARKEY

Max Schmeling hits a neat right-hand punch. That is about as far as his offense goes. He has done a fine job in developing his left hand and he shows to better advantage in the in-fighting than he did in his last fight in this country. He is aggressive: as always, but even now he hasn't that sustained attack I would like to see in a challenger for the title.

USES RIGHT

Max still leads with his right, although he does not do this so much as he did when I first observed his training here. Strangely enough, he seemed to be more effective with this blow than with his others. His left hook, in the final stages, was a pretty formidable wallop. He certainly showed improvement with this blow, considering that he is supposed to have known so little about using it when he began this training grind.

Personally, I think Max made a mistake in taking those two days off so soon before the end of his training. It would have been better to box a few two-minute rounds even if he did fear he was too fine.

But whatever I may think, Schmeling and his people are sublimely confident of victory. Joe Jacobs, it happened, saw Jack Sharkey in New York City. This was over a week ago.

Joe was coming from Madison Square Garden, when he heard his name called. The caller was Tony Palosollo, one of Sharkey's trainers. Joe looked around and saw Tony, Al Lacey, Jack's chief trainer, Sharkey, and Johnny Buckley, in front of the Forrest Hotel.

Jacobs went over to "punch the bag" with them for a minute or two.

SCHMELING POINTS TO VICTORIES

Knockout Win Over Risko Is Big Point of Career; Baker Beat Sharkey

BY MAX SCHMELING
(As Told to Jimmy Powers)

(Copyright, 1930, by the News Syndicate.)

ENDICOTT (N. Y.) June 9.—I am supposed to feel inferior to my opponent, I can, because he has met many big fighters, like Jack Dempsey, George Godfrey, Young Stribling, Phil Scott, Tommy Loughran, Mike McTigue and others whom I have not fought. I have met only Joe Monte, Joe Seykraw, Paulino Uscudun and Johnny Risko.

MAX SCHMELING

But I have a mental advantage in that last man, the Bohemian baker, from Cleveland. I fought Risko and Sharkey fought Risko. I knocked out Risko and Risko beat Sharkey. I cannot help but wonder if that is not firmly embedded in Sharkey's brain and when he enters the ring against me he can say to himself: Now comes the man who licked the man who licked me.

That is something, my friends, and so I let them talk all they like about the big men Sharkey has fought. When it came down to a comparison of the one headliner, we both met, I won. So it might follow that everything Sharkey had done in the ring I might well have done also—and a little bit more.

I never bet on myself in a fight. I have always had confidence in myself but I never bet. I read where I have sent down $100,000 to New York to bet on myself. Even though the odds were 5 to 1 against me and I saw a chance to win $500,000 for myself I would not bet. On horses it is all right to bet. On man, I think different.

My eyes are in good shape now

MIDWEST HAILS FRANK WYKOFF

Maj. Griffith Says Record Should be Accepted

Race Conditions Fulfilled All Requirements

S.C. Star Says He Achieved Greatest Victory

CHICAGO, June 8. (AP)—Flying Frank Wykoff of the University of Southern California has won the race he wanted most to win—in world-record time, and there appears no reason why he should not universally be recognized as the first man to run 100 yards in 9 2-5s.

FRANK WYKOFF

When Wykoff defeated George Simpson of Ohio State in the century event of the National Collegiate Athletic Association championships on Stagg Field Saturday, he realized his biggest desire.

"Ever since I became eligible for college competition I have wanted to win the 'hundred' in the national meet—and anyone would be proud to be able to beat Simpson," he said after the race.

Maj. John L. Griffith, Big Ten athletic commissioner and member of the meet committee, said there was nothing to prevent recognition of Wykoff's great performance as the world standard.

"The conditions of the race fulfilled every requirement," Maj. Griffith said. "The track was carefully measured and the wind gauge showed the breeze to be well under three miles per hour. Wykoff did not use starting blocks, so I can't see how the International Federation could fail to recognize his mark when it meets again."

Maj. Griffith insisted, however, that the International Federation will recognize records made with starting blocks some time, and predicted that the name of Stephen Anderson of the University of Washington will accompany that of Earl Thompson of Dartmouth, as holder of the 120-yard high hurdles record at 14.4s. Anderson tied Thompson's ten-year-old mark in nipping Lee Sentman of Illinois, in the N.C.A.A. meet Saturday, but used the controversial blocks. In other respects, his performance was perfect in that he knocked down no hurdles and the wind velocity was about the same as in the Trojan sprinter's century triumph.

Wykoff was not certain he would compete in the National A.A.U., championships at Pittsburgh, in August. Simpson, however, disappointed by his defeat in the century—a defeat which his triumph in the 220-yard dash did little to offset in his mind—said he would remain in training and would race in Canada against Percy Williams, Canada's Olympic champion sprinter, and Eddie Tolan of Michigan, holder of the world record for the 100-yard dash, as well as running in the National A.A.U. meet.

VICTOR AND VANQUISHED

Fay Coleman of the California Country Club (left) yesterday won the Southern California amateur golf championship at the Midwick Country Club when he defeated Russell Thompson of Oakmont, 3 and 2, in the thirty-six-hole finals. Coleman played championship golf throughout the tournament to win the title he held in 1928. Thompson's brilliant showing marks him as one of the most promising young golfers in the Southland.

Oakmont Star Puts Up Stiff Battle at Midwick

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Fay Coleman of the California Country Club yesterday won the amateur golf championship of Southern California for the second time in the past three years.

That the best golfer in Southern California won goes without saying, as the smooth-swinging young champion, who won the title two years ago at Lakeside, battered down the stubborn resistance of Russell (Buddie) Thompson of Oakmont in a brilliant, bitterly contested thirty-six-hole match at the Midwick Country Club to win on the thirty-fourth green, 3 and 2.

GIBSON DUNLAP

It might also be said that 22-year-old Bud is the second best golfer in Southern California—second not in gameness, ability, or shot making, but lacking just that shade of poise and confidence that comes with added experience and marks the difference between a really fine golfer and a champion. There can be no doubt, however, that Buddie is on the threshold of a great golfing career, and not many more years should pass before he finds his name engraved on the famous old Nordlinger trophy, which contains the illustrious array of Southern California's champions since 1900.

COLEMAN GREAT

Coleman was the finished golfer yesterday. Smooth power was transmitted in endless flow to send the ball soaring straight as a die from tee to green. Fay's effortless drives and irons were reminders of Bobby Jones that day at Los Angeles last fall, when the national open and British amateur champion was knocking the pins out of the cups. Bobby would have to have been at his best yesterday against Coleman, who went twenty-

CITY LEAGUE BASEBALL TEAMS CLASH TODAY

The climax to the City League baseball season will be reached this afternoon when the Lincoln High Tigers and Coach Ching Duhm's Jefferson High baseballers clash at Wrigley Field in the fifth round of play. The game, which was postponed from last Friday in order to secure the Coast League park to accommodate the large number of prep fans expected to turn out for the festivities, finds the Tigers slight favorites to come through with a victory.

That the Democrats will cause the North Broadway boys a great deal of trouble is evident by the large number of heavy sluggers the Democrat nine has. At the present writing the Democrat team is hitting the ball at a .400 clip. The only thing that will probably act as a drawback for the Democrats is the fact that they lack a good hurler. P. Mitre, who has been doing most of the hurling for the Democrats in their last four starts, is expected to blow up under the heavy fire of the Lincoln hitters.

BERLIN, June 8. (AP)—Big Bill Tilden advanced to the final round of singles in the international tennis tournament here today, defeating Roderich Menzel of Czecho-Slovakia, 6-3, 6-4, 6-0.

Tilden and his Danish partner, Eric Worm, won the doubles championship, defeating the German pair, Daniel Preni and Dr. H. Kleinschroth, 7-5, 6-3, 6-3.

In the mixed doubles Tilden and Cecilie Aussem of Germany defeated Frau Neppach and Kleinschroth, 6-0, 6-5.

CALIFORNIA OARSMEN ARRIVE IN PRINCETON FOR REGATTA

PRINCETON (N. J.) June 8. (Exclusive)—California's squad of twenty-seven varsity and freshman oarsmen and coaches arrived in Princeton this noon for a week's practice on Lake Carnegie in preparation for the triangular regatta with Princeton and Navy next Saturday. The westerners took up quarters in the class of 1887 boathouse at the lake where they will be joined Thursday by the Navy crews.

Coach Ky Ebright said his men made the four-day trip in good shape. He said he will hold both mornin; and afternoon practice drills during the week. He has mapped out no training program for the week and will take the men along slowly for the first few days.

ALLAN HERRINGTON UPSET

Mertes Surprises Pasadena Tennis Star in State Championships; Gledhill Injures Ankle

BERKELEY, June 8. (AP)—Everett Mertes, young San Franciscan, provided the biggest upset of the second day round of the California State tennis championships today by defeating Allan Herrington of Pasadena, former Stanford star and intercollegiate champion, 12-10, 6-3 in the men's singles.

Herrington, seeded eighth in the event, was the first in that class to go down to defeat.

Keith Gledhill, Stanford star, whose home is Santa Barbara, met with an ankle injury after eliminating two competitors during the morning round. Gledhill slipped and fell in the clubhouse and it was considered likely his injury would cause his withdrawal from the tournament. The blond Santa Barbaran defeated Francis Mannis, 6-3, 6-4, and Alfred Connolly, 6-1, 6-1, earlier in the day.

KEITH GLEDHILL

Ed Chandler, former University of California tennis captain; Robert Sellers and Neil Brown won their matches easily to enter the third round. Gerald Stratford also advanced out of the second round after being forced to extra games to defeat Dr. A. G. Rawlins, 7-5, 8-6.

Sam Lee defeated Jack Cosgrove, the favorite, 9-7, 6-4, to advance to the semifinals of the junior singles championship.

Star Series Won by Maia

Ed Fink sailed the Maia to victory by two minutes over Harry Fisher's new Dona Bertha II in the third of a series of star sloop races off Long Beach yesterday. The Maia won all three races of the series with Fisher's sloop second.

Pat Patricia's Morning Star, also equipped with the new rig, was third. The Active finished fourth with the Dona Bertha fifth.

BOONE MAINTAINS HIS BATTING LEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8. (AP)—Although Ike Boone, Mission outfielder, dropped 7 points in the last week, he is still leading slugger among Coast League batsmen with an average of .455 per cent. Boone is also tied with "Red" Wingo of the Seals for home-run honors. Each has fifteen circuit clouts to his credit.

FREEBOOTERS COLLECT HIGH-SCORING CONTEST

With Hal Roach playing the leading role, the Freebooters defeated the Uplifters, 10 to 6, in the weekly polo game at the Rustic Canyon club field yesterday. Roach scored six of his team's goals.

The Freebooters, organized by Will Rogers, had Lyell Puckett, Charles Stanley, Roach and Earl Beall in the lineup. Rogers was to have played No. 2 position but was called out of town Saturday and Stanley substituted for him, scoring one goal. Puckett got the other three.

The fine offensive work of Puckett and Roach and the defensive ability of Beall, at back, enabled the Freebooters to win. The Uplifters took a 2-0 lead in the first two chukkers, but their rivals tallied three times in the third period and thereafter were never headed.

Lionel Pedley, at No. 3 for the losers, turned in a fine performance, scoring four goals, while the veteran Australian sportsman, Snowy Baker, tallied twice. Summary:

BROOKLYN, June 8. (AP)—Adolfo Luque pitched a four-hit shutout over the Chicago Cubs today as the Robins increased their hold on first place to three full games by their second straight victory over the champions. The score was 6 to 0.

Teachout struck out six of the Robins and was fairly effective with men on bases, but Finn's double in the second inning was the significant hit of a three-run rally and the Robins never relinquished their advantage. Bisonette was the leading hitter of the day with three clean drives.

Luque was effective throughout and seldom in trouble, although he was aided by three double-plays in all of which Finn served as the pivot man. No Cub advanced as far as third base.

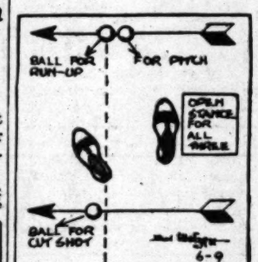
Mitchell Uses Open Stance for Golf Cut



BY SOL METZGER

Most details of golf fortunately can be cared for before the shot is played. Thus the golfer can concentrate on the swing itself, all else having been dismissed from his mind. The stance for the cut shot is such a detail.

For the pitch and run-up Abe Mitchell stands as shown. The run-up, played like the putt but with a lofted club, finds the ball directly opposite the left shoulder, or left heel when the stance is narrow. For the pitch you play the ball a bit back of this spot. Hence you are enabled to hit down into it and impart stop.

The stance for the cut is another matter. It's open, as for other short shots, but Mitchell tells us you should be a bit back of the ball. Thus you can cut across it better, get the club's face under it and impart both the needed loft and backspin or cut.

A new illustrated leaflet on "Correct Grip for Driving" has been prepared by Sol Metzger. Write for it. Address Sol Metzger, in care of The Times, and inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Baffling Barriers

THERE are two unknown quantities connected with the Sharkey-Schmeling fight on Thursday that must turn any advance pick or opinion into a raw guess.

One is that no one has any idea whether Sharkey will fight his fight or blow up. The other is that no one yet knows whether or not Schmeling can take a sound and solid smacking and still carry on with any great blitheness. These are baffling barriers to remain unknown quantities up to the fight, no matter how loudly the two camps may debate the issue.

Sharkey, for example, may start in as he started against Dempsey and keep going. He may decide to box

Entries Close Tonight for Annual "Times" Marathon to Be Staged Next Saturday

RECORD LIST IS EXPECTED

Many Now on Way West for Long-Distance Race

Runners Out to Win Back Lost Reputation

Many Medals to be Awarded to All Finishers

The entry list for the second annual "Times" Pre-Olympic marathon Saturday closes finally at 12 o'clock, midnight, tonight. After that time no entries for the long-distance event will be accepted, Charley Keppen, director of the event, said yesterday.

A last-minute group is expected to sign up today and Keppen expects the list will exceed the eighty-seven long-winded men in their entry blanks. Only seventy have been accepted to date.

The fact that Harry Chaca, a Long Beach runner, representing the Los Angeles Athletic Club, beat Clarence Demar in last year's race, has interested a number of runners to try conclusions with the veteran Melrose star this year, but Chaca did it handily. Demar is now on his way back, hoping to make a better showing. He asserts he is in better condition for the present race than he was before. Last year he finished ninth in the long marathon before he went out to place second to Chaca. This year he won the Western classic and then had final honors in another, but they went, to keep himself in trim.

Many American Legion runners arrive here Wednesday and will start the course Thursday morning. His plans to fly back immediately after the race in order to be present for the examinations at the school where he teaches printing.

Besides the twenty-one tropies, in addition to a year's holding of the beautiful "Times" permanent trophy, will be awarded. The first ten men to finish will receive gold medals and every other man to cross the finish line will receive a bronze medal. Last year there were ten of these, twenty of the ntirty-nine runners who started finishing the race. The winner will have his name and time engraved on The Times cup under that of Harry Chaca. A special trophy will be awraded to the first American Legion man, other than DeMar, to finish.

The executive committee expects to be able to announce the complete entry list tomorrow and it will be published Wednesday morning.

SEALS DIVIDE DOUBLE BILL

Missions Get Even Break With Rivals

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8. (AP)—San Francisco split a double-header with the Missions here today in two games punctuated with a total of nine home runs. The Seals took the morning game, 6-5, after both Pillettes had worked out for the Missions and dropped the nightcap on the short end of a 10-3 score.

Both teams kept their hits scattered in the morning game, which was featured by two circuit clouts by Sheely of the Seals and one each by Boone and Hofmann of the Missions and Wingo, Seal right fielder.

In the afternoon the Missions took the lead from the jump, scored twice more in the fifth and rallied in the seventh for five more. The round trips grew monotonous again, the Missions taking three when Hufft, Boone and Rosenberg clumped around the path and Donovan batted the lone Seal circuit.

The Seals' morning victory gave them the series, four games to three.

BERT COLIMA FAVORITE IN SHERIDAN RING BOUT

Bert Colima is choice over Homer Sheridan on the eve of their rematch at the Olympic tomorrow night. The odds are 10-8 on the Mexican. He has been working like a machine in the gymnasium the last week.

The old Whittier idol has taken a new inspiration since he believes he is destined to get another change to fight Mickey Walker. Jack Kearns plans to have another conference with Jack Doyle this afternoon. The champion's manager leaves for the East tonight.

Shade is said to be going east indicating that Los Angeles hasn't much of a chance to outbid the East for a Walker-Shade bout. This one has never been hot here.

But if Colima—the old veteran of the wars—could whip Hudkins he would draw over $100,000 in a title bout. Colima has been close to getting a championship match before, but always slipped back at the wrong time.

The Mexican is no cinch over Sheridan. He was able to get no better than a draw three or four weeks ago at Hollywood with him. But it was in this fight Colima struck his old stride after a couple of years' floundering.

At various times Colima has been accused of not being game. He was on the floor twice in the first round with Sheridan and had great odds to overcome to get an even break.

MARSHALL BOASTS TWO NEW GRIPS FOR LEWIS

As a possible match with "Billy Goat" Gus Sonnenberg here next month hinges on the outcome of his finish mat battle with Ed (Strangler) Lewis at the Olympic Wednesday night, Everett Marshall intends to go into the ring with more than the airplane spin seeking a victory, he stated yesterday.

Marshall ran into too much difficulty trying to put the airplane spin on Lewis in their first meeting for the youngster to risk a possible defeat at this time by trying to beat one of the greatest heavyweights the game has ever known with just one hold.

The young Coloradoan has already developed two new winning grips for this match, and before he completes training tomorrow afternoon, he hopes to have another.

Marshall has developed a backward body slam, similar to the one used so successfully against the best wrestlers in the game by Joe Malcewicz, and a defense and counter-offense against the headlock. What he is working on now is a series of punishing arm holds to use on Lewis's head-crushing left arm.

Marshall's defense against the headlock is a crotch hold applied just as he is hooked with the head grip. This defense against the headlock was used with success against Lewis here two years ago. Lewis's only way of evading the crotch and back slam that accompanies it, is to get his opponent down on the mat before applying his favorite grip.

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Step by step the Arab beat back his adversary until the latter's horse all but trod upon the ape-man. Then a vicious blow toppled the black warrior backward almost upon Tarzan. As the fellow tumbled from his saddle, the possibility of escape which was represented by the riderless horse electrified the ape-man to instant action. Before the frightened beast could gather himself for flight a naked giant was astride his back.

A strong hand had grasped the bridle rein, and the surprised Arab discovered a new foe in the saddle of him whom he had slain. But this enemy wielded no sword and his spear and bow remained upon his back. The Arab, recovered from his first surprise, dashed in to annihilate this presumptuous stranger. He aimed a mighty blow at the ape-man's head, a blow which swung harmlessly through thin air as Tarzan ducked from its path.

And then the Arab felt the other's horse brushing his leg, a great arm shot out and encircled his waist, and before he could recover himself the Arab was dragged from his saddle. Tarzan used him as a shield on a mad run straight through the encircling ranks of his enemies. Just beyond them he tossed this human shield aside upon the ground. The last the Arab saw of his strange foeman was as Tarzan galloped off across the plain in the direction of the forest beyond.

For another hour the battle raged, nor did it cease until the last of the Abyssinians lay dead upon the ground or had galloped off toward the north in flight. But a handful of men escaped, among them Abdul Mourak. The victorious raiders collected about the pile of gold ingots which the Abyssinians had uncovered and there awaited the return of their leader. But their exultation was mixed with a new fear—the strange apparition of the white man galloping away!

OIL SITUATION AT VENICE TOLD

Three Wells Completed and Four in Sand

Star Company's Project of Chief Interest

Union's Del Rey Expected to Drill Deeper

The new oil field at Venice now has three completions, and four other wells are in the oil sand, one standing cemented. There was lively interest in that area during the past week as a result of the Star Petroleum Company's No. 1 completion for 1600 barrels at approximately 6300 feet, and the Union Oil Company's production test of the shallow zone in its Del Rey No. 1.

Some operators expected that Union would get at least a fair pumper at 3600 feet, but most of the week was spent in drilling deeper and swabbing, with the net result that yesterday it seemed a fairly safe conjecture that the crew would pull out the tubing and begin drilling on down to the deep zone.

While the Ohio Oil Company has two completions shut in and the Star outfit has one well on production, Duell Petroleum, Jergins Trust, Ohio, and Featherstone & Horwitz each have a well in the deep sand. Ohio is building a gasoline plant and Duell is putting up storage in anticipation of its first producer.

Featherstone & Horwitz are rigging up their No. 2 well at Thirty-sixth and Pacific Court, and are driving piling to build a bulkhead on the back at Thirty-eighth street. This well will be down where the waves can wash over the derrick platform, and the company is spending about $2000 to put in a bulkhead to resist unexpected swells or high seas.

The Superior Oil Company's No. 1 well at Fifty-first and Canal streets, is down about 3200 feet, according to field reports. The Pacific Western Oil Company is building a road on the little strip of land just east of the lagoon, where it has room for about three locations, but is taking no steps just now to start development work.

The Barnsdall-Cypress combination's Burks No. 1 well, at the east end of Thirty-seventh avenue, and one east of the Duell project, is down approximately 5400 feet, and expects to begin coring within the next 200 feet. The Ohio Oil Company has just cemented off its Dickinson No. 1 at 6250 feet, where it probably will make a production test within a week.

Two New Kern Area Projects Get Under Way

BAKERSFIELD, June 8. (Exclusive)—Two new wells having just been started in Kern county. The Hardison Oil Corporation began drilling its No. 1 well in the Buttonwillow gas area, on Sec. 7, 29-24, and the Standard Oil Company spudded in its No. 44 well on Sec. 6, 32-24, of the Midway field.

Standard reports successful water shut-off tests in its No. 24 on Sec. 5, 11-23, in the Sunset field, and No. 49 on Sec. 36, 30-24, in the Elk Hills. Other water shut-off tests included the Bishop Corporation's No. 1 on Sec. 28, 28-27, in the Kern River field and Pacific Western Oil Company's No. 5 on Sec. 15, 27-23, at Poso Creek.

The Superior Oil Company has begun deepening its No. 1 well on the Scheel lease, Sec. 23, 29-27, in the Fruitvale area.

North American Oil Consolidated has announced the abandonment of two more Midway wells. They are No. 7 and No. 12 on Sec. 30, 33-24, and Sec. 30, 31-23, respectively.

High-Grade Ore in Jacquelyne Mine at Mayer

MAYER (Ariz.) June 8. (Exclusive)—Remarkable ore, sampling $80 in gold across eighteen inches, is coming from B. C. Scott's Jacquelyne mine in the Bumblebee section. Selected ore runs $200, with free gold visible, coming from twenty feet depth.

Clint T. Boyd of Los Angeles, engineer of the Southwestern Metal Company, states that a new hoist is to be installed on the company's Peach Lily property in Cleator district. The workings are to be unwatered and sampled. In the same section development of a quantity of gold-silver ore in the Iron Dyke property has led to plans for steam-shovel mining. The Silver Pheasant mill is being repaired, for probable operation.

A concentrator is being operated by E. S. Coffey on the leased Savoy and Baker claims on Big Bug Creek, near this point.

Two New Kern Area Projects Get Under Way

BAKERSFIELD, June 8. (Exclu-sive)—Two new wells having just been started in Kern county. The Shell Oil Corporation began drill-ing its No. 1 well in the Button-willow gas area, on Sec. 7, 29-24, and the Standard Oil Company started in its No. 44 well on Sec. 25-28, of the Midway field.

Both reports successful water shut-off tests in its No. 24 on Sec. 27-32, in the Sunset field, and on Sec. 36, 30-24, in the Elk Hills. NEW OIL SEARCH JUSTIFIED

Reasons for Incessant Quest in Face of Present Production Situation Pointed Out

The fact that less tha. 2 per cent of the active oil wells in the United States produce more than half of the nation's output of petroleum, is pointed to by the oil industry as the reason why wildcat wells are being drilled when there is need for curtailment because of overproduction.

Quoting E. B. Reeser, head of the American Petroleum Institute, to the effect that the necessity for curtailment of production probably will not extend beyond the next nine months, the California Oil and Gas Association, through its department of public information, has brought out the fact that, regardless of the low price of oil and the high cost of drilling in California, the industry in this State finds it necessary to search incessantly for new sources of supply.

TIME REQUIRED

"As distinguished from a well destined for production, which may be drilled in from two to six months, it requires from six months to a year or even more to drill the aver-age discovery well," says Herbert R. Macmillan, president of the associa-tion, "and if exploratory work stood still during curtailment, there might come a period of under-production before new fields could be found and developed. The coun-try is highly motorized, and the in-dustry is charged with the respon-sibility of finding enough oil to supply its needs at all times.

"The most satisfactory state of affairs would be one in which there would be neither a feast nor a famine. Just now we have an over-supply of oil, which has thrown our economic structure out of balance. We must see to it that we do not drift into an era of underproduc-tion after the present crisis is over."

IMPORTANT FINDS

Edwin Higgins, managing director of the association, calls attention to the fact that Kettleman Hills and Elwood are the only highly impor-tant oil fields that have been found in California for several years, un-less Venice proves to be an unex-pected surprise. Round Mountain, Poso Creek and Fruitvale are yield-ing considerable oil, but the product of those fields is of somewhat heavier grade than is desirable for motor fuel.

"There is need for constant search," says Mr. Higgins, "and California's industry carries on this exploratory work, year after year, at the highest cost per well of any oil district in the United States. No matter what the price of oil may be, it costs the operating companies a small fortune to put down every test hole, and experience has proved that, throughout the country, only one well out of every hundred dis-covers a new field."

COSTS HEAVY

It is pointed out by Mr. Higgins that it costs more to drill an oil well in the Kettleman Hills field than anywhere else in the nation. Estimated on the basis of 7200 feet in depth, these holes cost approxi-mately $200,000, or an average of about $27.50 per foot. In the heavy oil fields of Kern River, the cost of a 2400-foot well averages about $29,000, or $12.10 per foot. In the light oil zones at Santa Fe Springs, the cost is approximately $120,000 for a hole 5800 feet deep, while some of those which have gone to 7800 feet or deeper have ranged in cost from $150,000 to perhaps $200,000.

Within the last few weeks some of the major operating organizations have drilled prospect holes to depths of from 8300 to 9600 feet, without apparently having discov-ered any new sources of petroleum in commercial quantity.

Walker Dome's Project Gets Oil Showings

Local stockholders in the Walker Dome Oil Company, which is drill-ing a well thirty-one miles north of Grant, N. M., received word yester-day that the drill went into oil sand at 920 feet and that the well may be completed within a few days. It is situated on a government permit in McKinley county.

The Dysart Oil Company, with many stockholders in Los Angeles, is down approximately 1235 feet in its well on the Ambrosia structure, sev-eral miles from the Walker test.

Edison Wildcat Pulls Casing

EDISON, June 8. (Exclusive)—The Osborn-Sayre wildcat project in the Edison field, Sec. 5, 30-29, has pulled the casing to aid in the cleaning which was planned after the well was completed for about fifteen barrels a day. Less than one-quarter of an inch of hole is said to have been at bottom to per-mit production.

Bottom is at 4222 feet, with a plug at 4156 feet. First production was obtained at about 3950 feet.

SEMITROPIC PROJECT IN SHOWINGS

Shell's Williams No. 1 First Ever Sunk in Area to Hit Promising Sand

BUTTONWILLOW, June 8. (Ex-clusive)—Gas showings have been encountered in the Shell Oil Com-pany's test of the Semitropic dis-trict in Kern county. The Williams No. 1 on Sec. 17, 27-23, with a depth of 2030 feet, found showings while going through gray sand. A test will be made at this depth. The casing recently was cemented at 2010 feet.

This is the first well ever to be drilled in that particular district. The region is one long believed to possess oil possibilities, and should a project be completed there as a commercial producer it would prove up considerable acreage.

The Milham Exploration Com-pany, operating its Kern No. 6 well on Sec. 8, 28-23 in the Buttonwillow field, has been having great diffi-culty setting two joints of nine-inch pipe at bottom. Total depth of the well is 4946 feet, the depth at which it has remained for months while Milham has been redrilling the hole. When the joints of nine-inch pipe were being lowered to bottom, and filled with cement, the work became hung up at 3900 feet.

At Buttonwillow General Petrole-um recently completed a 10,000,000 cubic-foot daily gas producer which it shut in because the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, which con-tracted for the gas, decided to han-dle the Kettleman Hills gas.

On Sec. 7, 29-24, the Nordon Oil Corporation continues to work in its recent location, Salisbury No. 1, which is 1275 feet south and 150 feet east from the northwest corner of the section. Materials all have been assembled.

Oil Interest in Lea Expected to Shift Southward

ARTESIA (N. M.) June 8. (Ex-clusive)—Oil interest in Lea coun-ty is expected to move southward as the Texas and New Mexico Rail-way nears completion of its line into Lovington, the county seat. The new railroad will be in Lovington, the terminus, by the 30th inst. New towns are springing up along the route. One of the latest is Humble City, twelve miles southeast of the county seat.

Completion of the rail line to Lov-ington will be formally celebrated about July 4, according to an an-nouncement made by J. L. Lancas-ter, president of the Texas and Pa-cific, of which the new line is a subsidiary.

Operations at Tom Reed Mine Pushing Ahead

OATMAN (Ariz.) June 8. (Exclu-sive)—Connection made last week between the Tom Reed and United American workings has brought much bettered working conditions on the upper levels.

Development has been resumed on the former's 900-foot level, while the 1100 cross-cut heading now is advanced about 325 feet from the shaft, expected to reach its vein objective late this month.

Production is continuing from the upper level, with bullion shipments continuing from the mill. Ore from the American is to be added soon.

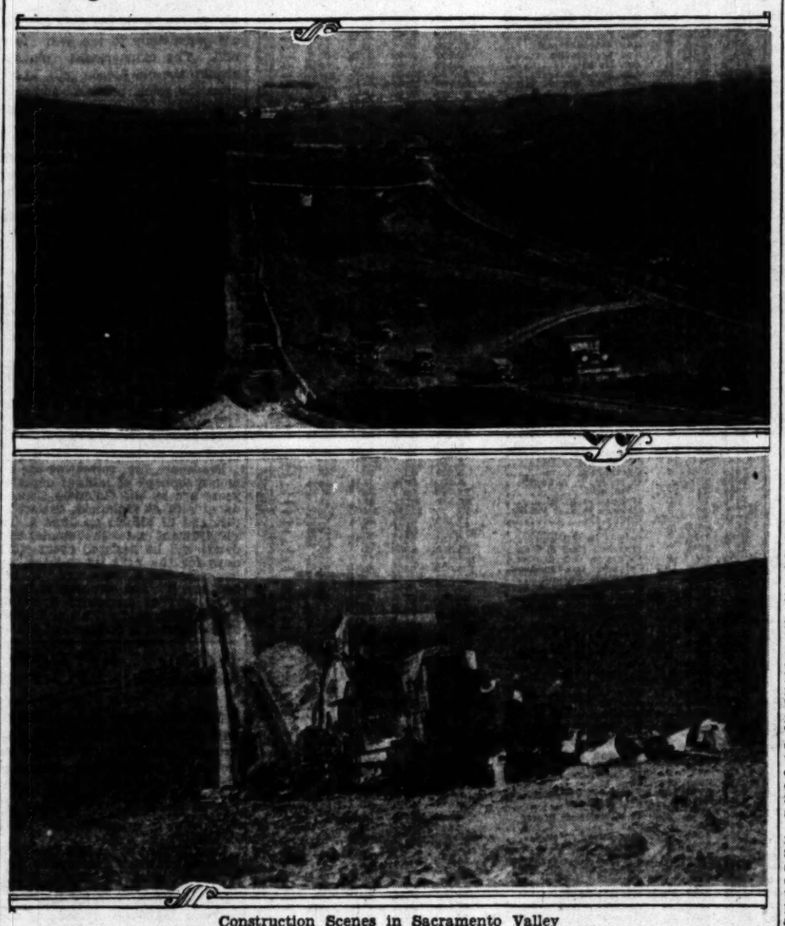
Old Keystone Project Hits Gas Showings

BELRIDGE, June 8. (Exclusive) Continual showings of gas, encoun-tered at the same depth as the old Keystone Petroleum Company found it in a test hole, are being found by the Rio Grande Oil Company in its Garcia No. 1 project on Sec. 18, 28-22, in the Belridge field.

With a total depth of 3681 feet, where Keystone ceased work and turned the hole over to Rio Grande, the well was redrilled several hun-dred feet up the hole. It was cleaned out to 2580 feet and redrilled to 3090 feet, where it showed heaving gas formation and gas sands.

NEW GAS PIPELINE TO SERVE BAY

Taking Fuel From Kettleman Hills Field Today



Construction Scenes in Sacramento Valley

Standard Oil Company completes world's biggest natural gas pipe line to Richmond. Line jointly owned with Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Will serve vast territory with industrial and domestic fuel.

As a result of the inaugura-tion of service today through the world's largest gas pipe line, the San Francisco Bay Dis-trict and many cities in the Sacra-mento and San Joaquin valleys will be assured of an adequate and eco-nomic supply of natural gas in the future.

The Standard Pacific Pipe Line, Inc., has just been completed as a joint enterprise of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the Standard Oil Company of Califor-nia, which now operates the Pacific Public Service Company.

About one year ago the two com-panies each thought of building a pipe line from the bay down to the Kettleman Hills field to convey to market the supply of gas which Standard is developing in that field. After consideration of the capital outlay necessary the com-panies decided to jointly build one big pipe line instead of each put-ting in a line of medium size, and by doing this they saved not less than $8,000,000, it is officially an-nounced.

The line runs for more than 200 miles, going from Kettleman Hills to Richmond terminal via Los Banos, Tracy, Pittsburg and Mar-tinez. Feeder lines taking fuel off this main artery will run from Richmond to Vallejo and Santa Rosa and from Patterson to Sacra-mento, Marysville and Chico.

For 120 miles the new main trunk is twenty-six inches in diameter, ranging from twenty-four to twen-ty inches for the remainder of the distance. The work was started during the winter months. The pipe was laid approximately four feet underground in a ditch excavated three feet wide. Because of low-consumer demand during the sum-mer the line will begin service by carrying a moderate amount of fuel, but when it is called upon to work at capacity it will be able to carry 138,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

Completion of this line will give the north central part of the State and the Bay District in the neigh-borhood of 225,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day from Kettleman Hills and Buttonwillow, when that much fuel is required, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company having completed last fall a smaller main trunk of its own, which runs from Kettleman Hills to San Jose. Still another pipe line from the Kettleman Hills field runs over to Hanford and down to Fresno.

American Gold Adds Butler to Mining Staff

Percy Bennett Butler, mining en-gineer associated in the mining in-terests of the Barnsdall Corpora-tion as general manager and direc-tor for a number of years, has be-come a director and general man-ager of the mining operations of the American Gold Corporation, Ltd., according to an announce-ment issued yesterday by J. S. Tre-mayne.

In addition to handling all the mining activities of the Barnsdall Corporation, for many years ex-tending from Canada to Mexico, Mr. Butler was a director of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers and chair-man of the lead and zinc commit-tee of the American Zinc Institute.

He successfully instituted and carried out the first overhand shrinkage stope in the Joplin (Mo.) zinc mines, demonstrating the most economical system of ore extrac-tion for that district, which meth-od was immediately adopted and has since been the accepted sys-tem of ore extraction.

OLD LEASE STORY REVIVED

Reversion to Fee Owner of Means Ranch in Kern County Reminder of Historic Incidents

BAKERSFIELD, June 8. (Exclusive)—One of the oldest oil leases in Kern county, and one which has made history in the industry has re-verted to the fee owner. The land is a portion of the old Thomas A. Means ranch, northeast of Bakersfield and near Kern River. It was the beginning of the Doheny oil fortune in Kern county and was sold by Doheny to the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company.

The lease was originally drilled by John A. Bunting, one of the fa-mous characters of the early days of the Kern River field. Later it was developed by J. E. Gray and upon his death was operated by the Gray heirs.

REVERTS TO HEIRS

The property has now reverted to the heirs of the Means estate, Mrs. Helen McManus, widow of the late T. B. McManus, and her children, Arthur, Thomas, Charles, and Mrs. Lucille Easton. The property will again be developed under the man-agement of Arthur McManus, who for several years has been with the Associated, Standard and Ohio oil companies.

The property is in the shallow producing area of the Kern River field and has been a consistent pro-ducer for more than thirty years. It is the original homestead of Thomas A. Means, who first prophesied the discovery of oil in the Kern River field and upon whose advice the Ellwood brothers drilled the discovery well. Part of the original ranch was sold to E. L. Doheny.

Much of the original lease is as yet undrilled. No effort has been made to tap the potential oil sands below 500 feet and operators believe that a good deep sand prevails there.

MEANS PIONEERS

Thomas Means was one of the pioneers of Kern county. He was known to his friends as the "apos-tle of petroleum." Convinced that oil was to be found under the Kern River territory, his one topic of conversation was the exploitation of that region.

James Monroe Ellwood, who owned a wood yard in Bakersfield, wanted Means to go into his busi-ness, but Means talked him out of the wood business into drilling for oil, and Ellwood, in turn, induced his father, Jonathan Ellwood, to come to Bakersfield and the trio began the search for the flowing mineral that resulted in one of California's earliest and greatest oil-producing centers. They began their first well in 1899 under the edge of a cliff seven miles north-east of Bakersfield. With an auger they drilled seventy-five feet, where they struck good oil indications.

Then they got a steam outfit and rig and at 343 feet they drilled into oil, whereupon young Ellwood rushed to Tom Means and shouted: "Your phophecy has been fulfilled." Means only smiled and said: "I knew it was there."

At that time geologists had de-clared that there was no oil in the Kern River district.

GRAPHITE PROPERTY DEVELOPS

Report on Sonora (Mex.) Group of Claims Paints Outlook as Rosy

NOGALES (Son.) June 8. (Ex-clusive) — Ghaphite, running up to 85 per cent of purity, is declared to have been developed on thirty-five claims of the Mexican Graph-ite Company, near Moreno, Son. The property, with nine veins, ad-joins the producing mine of the United States Graphite Company.

A. E. Place of Los Angeles is head of a syndicate which has taken a five-year bond and lease on the Soledad mine, eighty-five miles south of Nogales. It is proposed to start shipment of silver-lead ore within ninety days. Several veins are reported to have shipping ore seams from two to four feet wide. The mine has been idle since 1897.

Announcement has been made that the Tigra Leasing Company will suspend operations on a prop-erty at La Quemade, Jalisco, owing to the low price received for silver. About 160 men will be affected.

With leisure afforded by the temporary closing, in June, of the big mill at Miami of the Inspira-tion Copper Company, the mill su-perintendent, G. H. Ruggles, will serve as consultant in remodeling the mill of the Cananea Consoli-dated Copper Company at Cananea.

HUGE COPPER ORE BODY CUT

BISBEE (Ariz.) June 8. (Exclu-sive)—In cutting a station on the 2300-foot level of the Campbell shaft of the Calumet and Arizona development a cross section of for-ty feet of 6 per cent copper ore has been uncovered. Local engineers de-clare the Campbell area contains the greatest body of ore ever found in the district and consider it proof of the permanency of the district through demonstration that values continue to great depth.

Production is being kept down. For the first quarter of the year it amounted to about 25,000,000 pounds, with 7,500,000 for April. Several millions of dollars have been spent in betterment of equipment here and at the smelter, to be in readiness for record production at need, while producing costs have been materially lowered.

At Douglas the C. & A. smelter is adding four Nicholas Hereshoff roasters, each of ten hearths, 19½ feet in diameter. They are to be used primarily for production of sulphur dioxide gas for manufacture of sulphuric acid, sold to southwest-ern leaching plants. Ordinary mine ore is to be used, averaging about 30 per cent sulphur.

In the Briggs area of the C. & A. property a section 1000 feet north of the Briggs shaft is to bulkheaded, to cut off sulphur gases that have been noted for several months past. It is believed that this action will prevent fire in the sulphide ore bodies. There will be no influence in the main workings or on produc-tion.

WILDCAT LEASE RETURNS HEAVY

Sixth Hunt Starting on Tract at Huntington Beach

All Five Previous Attempts Marked by Failure

Total Bonuses and Rentals to Owner $50,000

That some people make a great deal of money out of an oil boom, without getting any oil, is indicated by the experience of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Newland, who reside on 480 acres in the Huntington Beach field, surrounded by productive oil wells owned by the Texas, Associated and Standard Oil com-panies.

In the early days of oil develop-ment at Huntington Beach, the Newlands began leasing their home place for oil exploration, and some of it has since been almost con-stantly under lease. Five unpro-ductive wells already have been drilled there, and the sixth hole now is being drilled. The Camp Oil Company is the present operator. Since they started leasing their property Mr. and Mrs. Newland have received $50,000 in bonuses and rentals.

The Union Oil Company was the first to lease from the Newlands, taking forty acres for a bonus of $25,000. It drilled four holes, none of which went as far as 4500 feet. Next came King G. Gillette, who is reported to have paid a $10,000 bonus for a lease on 160 acres. He never started the drill, however. The Rio Grande Oil Company laid down $10,000 bonus and rental to tie up 160 acres, but decided not to drill. Standard leased 160 acres and drilled one dry hole. Richfield paid $1000 rental for a lease on forty acres, without drilling.

More recently the Camp organ-ization started drilling after paying $3000 as bonus and rental. It has a hole down about 4500 feet and expects to go much deeper for a thorough test. There are fourteen producing wells strung out on three sides of the Newland property, some of them having been on production for as much as seven years.

DEEP HOLE DRILLED IN FAST TIME

Signal Hill Well Sunk 7046 Feet in Sixty Days of Elapsed Time

In drilling its No. 10 well in the southeastern part of Signal Hill, the Plymouth Oil Company has established what it believes to be a new record for making hole in the Los Angeles Basin.

It drilled this hole to a depth of 7046 feet in exactly sixty days of elapsed time, and yesterday was setting 1450 feet of six and one-quarter-inch pipe to bottom, where a production test soon will be made.

According to company officials this sixty-day record is at least fifty days faster than any other hole on the hill ever drilled to similar depth. It took Plymouth practically five months to drill its No. 9, right across the street from this record hole.

The No. 9 is credited, however, with having furnished the geological history which made it possible for Paul Travis, superintendent of the company, to steam ahead full blast, with three towers, on the No. 10 job.

New Gasoline Plant to Rise in Texas Area

BIG LAKE (Tex.) June 8. (Ex-clusive)—Utilization of the high gasoline content of the sweet gas produced from the deep strata, ranging below 8000 feet in the Big Lake field, is to be accomplished on an extensive scale by the Signal Gasoline Company of Texas, which will construct a second casinghead gasoline plant.

The first of this company's plants in the field is obtaining its gas supply from the 8525-foot well of the Texon Oil and Land Com-pany (Continental Oil Company.) The new plant will obtain its sup-ply of gas from the other deep well of the Texon Oil and Land Com-pany and from wells of the Big Lake Oil Company. The Conti-nental Oil Company owns a one-half interest in the Signal Gaso-line Company of Texas.

Oil Refinery Near Artesia in New Hands

ARTESIA (N. M.) June 8. (Ex-clusive)—The Dayton Refinery, lo-cated at Dayton, eight miles south of Artesia, has been purchased by Stephen Lanning of Inglewood, Cal. Plans have been made to start op-erations at the plant as soon as repairs can be made.

The Dayton Refinery was built in 1926 after the Illinois Pipe Line Company ran a line from the Ar-tesia field to Dayton. It was op-erated for several months, but finally closed down.

It is asserted here that the new owners contemplate furnishing a special road oil to the New Mexico State Highway Department and will use oil produced from the Getty pool, several miles to the southeast.

SHELL PROJECT FIRST AT HOBBS

State No. 1-A Completed at 4004 Feet Depth

Daily Production Reported as 3000 Barrels

Eventual Sinking to Lower Level Expected

ARTESIA (N. M.) June 8. (Ex-clusive)—Making fast time in a race with nearly forty other drill-ing projects, the Shell Oil Company has just succeeded in outdistanc-ing its competitors by completing its State No. 1-A on Sec. 32, 18-38, in the Hobbs area at a depth of 4004 feet, where the hole is re-ported to be yielding at the rate of 3000 barrels of oil and 30,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

The general opinion of operators in that district is that the principal producing zone has not yet been tapped, because the Bowers No. 1 of the Humble Oil and Refining Company, which is producing at the rate of 7500 barrels, from the same structure, went to 4106 feet. It is believed that Shell will go deeper as soon as the gas pressure sub-sides.

Operators continue to watch the progress of the Grimes No. 1 of the Tidal Oil Company on Sec. 29, 18-38, in the Hobbs field. This well is regarded as the most promising one in the area and is believed to be running higher than any test in the field. A good showing of oil devel-oped in the Grimes from 3115 to 3120 feet, after encountering the first gas at 2782 feet. A number of wells in this territory have cased off 200 to 300-barrel oil showings and are going after the better forma-tion below 4000 feet.

Two new locations were an-nounced for eastern Lea county dur-ing the week, they being the Texas-Pacific Coal and Oil Company test on Sec. 20, 23-36, and the Atlantic Oil Company State No. 1 on Sec. 6 19-38. This is the first well for Atlantic in this territory.

DEPOSIT OF SODIUM TO OPEN SOON

Operations at Sulphate Property in Nevada to Start in July

MINA (Nev.) June 8. (Exclusive) The Rhodes Alkali and Chemical Corporation expects to start produc-tion of sodium sulphate from ex-tensive deposits on Rhodes marsh, near Mina, in July. Construction of the new plant is nearing completion, and water for the mill is being developed by a series of sixteen-inch wells. The deposits are said to be among the largest of their type in the West.

A bond and lease on the two cin-nabar claims of Antelope Springs, Inc., east of Lovelock, have been taken by L. C. Newton and Sam Joy of Los Angeles, with local as-sociates. The new interests have ordered a twenty-ton rotary fur-nace, arranged for driving a 225-foot tunnel, and expect to start ac-tive production before the end of July. The claims adjoin the Juniper property of the Nevada Quicksilver Company, and are believed to con-tain some of the richest quicksilver deposits in the district.

A promising gold strike thirty-two miles northeast of Pioche is at-tracting considerable attention, with many claims located in the past few days. The discovery was made by Jack Fogliani and Leo Brachen, and is said to show a four-foot vein carrying high gold values. The deposit has been prospected to some extent for 700 feet.

With the price of lead, silver, tungsten, zinc and other metals at the lowest point recorded in many years, Nevada prospectors are cen-tering on the search for gold and quicksilver deposits. The metal slump has struck vitally at many Nevada camps, with little prospect of early improvement, and prospect-ing is now largely restricted to sec-tions known to contain gold de-posits.

OLD DOMINION TO CONTINUE ACTIVITY

GLOBE (Ariz.) June 8. (Exclu-sive)—That Old Dominion intends to continue activity is indicated by announcement that a new 118-foot steel head frame is to be erected on the company's main shaft, to se-cure greater ore storage. There is to be addition of a 1500-ton hopper-type steel bin.

SURVEY TO BE MADE IN TEXAS

New Pipe-Line Law Situation Will be Studied

Findings Will be Given to Railroad Commission

Curtailment of Flush Pools Among Objectives

AUSTIN (Tex.) June 8. (Exclusive)—The entire oil-producing situation in Texas, with reference to the application of the new pipe-line law which will go into effect the 20th inst. will be surveyed and the findings embraced in a plan that will be submitted to the Railroad Commission by a committee appointed by R. R. Penn, independent producer of Dallas.

Mr. Penn was authorized to appoint this committee at a conference of representatives of the Texas division of the Midcontinent Oil and Gas Association recently held at Dallas. The proposed plan will contain a program for the curtailment of flush pools so as to adjust the supply and demand. Oil producers and pipe-line companies of Texas have been requested by the Railroad Commission to recommend for its adoption rules and regulations for enforcing the new law.

On the eve of the going into effect of the new pipe-line law, it is regarded as significant that crude-purchasing companies in several of the larger fields of the State are bringing about a general curtailment of production. In the West Texas field some of the large purchasers of crude oil are refusing to handle more than 50 per cent of their former takings.

The sentiment for curtailment of production is rapidly growing in all of the larger fields of the State, and with the application of the new pipe-line law, if it has the results that are expected, there will be a material drop in the production of Texas in the next few months.

MINES CONCERN SIGNS FOR GAS

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) June 8. (Exclusive)—In New York on the 2nd inst. a contract was signed by Louis C. Cates, president of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation, with the Western Gas Company for delivery at the company's smelter here of natural gas from the West Texas oil fields, delivery to be within eight months. Bisbee, Clifton and Morenci also will be supplied.

About 900 miles of pipe may be laid, with service reaching to Tucson and Phoenix. The construction cost is estimated at $5,000,000. It is reported that the contract with the mines is for ten years, with a price of 18 cents per 1000 feet up to 3,000,000,000 feet and 1 cent decrease after that figure has been reached. Back of the project are reported to be Ford, Baker & Davis and the Sanderson-Porter interests.

The manner in which the new fuel is to be used locally has not been announced, but it is believed that it is to replace fuel oil in the reverberatory furnaces.

Calumet and Arizona is reported to have contracted for the fuel. The first supply line is to be from Lea county, New Mexico, a distance of 210 miles.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analyses will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Probably Fossiliferous

LOS ANGELES, May 21.—Question: The inclosed sample of black, hard mineral was found at 4400 feet depth in drilling a well in Fresno county. It has caused some curiosity among the oil men. Please examine it; return the specimen and oblige. X.

Answer: The sample is probably a psuedomorphic substance which, originally, was of fossil nature. It is coated with a mixture of limonite, (hydrous iron peroxide) and iridescent (peacock) iron ore. As requested, the specimen has been mailed back to you, which is but seldom done. Its physical properties—at this age—and chemical dips indicate that it reacts for limonite, dolomite and manganese, and to proceed further on such substances must be b. quantitative analysis.

Four Samples

AVALON, May 21.—Q.: I am sending you four samples from Catalina Island, which I would like to have you classify. The two largest are called soapstone, locally. b.. probably are schists. (?) Thanking you for former favors. X.

A.: Sample No. 1 seems to be a foliated and tabulose magnesium silicate carrying more or less graphite. No. 2 is a very impure magnesium silicate (impurities iron, talc and traces of fibrolite.) No. 3 is decomposed mica schist, carrying some clay and magnesia. Iron present, and partly fibrolite. No. 4 is very low-grade micaschist.

Fahlers

GLENDALE, May 22. — Q.: Samples from Spanish Canyon, and I would like very much to know its commercial value. L.

A.: The forty-odd samples are base-metal sulphides, (low-grade tetrahedrite.) They carry pyrite, arsenopyrite, marcasite, (white iron pyrite) and zinc sulphide. Values problematical.

Free Gold Absent

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—Q.: Inclosed please find sample taken from the hills near Hemet, and supposed to contain gold. Kindly give me an analysis of this and tell me whether it has any commercial value. C. O. N.

A.: The specimen carries quartz, clay, feldspar, a trace of magnetite, and yellowish microscopic mica known as cat gold. Of doubtful value.

Five Samples

RANDSBURG, May 23.—Q.: Under separate cover sending five samples of mineral for analyses. No. 1 is from the Panamint range. Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5 from this locality. T.

A.: No. 1 is quartzitic rock stained with traces of nickel and copper. No. 2 reacts slightly for zinc. No. 3 carries traces of blende, antimony, and probably silver. No. 4 seems to be a mixture of quartz, iron, and manganese. No. 5 is a magnesium-iron, siliceous mineral showing copper traces, and will probably assay silver. Blende present.

Hydrous Mineral

SAN DIEGO, May 23.—Q.: The sample is from Otay, San Diego county. Has it any commercial value? Please analyze. Thanking you for past favors. B.

A.: It is a low-grade aluminum-magnesium silicate, carrying sand, and lime carbonate. It makes a sticky mess when wetted with water, and probably represents rather doubtful commercial value.

Native Gold Absent

WILLOWBROOK, May 24.—Q.: Inclosed find sample of outcropping located in Ord Mountain district, about forty-five miles northeast of Victorville. Would like to find mineral contents. Both samples came from same canyon. Have they any bearing on intervening or surrounding stratum. X.

A.: The brownish yellow limonitic mineral is a cellular and siliceous rock; in part porphyritic. It carries traces of molybdenite and pyrite. Sulphides are rather good indications when occurring in outcrops. The blackish specimen is a mixture of massive hematite with micaceous iron another variety of hematite in a ground mass of porphyritic rock. A fairly good showing.

Slaty Clay

SANTA PAULA, May 24.—Q.: The rock inclosed was found in the Santa Monica Mountains. Has it any commercial value. S.

A.: The specimen is greatly altered and now is in the form of friable shale. It turns yellowish-brown when placed in water and carries a little lime carbonate. Probably of doubtful commercial value.

Two Samples

PIOCHE (Nev.) May 25.—Q.: Inclosed find two samples of ore from near Pioche, Nev. Is there any radium in No. 1? No. 2 is a blackish rock. L.

A.: No. 1 is in part a chrysolitic rock; it is coated and seamed with pink and white calcite, and glassy feldspar is present. It is not radioactive, and is not ore carrying radium. No. 2 is a mixture of pearlyte spotted with lime carbonate.

Three Samples

CORONA, May 26.—Q.: I am sending for classification three samples from Kramer Hills district. Is 3 a colloidal clay? When dissolved in water it stays in suspension indefinitely. Do these samples have any commercial value? T.

A.: Sample No. 1 is lime carbonate carrying more or less grit. No. 2 is a whitish quartzitic rock. No. 3 is a mixture—it reacts in water on the order of hydrous aluminum silicate, and runs high in chalk (lime carbonate.) Problematical commercial values apply to all of the specimens.

SULLIVAN GOLD ON PRODUCTION

Daily Output of War Eagle Mill 100 Tons

TONOPAH (Nev.) June 8. (Exclusive)—The Gold Metals Mining Company has started steady production from the Sullivan gold mine at Manhattan, with 100 tons of dump ore going daily to the War Eagle mill. The management plans to acquire the old Lemon mill, located near the mine, provide additional equipment, and operate the plant exclusively on Gold Metals ore.

A headframe is being erected, a compressor installed, and building of an electric power line to the mine finished. Extensive developments are to start shortly, with a strong ledge of excellent ore showing in the shaft.

Reorganization of the historic Tonopah Mining Company will be considered by stockholders at a special meeting in Philadelphia on the 23rd inst. It is proposed to reduce the capitalization from $1,000,000 to $500,000, and sell all assets to a new company to be known as the Tonopah Corporation. President W. L. Hoehmlen states that many stockholders believe they should participate in the cash assets of the company, and that the life of the Tonopah mine is about ended. The company was the first to operate extensively at Tonopah and has disbursed more than $15,000,000 in dividends.

Bradshaw, Inc., retreating the immense tonnage of tailings deposited years ago by the Goldfield Consolidated mill at Goldfield, declared a dividend of $15,000 on June 2. The management states that similar dividends will be declared every thirty days for the next six months, unless something happens to halt production. The company is in the third year of successful operation, and in 1929 paid off all obligations and disbursed a dividend of $30,000.

LONG "GAS" PIPE PLANNED

BORGER (Tex.) June 8. (Exclusive)—The Phillips Pipe Line Company, a subsidiary of Phillips Petroleum Company, has completed plans for the construction of a $15,000,000 gasoline pipe line which will be the largest of its kind ever built, having a length of nearly 1000 miles.

Construction operations have been separated into six sections to facilitate completion by January 1, 1931. The construction program will require 100 inspectors and 1000 laborers and 100,000,000 pounds of pipe will be required, which will be fusion welded. The pipe will be fully concealed, including river crossings.

The line will run northeast from Borger through Oklahoma and Kansas to Wichita, thence on to Kansas City and direct to St. Louis. Ten pump stations, equipped with either electric motor driven centrifugal pumps or Diesel type including safety and fire devices, each of 800 pounds pressure, will insure a uniform and constant rate of flow through the line. Distributing terminals are provided at Wichita, Kansas City and St. Louis.

Terminal facilities at Kansas City have been arranged to permit of extension of the line north and east. Facilities at St. Louis include dockage on the river to permit barging gasoline as far north as Minneapolis and St. Paul. The St. Louis dockage permits of water transportation to Memphis and New Orleans, and via the Ohio River to Louisville, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

The line has been designed as a closed system, eliminating the possibility of loss by evaporation or fire hazard and will be divided into twenty-mile sections, each policed by a line-walker who will inspect his section once a day. A telephone line for which 1,300,000 pounds of copper and 25,000 poles will be required, will parallel the entire system, interconnected with ten pump stations. Line walkers will carry extension telephone rods, affording them instant communication with the nearest pump station in making reports.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROFESOR R. GUERRERO

Al final del segundo párrafo del artículo de Gabaldón, leemos: ". . . alimentarse discretamente supone poseer una renta vitalicia o poco menos". En esta oración, el adverbio "discretamente" está usado en el sentido de "moderadamente". "Renta vitalicia" es un contrato por el cual una persona se obliga a pagar, durante la vida de una o más personas determinadas, una pensión a otra u otras a cambio de un capital que se le entrega. La renta vitalicia tiene sus partidarios convencidos, que la juzgan muy conveniente, y sus antagonistas, que la estiman perjudicial y contraria a la laboriosidad. Pero, como dice un ilustre tratadista francés citado en la Enciclopedia de Espasa, es indudable que la renta vitalicia proporciona un último amparo y protección al enfermo y viejo que fía en su misma muerte la esperanza de vivir.

De la Enciclopedia citada tomamos estos otros datos sobre rentas vitalicias: Puede constituirse una de esas rentas a favor de aquella o aquellas personas sobre cuya vida se otorga, o a favor de otra u otras personas distintas. Es nula la renta constituida sobre la vida de una persona muerta a la fecha del otorgamiento, o que en el mismo tiempo se halle padeciendo una enfermedad que llegue a causar su muerte dentro de los veinte días siguientes a aquella fecha. El contrato aleatorio se funda en una esperanza, depende de un evento incierto, y no podría tener tales fundamentos si la persona sobre cuya vida se hubiere constituido hubiese fallecido al otorgamiento del contrato.

El perceptor de la renta vitalicia sólo debe tener derecho a exigir o reclamar judicialmente el pago de las rentas atrasadas y el aseguramiento de las futuras al deudor de dichas rentas; porque, una vez consumado este contrato, no es causa de recisión la mera negligencia en el pago de la renta, o la mora del deudor. Sólo da ella lugar a la acción procedente para compeler a la ejecución de un contrato ya perfecto, que no puede extinguirse sino con la realización del acontecimiento de que depende y que le sirvió de base al constituirse. De otro modo, no habría solidez en los contratos, que se disolverían por la más ligera infracción de cualquiera de los contrayentes, y se haría pronunciar sin fundamento sólido la nulidad de un acto, cuando sólo hay derecho para pedir su ejecución. Por esto nos extrañan, dice la obra citada, que tratadistas respetables presenten como cuestión la de si es permitido el pacto de que, no pagándose la renta, vuelvan al acreedor el capital o las fincas que se transmitieron al constituir la renta vitalicia, como base de la misma; pues consignado tan claramente como está el precepto que comentamos, no cabe duda que, ni el perceptor de la renta vitalicia tiene otro derecho que el de reclamar judicialmente el pago de las rentas atrasadas y el aseguramiento de las futuras, ni podrá pactarse la rescisión, o sea, el reembolso del capital o la reivindicación de la finca que se enajenó o se transmitió.

La renta correspondiente al año en que muere el que la disfruta se pagará en proporción a los días que hubiese vivido; si debía satisfacerse por plazos anticipados, se pagará el importe total del plazo que durante su vida hubiese empezado a correr. Se han distinguido constantemente, y con razón sobrada, las rentas creadas a título oneroso de las establecidas a título gratuito por donación o legado, reconociéndose ordinariamente que las primeras pueden ser embargadas por los acreedores del propietario, aun cuando se hayan estipulado en el contrato que no puedan serlo; porque nadie puede privar a sus acreedores de hacerse pago con sus bienes; pero en las rentas vitalicias que se constituyen a título gratuito por donación o legado, el testador

Electrical Development has only begun

THE average home uses only ¼ of the electricity it could use advantageously. Addition of an electric refrigerator doubles the electrical consumption of most homes.

Over 74% of Associated Gas and Electric System revenue is from electric service.

$1.60 Interest Bearing Allotment Certificates of the Company, priced at $29, to yield over 5½%, provide an opportunity to share in the growth of the electrical industry.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Brown Romance." Splendid scenery of the great north country and one or two thrills. Conran O'Brien.

California, Main nr. 8th.—"Manchu." Exciting intrigue among African colonists in which Jean Hersholt adds to his glory. Also Eleanor Boardman and Ralph Forbes.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"All Quiet on the Western Front." A mighty drama of war and its effects. This is one which should not be missed.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"Hell's Angels." It took Howard Hughes four years and $4,000,000 to produce the colossus of the air; and it was worth it.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"The Divorcee." A daring and well-clothed exposition of the modern woman in which Norma Shearer gives one of the finest performances.

Fiesta, Fig. at Santa Barbara—"Light of Western Stars." Richard Arlen and Mary Brian look for romance out in those great open spaces.

Filmarte, 1228 Vine—"The Fight for the Matterhorn." A scenic wonder of the Swiss Alps with danger and adventure.

Forum, Figueroa at Norton—"Under a Texas Moon." With mustache and music, Frank Fay plays with romance on the open.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Redemption." John Gilbert speaks for the second time in a talking picture—tragedy of a man who couldn't find himself.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6708 Hollywood Boulevard—"Ladies Love Brutes." George Bancroft appears again as the big-hearted gangster who renounces love.

Metropolitan, Dollar, Mgr., at 3rd.—"Dames Ahoy." Rather amusing is this realistic love comedy about three sailors and a wench with Glenn Tryon.

Palace, Broadway bet. 6th and 7th.—"Hot Society Blues." Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in a sweetly accordian romance with guitars and accessories.

Pantages, Hollyw'd nr. Vine.—"The Floradora Girl." A humorous and sentimental music-comedy of a past decade.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"True to the Navy." Clara Bow is not too successful as the soda jerker who admires the navy and wins her prize, Fredric March.

Rita, Wilshire at La Brea—"Only the Brave." A simple and charming story of the Civil War presents Gary Cooper and Mary Brian.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Around the Corner." Another of those long, amiable arguments between Charlie Murray and George Sidney.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Cuckoos." One laugh after another is had at the expense of those two clowns, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Mammy." For once Al Jolson forsakes the tear for the smile, and it is an improvement.

United Artists, Bdwy. nr. 9th.—"The Big Pond." An ingenious comedy which provides Maurice Chevalier with plenty of opportunity to display his popular personality.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"High Society Blues."

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"Golden Dawn." Rhyme, but no reason is developed as song after song is sung about the difficulties of happy mating in Africa. Vivienne Segal and Walter Woolfe.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Bride of the Regiment." A noble romance is broken up by a laughing bandit and there is trouble all picnic long. Some beautiful coloring. Vivienne Segal, Walter Pidgeon and Vivienne Segal.

Westlake, 624 Alvarado—"Framed." Another gangster struggle with an excellent performance by Evelyn Brent.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at Eleventh—"The Outsider." An old-fashioned bit of clinical theatrics serves to introduce the artist, Maurice Moscovitch.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Brothers." A sure-fire stage hit in which Basil Lyrell returns to the theater as two brothers.

Figueroa Playhouse, Fig. nr. 10th—"A Man's Man." A deft drama of a nice young couple neatly crushed by life. Patsy Ruth Miller.

CRIME INCREASE BLAMED ON AUTO

British Survey Lays Onus on Motorized Age

City Criminals' Nowadays Range Far Afield

Gain in Sex Offenses Held Due to Discussion

LONDON, June 8. (Exclusive)—The necessity for new methods to deal with the present generation of motor-car criminals is one of the chief conclusions of an analysis of English crimes issued by the Home Office in the form of a blue book.

The motor age undoubtedly has resulted in increased crime, according to statistics contained in the analysis. In metropolitan police districts crime has risen 106 per cent since 1911, but in the country district it has been boosted 437 per cent.

"It cannot be doubted," the Home Office report says, "that the increase of crime is due to the coming of the motor age."

WIDENS RANGE

It is pointed out that with an automobile a criminal can travel faster and farther afield with less chance of interference or arrest. The automobile also enables more people to live either permanently or spend week-ends in the country, where housebreaking is obviously easier, while town houses are often left empty while their occupants motor in the rural areas. New dwelling places in the country tempt the criminal and strain the resources of the police, the report says.

"The temptation to be criminally disposed in town areas is twofold. First, to 'borrow' a car, second, to 'do a job' with it," continues the report. "The chances of doing a job successfully and of getting away are so much greater in the country that only the most daring prefer the more dramatic smash and grab raid in the towns.

STYLES IN CRIME

The report also asserts that some of the bolder types of crimes are dying out altogether but society of today is menaced by a new type—the motor age crime.

Young men constitute today's criminals and in this connection the policy of leniency is blamed, says the report. It is suggested that longer prison sentences may be necessary as a remedy, in order to provide greater periods for training and reformation. In an analysis of court convictions, the report says, those too young to have served in the war have come out the worst in comparison.

On the question of education and crime, the conclusion reached is that "figures do not support but refute the suggestion that education causes more crime and in particular more crimes of dishonesty."

MURDERS CONSTANT

Murders in England and Wales remain constantly between the figures of 100 and 200 yearly; men are more prone to commit murder when over 30 years of age and women under 30. In 1928 there were 129 murders.

The increase in sex crime is though to be accounted for largely by the moral outlook of men and women and the greater interest taken by women in matters concerning sex, which is leading to more reporting in the newspaper of sex offenses.

The report refutes the theory that the modern criminal, possesses more brains than brawn, and in spite of the vast increase in women's activities an analysis shows that there has been no increase in women's crimes.

Eskimo Proves Hard Prisoner to Keep Cool

SPOKANE, June 8. (AP)—This is just another one of those things which make Sheriff Floyd Brower chew his pillow at night.

With the mercury hovering around 90 deg. above zero one day this week, he found among his prisoners an Eskimo, whose haunts are 200 miles north of Nome. And, no good Eskimo can shovel dirt out of roads with the thermometer anywhere near that height.

Early in the morning the Eskimo looked at the sun and wilted. Guards told him to get into the shade, but that wasn't cool enough. Then they let him get into a deep hole, freshly dug, on the bottom of which was cool water. And still the Northman's tongue hung out of his month and he panted.

Finally the Eskimo was led to a cool mountain stream, made to undress and left to loll in near freezing waters. Only his lips and nose were out of the water and on the former a broad, northmanlike grin spread as the officers left him.

Caltech Scientists Prepare to Measure Flash

Los Angeles Almost Immune to Lightning's Wrath

Subject to Essay Franklin's Classic Experiment

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, June 8.—Mighty bolts of Thor's hammer, which modern scientists term lightning, continue to strike terror and destruction in the world of men and women despite any power which the cunning of man can generate.

As in ages when thunder and lightning were considered the most spectacular and mysterious manifestations of nature and while some of the mystery persists recent researches at the California Institute of Technology and in laboratories of industrial concerns promise to aid in clipping the lightning's wings, if not in actually harnessing man's neurotic electric plant.

In Los Angeles county, due to peculiar climatic conditions, there is little danger of death or damage by lightning than in any other section of the United States.

FAVORED SPOT

Pasadena is heard, on the average, about four and four-tenths days a year, while in Tampa, Fla., where there are more thunderstorms than in any other locality in the country, the sky voices its angry grumble ninety-four days a year.

Besides the Pacific Coast's relative immunity from thunderstorms devastation by lightning-set fires of the great oil reservoirs in 1926 resulted in a severe loss to the State and investigators for a large oil company reported has been exceeded only by the San Francisco disaster of 1906. Three major fires started by lightning in this vicinity resulting in the loss of several lives and property worth of property, according to this report.

Last week Associated Press dispatches reported that a single lightning stroke had killed four children and six others sought shelter under a tree near Blatnitza, Czecho-Slovakia. The six not killed outright were believed to have been permanently injured.

Two months ago lightning destroyed a giant deodar tree in the residence section of Pasadena, the shock smashing fifty windows within a quarter-mile radius and injuring two persons.

With the hope of reducing loss of life and property from lightning storms in the oil fields and diminishing the similar losses resulting from forest fires-out of costly electrical disturbances by lightning surges on power lines, students working in the California Institute's 1,000,000-volt laboratory are daily performing many experiments.

Besides producing artificial lightning bolts with which to test models of oil-tank farm lightning protection towers in the laboratory, the scientists were forced to attempt to answer the age-old questions, "What causes lightning and thunder and what makes them?"

NEWER THEORIES

Among the newer theories which attempt to give riddles is that which holds that lightning has its origin in moisture carried from the sea by rising air currents to altitudes where the cold condenses the moisture into large drops.

These drops begin to fall and break into smaller drops of varying sizes, the breaking-up process causing to charge these particles of moisture with electricity. The lighter of these drops carry negative charges while the larger drops are charged positively. These positive and negative charges are released when the smaller drops fall into the higher part of the cloud, which drops remaining below. The positive and negative charges attract each other when the charges in the upper parts of the cloud become great enough the insulating power cannot withstand the pressure, the air breaks down in the same way that an old tire will wear out and produces lightning, ready for civilization, 90 per

MAIDS OF TROPICS SEEK SCHOOL HERE

Olga and Esperenza Moncada

For the next six years two little maids from the tropics are to make California their home while they acquire an education in accordance with their distinguished father's admiration for the learning imparted by the schools of this State.

They are Olga and Esperanza Moncada, daughters of Dr. Jose Moncada, President of Nicaragua. They stopped at Los Angeles Harbor this week-end aboard the Panama Mail liner Venezuela, under chaperonage of Dr. Isaac Montealegre, newly appointed Nicaraguan Consul-General of San Francisco.

It is the plan of Dr. and Mrs. Montealegre to make on their arrival in the north a careful survey of all schools for girls in the State, then select what they believe is the most desirable for their charges and enroll them for the fall semester.

Fund Lack Cited on Playgrounds

Because of insufficient funds for playground development sought by various new communities, the Playground and Recreation Commission has adopted the report of Supt. Hoyt that the department will be unable to provide in its budget for any special assessments levied on real property of the department.

The Finance Committee of the City Council, which urged provision for these assessments, always opposed by the commission, has been informed that the department now owns nine sites which are not yet improved for playground purposes.

The Finance Committee's request that the department inform it what provision has been made for a reserve fund to care for expenses until new taxes begin to come in next fall brought the information that the budget does not provide for such, but that the department will do everything possible to defer capital expenditures.

INDUSTRIAL HUM GAINS STRENGTH

Eleven New Concerns Open Plants in May

Eight Others Begin Work on Expansions

Chamber's Records Show Progress Unhampered

Eleven new industrial concerns were established or were being established here and eight more were being enlarged or otherwise were expanding during May, it is set forth in an industrial summary for the month by R. D. Sangster, manager of the Chamber of Commerce's industria. department. This, he commented, shows a continuance of industrial progress.

Dicalite Company is developing Los Angeles county raw materials by producing diatomaceous earth on a 500-acre tract near Torrance. This commodity is used for filtration, heat insulation and as an admixture for concrete. The company has offices at 756 South Broadway. It now employs seventy-five men and expects to increase its monthly shipment from fifty carloads at present to 250 carloads within the year.

BRANCH FACTORY

Other industrial concerns established in May include the following, as summarized by the department:

John Wood Manufacturing Company of Conshohocken, Pa., has established a branch factory at 1246 East Twenty-fifth street. Products are combination and automatic water heaters, range boilers, septic tanks, underground steel gasoline tanks, etc. Twelve thousand square feet of floor area are in use, and fifty men employed at the commencement of operations.

Nehi, Inc., of Columbus, Ga., manufacturers of fruit concentrates to be used in making beverages, has established bottling plants at Santa Monica, Long Beach, South Gate, Santa Ana, Riverside and Glendale.

Columbia Phonograph Company of 1142-46 South Wall street has commenced the pressing of phonograph records for sound pictures at 1041 North Las Palmas. In addition, it has reserved 3000 square feet of floor space for a recording studio at the Wall-street location.

Wax Paper Products Company, 2225 Southwest Drive, will shortly be in production with an authorized capital of $100,000. The plant has an area of 9000 square feet and will be equipped to produce all grades of waxed paper.

NEW FILM CONCERN

General Recording Corporation, Ltd., has leased space at 1611 Cosmo street, where the investment of $100,000 in equipment is planned. A recording device for motion-picture work, to be known as "Excelatone," is to be produced, also amplifiers, mixing panels and microphones.

Paragon Manufacturing Company, Ltd., 2407 South Main street, will occupy 1000 square feet in the manufacture of leather packings for hydraulic elevators, water pumps, air hoists, talking machine and radio sets, gasoline pumps and other specialties. The company is incorporated for $25,000.

Ohio Oil Company, 417 South Hill street, has begun the construction of the first gasoline absorption plant in the Playa del Rey field. Foundations are already in on a site located on the Recreation Gun Club property, and the initial unit will have a daily capacity of 5,000,000 cubic feet. Operation is expected to begin about June 15.

Bruce T. Mason has begun the manufacture of card tables exclusively at 2239 Fairpark avenue,

OLD MINING CAMP TO BE RESTORED

"Ghost" City of Holcomb Will be Rebuilt as Set for Early Day Pageant

In an attempt to portray faithfully, in pageant form, the stirring mining camp days of the Big Bear Valley, sponsors of the proposed pageant to be given at Moonridge Mountain Estates at Big Bear are planning to rebuild the "ghost" city of Holcomb as a permanent "set," according to announcement by Dr. Sheldon Shepard, who is furthering the movement.

"Saloons, dance halls, gambling palaces, as they existed and still exist in a deserted near-by mining town, will take the spectator back to a little known, though colorful, period of early California history when Holcomb disputed the leadership of the city of San Bernardino, and missed becoming the county seat by the narrow margin of a single vote," said Dr. Shepard.

"The purpose behind the plans for reconstruction of this historical settlement is to provide a permanent and fitting background for the pageant, the first presentations of which will occur on July 4, 5 and 6."

Work on Moonridge Bowl is being rushed to completion. Lumber for building 8000 seats, which it is anticipated will be entirely sold out long before July 4, is on the ground.

A unique feature of Moonridge Bowl is the stage, which will afford a view of fully one-eighth of a mile. It is sufficiently large to accommodate one-eighth mile of wagon road, which is necessary to the presentation of the pageant. Another unusual feature of Moonridge Bowl is the separation of stage from audience by a natural mountain stream. The banks of the stream form the approach to the bowl from the near-by parking area for cars.

JOURNALISTS HERE ON TOUR

European Newspaper Men Arrive for Busy Days of Sight-seeing in Southern California

The European journalists who are touring this country as guests of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace yesterday set eyes for the first time on Los Angeles, fifth largest city in the United States. Escorted by Charles A. Cooke, official greeter of the Chamber of Commerce; James B. Duffy, assistant passenger-traffic manager, and C. L. Seagraves, general colonization agent of the Santa Fe, they arrived at 4:30 p.m. by motor from San Bernardino, where they had detrained in the morning following a visit to the Grand Canyon last Friday.

On their way here they passed through the citrus belt of Highland and Redlands and stopped for luncheon at the Mission Inn, Riverside, as guests of Frank A. Miller. They also made a brief stop at Western Air Express Airport, Alhambra.

SIGHT-SEEING TODAY

Established at the Biltmore, the newspaper men last night were preparing to set forth today on an expedition of sight-seeing that will include visits to the City Hall, Glendale, Flintridge, the Rose Bowl, the California Institute of Technology, the Hotel Huntington, where they will have luncheon, the Huntington Library and Art Gallery and the Los Angeles industrial district.

The high point in their visit will be reached tomorrow evening when they are to be guests of honor at a banquet in the Biltmore, sponsored jointly by Los Angeles publishers, the Chamber of Commerce and the motion-picture industry, represented by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. William de Mille, president of the academy, is to be toastmaster and will introduce as speakers foreign-born actors, directors and producers, who will address a welcome to their countrymen. Reservations will be received until tomorrow morning at GRanite 2134.

The itinerary for Wednesday includes breakfast at the Breakfast Club and automobile trips to the Coliseum, the oil fields and the Harbor and rowing-race course and on Thursday, after spending the day with friends, the visitors will

Indigent Saves Fortune Out of Allowance

Mrs. Eulalia Herbert, aged widow, will appear in Superior Judge Stephens's court today for a test of her mental competency. Authorities at the county poor farm doubt her sanity because she told them she had saved $2300 out of the outdoor relief money she has been receiving for the past ten years—and she had the $2300 to prove it.

The money was sewed into the hems of her clothing, found on her when charity workers found her too ill to care for herself in her home on West Pico street. It was turned over to William R. Harriman, superintendent of the poor farm. Harriman has petitioned to be appointed guardian and officials stated that Harriman's first act will be to transfer the money back to the county treasury, and order Mrs. Harriman maintained at the County Farm.

BUDGET BEFORE COUNCIL TODAY

Grand Aggregate Will Total Nearly $80,000,000

Increase Over Present Year Set at $7,000,000

Mayor Asserts Operating Costs Reduced

The budget for the forthcoming fiscal year will be the subject of a public hearing before the Council this morning. This hearing, required by charter, is for the purpose of permitting the public to present its suggestions.

The Council then will consider the budget and return it to the Mayor with whatever changes it deems necessary.

The grand aggregate of the budget, including all departments, general and special, and bond redemption funds, is nearly $80,000,000, an increase of $7,000,000 over the present budget.

The general budget, over which Mayor Porter exercises control, is $25,000,000, which is $660,000 less than the budget under which the city now is operating.

The Mayor was assisted in working out the general budget by Budget Director Knox, while Jerome F. Sears, tax consultant of the California Taxpayers' Association, was included in the work.

ACTUAL INCREASE

While keeping within the estimated receipts of $25,000,000, Mayor Porter invades special funds, which hitherto have been kept intact from the general budget, to the amount of $1,335,998. Should this sum be considered a part of the general budget, it means that the Porter budget is $675,998 greater than the present year's budget.

These special funds are devoted to such general budget purposes as paying the wages and buying equipment for the police, fire, building and safety and treasurer's departments.

The money is taken, $856,827 from the permanent improvement fund, $229,998 from the street traffic fund, $20',000 from the motor vehicle street improvement fund, and $50,000 from the street bond fund.

ARBITRARY CUT

It is also obvious that jobs are created or retained in the budget without the appropriations necessary to pay them. This is strikingly evident in the police, engineering and building and safety departments.

An arbitrary cut of $447,982 is made in the salary item of the City Engineer. For instance, with the difference of only one common laborer between the two budgets, that for next year allocates only $1,246,853 for their hire, while this year $1,497,823 is set aside as their wages. As these wages are arbitrarily set at $4.75 per day, it means that several hundred less men must be employed to fit the budget appropriation, although, on the face of it, the same number of men are kept at work.

Director Knox explains that it is Mayor Porter's purpose to transfer sufficient men from the engineering department to the Bureau of Water Works and Supply to balance the budget, so that no one loses his job. These transferred engineers, Knox says, will be paid from the $38,800,000 water bonds recently voted by the people.

COUNCIL ANXIOUS

However, in the event of a shortage, there is always the reserve fund. If departmental salary accounts run dry next winter the Council can appropriate from the city's savings, now nearly $7,000,000, sufficient funds to pay wage shortages. The Councilmen, however, are inclined to look upon this situation with a jaundiced eye, inasmuch as it will appear that they, with an election coming on, are destroying the effectiveness of Mayor Porter's economy budget.

The Council also considers the permanent improvement fund as its special fund, to allocate for buildings and improvements as it sees fit, and not to pay departmental wages and materials.

In connection with the budget

ONE is constrained to inquire just what is a broker?

Every time a young lady screen star marries, it is always to a prominent broker. There must be enough prominent brokers married to Hollywood screen stars to conduct all the stock operations, not only in the known world, but also on Planet X.

LEARNED JANITORS

Diplomas for janitors aren't such a joke as some newspaper readers try to believe.

A lot of knowledge is needed in the brain pans of men who janitor large buildings like the City Hall or any of the big office buildings. Even considerable knowledge of chemistry. And a not inconsiderable supply of executive ability.

Cleaning a big building from the roof to the cellar in the limited time allowed is a big job done in a very short time. In turning out twenty-seven graduates the Wiggins trade school has made a valuable contribution.

"HE" STORIES

It is to be remarked that a very large proportion of the plays and novels of the day are "he" stuff.

"The Criminal Code," "The Last Mile," "All Quiet on the Western Front," "Journey's End," "Wings," "Hell's Angels" are essentially stories of men. In "Journey's End" not a woman appeared; the same is true of "The Last Mile;" in the others, women played small parts.

All of these stories have seized the popular imagination in one way or another. But there has been an interesting difference in popular reaction.

THUMBS DOWN

"Journey's End" was a clean-up on the stage. In pictures—although the picture was even better than the play—the success was not so marked.

"Sergt. Grisha" was a world-rocking story in book form. On the screen, it was a comparative failure at the box office—although a great achievement artistically.

MUST HAVE LOVE

On the other hand, two of the most successful pictures of the year have been Norma Shearer's "Divorcee" and "Montana Moon." Both were deliberately designed for woman appeal.

The most successful line of pictures running right now are "westerns"—beautifully made; but nevertheless made on old romantic formulas. It looks as though the movie public demanded its love.

A curious anomaly of the situation is that the movie is the most literal of all the fine arts; yet its cash customers back off in dismay from literalness in its favorite stories.

SATISFIED that the intricate fuel system on his airplane, the Yankee Doodle, is flawless, Col. Arthur C. Goebel will go aloft today to make a speed test and final check on his radio and flying instruments—equipment that must be perfect when the pilot attempts to span the Atlantic nonstop by air from Paris to New York.

Radio and instrument experts worked all day yesterday making ground adjustments on Goebel's new ship, a Lockheed Explorer, designed and built especially for the daring transoceanic attempt.

"The first flight showed that all the tanks and gasoline lines have no leaks," Goebel said. "The Yankee Doodle flies perfectly and as soon as my instruments and radio are lined up I will be ready to hop off for New York."

AIRPORT DEDICATION ENDS

Thousand at Municipal Field to Witness Closing Features of Flying Circus

The second and final program of a two-day celebration for the dedication of the Los Angeles Municipal Airport ended yesterday when squadrons of fighting planes circled the field for a final salute to the thousands gathered to watch the flying circus.

Fifteen Boeing pursuit planes with six Curtiss bombers from Rockwell Field, San Diego, and six planes from March Field, Riverside, were in the air for the closing exhibition before taking off for their home stations.

A bit of novelty in the way of lightweight flying was added to the program with three short glider flights by Al Hastings, operator of the Hastings Autow Plane Company. Hasting put his tiny motorless craft into the air after it had been given speed by an automobile tow line and, after executing several maneuvers, made perfect landings in front of the administration building.

Jean Allen, diminutive aviatrix, in company with three Curtiss Flying School students, gave a flying demonstration that included formation and stunt flying.

DRIVER KILLED IN WILD RIDE

Hit-Run Motorist's Car Tips as Bus Crash Sequel; Several Arrested on Liquor Charges

A desperate effort to escape a citation on a traffic charge yesterday cost the life of a 21-year-old motorist, following a wild ride that terminated when his car turned over and pinned him beneath the wreckage.

The victim was Howard Parker of 4512 Sunset Boulevard, and his death was followed by that of Frank Snyder, 50, 1719 North Mariposa avenue, who succumbed in General Hospital to injuries received April 9, last, and brought to four the number of traffic deaths for the day. Two persons were injured probably fatally in addition and several motorists are being held by the police on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Thomas Dunkle, 84, San Pedro resident, was hurt fatally by a hit-and-run driver, dying in the hospital, and Mrs. Margaret Roberts, 30, Glendale woman, died in Pasadena Hospital as result of injuries received when the car in which she was riding struck a tree.

BUS IN COLLISION

Parker's wild ride began at Tenth and Hill streets early in the morning. While driving an expensive coupe he collided with the rear end of a Los Angeles Railway Company bus operated by H. M. Owen. Instead of stopping to ascertain the damage, he speeded up his car, according to police, and disappeared. Several blocks away he drove the

SCIENCE GRIPS LIGHTNING BOLT

Million-Volt Laboratory to Fingerprint Flashes

New Theory Holds Thunder Explosion Report

cent of lightning flashes do not reach the earth, but strike from cloud to cloud, or flash between upper and lower parts of the same cloud.

The relatively small number of bolts which may directly affect human beings are believed to result when voltage differences between cloud and earth become so enormous that the blanket of air insulation is shattered and the cloud discharges to the ground.

Up to the present time no one has succeeded in measuring the enormous energy in a lighting bolt, but K. M. Wolfe, California Institute of Technology graduate student, has developed an intricate instrument, the optical oscillograph, with which he hopes to measure currents in real lightning flashes. His instrument is similar to one designed by Dr. Sinclair Smith of the Mt. Wilson Observatory for investigating condenser discharges.

REPEATING HISTORY

Wolfe, who might be termed in this case "the modern Benjamin Franklin," proposes, for one of his experiments, to attach this instrument to a small balloon or kite through a long wire.

It is hoped that a thundercloud in the vicinity of the kite will discharge down the wire through the instrument to the ground, in which event a picture of the flash will be obtained that will give the current magnitude and time required for the discharge. Last summer, Wolfe spent a month in studying lightning in a forest region where the bolts have started innumerable fires.

Most of the noise known as thunder, according to Wolfe, probably is due directly to the lightning discharge itself.

"QUICK AS LIGHTNING"

"This discharge," he said, "is extremely rapid, lasting only a few millionths of a second, while the path may be as much as five miles in length."

"This path, which we see as a lightning flash, is filled with air that has been heated to great brilliancy by the enormous current. This sudden heating and cooling causes the air to expand and contract with such rapidity that the explosive noise called thunder results."

There is no absolute evidence that any airplane has been struck by lightning, according to Prof. Royal W. Sorensen, director of work in the 1,000,000-volt laboratory, who has made a preliminary investigation of such possibilities. Until additional information is obtained Prof. Sorensen believes the safe plan is for all air pilots to shun storm areas.

EFFECT THE SAME

"Any airplane," he asserts, "is likely to find itself in the path of a lightning discharge if it is flown into a thunder cloud, but after a plane has crashed in a storm area it is difficult to determine whether the accident resulted from lightning or from air currents of high velocity.

"Lightning rods would give no protection to aircraft unless some practical method could be devised by which the rod could be contacted with the ground."

If a plane is inclosed in metal and all its metal parts tied together to keep the voltages equal, the passengers are in no danger from lightning unless a large lightning bolt scores a direct hit on the plane and by sheer force crushes the structure, according to the California Institute authority.

"Flying a plane is like driving an automobile in many respects and there is no obvious reason why the plane is more likely to be destroyed by lightning," Sorensen declared.

One of the most interesting pieces of apparatus under construction in the 1,000,000-volt laboratory is a new "lightning machine," which is being built by Robert P. Williamson, graduate electrical student. It is anticipated that this unique apparatus will play an important part in testing insulation to determine its ability to insulate against lightning on transmission lines. The first section for this new lightning generator was completed last week.

HOMEMADE BOLTS

This apparatus consists of a large plate-glass condenser, several sphere gaps and a high-voltage rectifier. In producing artificial thunderbolts the condenser served as the cloud, receiving its charge from the rectifier. When the charge in the condenser, in its present set-up approaches 100,000 volts, the air insulation between the sphere gaps breaks down and the condenser discharges to the ground, accompanied by an explosive report that sounds like a small thunderclap.

The new surge generator gives an effect much nearer that of real lightning than has been obtained heretofore in the 1,000,000-volt laboratory.

Southern California's relative freedom from destructive thunderstorms is asserted to be due to the fact that during warmer months the prevailing winds from the ocean bring moisture from the cooler seaside to the warmer inland, so condensation, with resultant charging of rain particles, does not occur.

Thunderclouds are more likely to be formed in the summer when the heated air in many areas is raising moisture. So it is the fact that rain falls here only in the winter which robs California children of the thrill of stuffing fingers in ears and hiding in closets when Thor's hammer strikes.

THE first commercial aerial ambulance—one that will speed through the skies at 150 miles an hour—was placed in operation here yesterday.

It is owned by the California Aerial Transport and will be kept on call at the company's hangar at Los Angeles Municipal Airport.

When patients must be carried to hospitals or taken home to distant points and are not able to stand the jolts of a ground vehicle, the flying ambulance, a Lockheed-Vega with 425 horsepower Wasp motor, will be called into service.

Lawrence Talbott, president of the company, declared that there is a demand for such an air carrier here and that the craft will be at the disposal of hospitals, physicians and citizens.

Full equipment is contained in the closed cabin of the plane—form-fitting bed suspended from the roof so that it will remain level during flight, emergency medicine kit and room for a pilot, doctor and nurse. Dr. J. J. Durkin and Nurse L. A. Strange inspected the latest modification of air transportation on its delivery to Talbott.

yesterday, while representatives of the Glendale Broadway Radio-Electric Corporation, builders of the short-wave sending and receiving set, adjusted the radio.

If today's air trials are successful Goebel plans to leave for New York tomorrow or Wednesday. He will lash the plane to the deck of a steamer, land at Havre, France, and fly to Le Bourget Field, Paris, take-off point for the New York attempt.

Delivery of the plane was made to the Los Angeles pilot last Saturday by Carl Squier, manager of the Lockheed plant, in Burbank, a few minutes before Goebel took the blue-and-gold low-winged plane aloft on its maiden test trip.

car over the curbing, wrecked a mail box and plunged headlong into some heavy chains inclosing a parking lot at Tenth and Flower streets. Checked abruptly in its dash the car turned over twice, crushing Parker. Officers Haynes and Mitchell of Georgia-street division extricated Parker from the wreckage and removed him to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where he died a few hours later.

The death of Snyder resulted from hurts received two months ago when he was struck by a car while standing in a safety zone at Sunset Boulevard and Hill street. The car was driven, police records show, by Laubb Lewis, 526 Union Drive.

Mrs. Roberts, who lives at 1201 California street, Glendale, was in a car driven by Joe Fitzgerald, 1121 Lazanja street, Glendale. At Arroyo Boulevard and Holly street, Pasadena, the car left the road and struck a tree. Mrs. Roberts suffered a fractured skull. Fitzgerald is being held by the Pasadena police on suspicion of manslaughter and drunken driving.

Dunkle, who lived at 376 West Tenth street, San Pedro, was struck down by an unknown autoist at Pacific avenue and Tenth street, San Pedro, last night. He expired in San Pedro General Hospital. He sustained internal injuries.

ARRESTED TWICE

H. P. Blackstock, 34, of 5416 1-2 Denker avenue, was arrested twice within four hours Saturday night, first on a traffic violation charge and the second time on a charge of being drunk on private property. In the first case Officers Morrison and Farnam reported he drove his automobile into a parked machine at Venice Boulevard and Union avenue and was chased and captured by Motorcycle Officer Smith. When examined at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital police surgeons stated he was not intoxicated, so the officers gave him a citation for violation of Section 141-B of the State Motor Vehicle Act, for failing to stop after an accident in which no one is injured.

OTHERS ARRESTED

Woolin Mory, 34, of 24 C Paloma avenue, Venice, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Officer Cullings reported he chased Mory when he observed him driving in an erratic manner, and caught him when he drove his car into a telephone pole at Sixth street and Ceres avenue.

Lee Johnson, 39, of 1324 Newton street, was arrested on a charge of being drunk in an automobile for the third time after he narrowly missed running down J. C. Starkey of 440 North Dunham street at Central avenue and Newton street. The arrest was made by Officer Bledsoe who stated Starkey escaped injury only by leaping out of the way. Police records show Johnson was given three and four-day sentences, respectively on two prior offenses of the same kind.

Giles Walton, 29, 1062 North Normandie avenue, driving his car at Spalding avenue and the Pacific Electric right of way, near the Gardener Station, was struck by a Venice car last night. His machine was wrecked and he sustained a fractured skull and left leg. He was taken to Dickey & Cass Hospital and later to General Hospital, where it is said his injuries probably will prove fatal. The car was in charge of Motorman H. E. Baker and Conductor A. W. Freas, according to the police.

R. Handa, Route 2, San Bernardino, was injured probably fatally, when his machine turned over at Bree Canyon road and Valley Boulevard last evening. He sustained a fractured skull. A. Kawakami, who was riding with him sustained minor injuries. Handa was taken to Pomona Valley Hospital.

Even if he were always wrong, I would be for him on account of his courage and audacity. There are no "maybes" in his philosophy. He takes a squint at the sun and says it will rain at breakfast time next Fourth of July or Christmas—and sticks to his story.

GREETING GIVEN TO JOURNALISTS

depart on a Southern Pacific train at 4 p.m. for Yosemite Park.

"We thought we already knew a great deal of America," Felix Salten, a representative of the Neue Freie Presse of Vienna declared, "but our brief travels in this country convince us that our impressions, however interesting, will be only those of the surface."

Salten declared that the average newspaper reader of Europe had a good knowledge of American ways and life.

"Most people in Europe know the names of your statesmen, your great business leaders, know something of the geography of the nation and in addition the motion pictures produced in this country have been a great educational force," he said.

The Vienna newspaper man, who at one time was associated with the production of motion pictures in his own country, said there is a general criticism abroad of the "happy ending" of American-made film dramas.

"We of Europe like something a little more true to life," he said, "but perhaps with the great flow of European actors, actresses and writers to your film centers, we will see a change."

Prof. Alfred Herrmann from the Hamburger Fremdenblatt of Hamburg, Germany, who divides his time between jobs as chief editorial writer for his paper and instructor in political history in a Hamburg university, declared he is watching closely the contrast between social, political and economic conditions in his own country and those of America. He said the pace of German life has quickened since the war, and there are many evidences of American-like manners.

"We are more and more paying attention to sports in Germany," he said, "and where once the larger papers in Germany devoted little space to athletics, we now have two and three pages daily with a full six-page section on Monday."

Herr Herrmann told how he watched a White House press conference between President Hoover and the capital newspaper correspondents.

"The reporters sat or stood about the room, some of them with their hands in their pockets, asking questions freely and the President answered them directly," he said. There was no intermediary, the President talked directly to the press and that to my mind is an achievement of a real democracy."

Mayor Porter has issued this statement:

MAYOR'S STATEMENT

"Our budget for this year shows a decrease of $660,000. This is a great achievement, in that the census proves how much we have grown and expanded. The budget for last year was $25,660,000. This year we have lopped that $660,000 off the figures submitted in 1929, in the face of our rapidly growing population.

"There is much hope in the future for this great city. The bond election shows that our citizens have a forward look and believe in the future development of our water resources. This, coupled with the fact that our new budget shows our determination to be economical, makes the outlook much brighter. Eastern capital is looking toward Los Angeles as the city with a great future."

FINAL ORDER ENTERED

The land agent has notified the City Council that the final order in the condemnation suit across the Los Angeles Railway Corporation tracks at Second avenue and Santa Barbara avenue has been entered.

attack presented by juniors in connection with the dedication ceremonies at Los Angeles Municipal Airport. He won the sweepstakes and four other awards, amassing a total of tyelve points, four points more than Bob Harmon, the runner-up, and far in advance of Howard Evans, George Fugii and Richard Smiley.

The contest was in the form of an organized attack from the air, launched by miniature aircraft in the hands of their builders. Everything pursuit planes and bombers accomplished in real warfare was duplicated by the models. With navigation lights glowing, the little hand-made ships soared 100 feet above the airport, looping, banking and diving and dropping bombs and parachute-flares on the imaginary enemy stronghold.

The demonstration was witnessed by thousands who thronged the field for the dedicatory exercises and was judged by Ralph Borelli, Elwood V. Chandlee and R. R. Harmon.

Bandits Kidnap and Rob Parking Lot Attendant

Scores of persons leaving a nearby theater witnessed the hold-up and kidnaping of an attendant of a parking lot at Argyle and Hollywood Boulevard shortly before midnight. The hold-up was committed by two men who entered the lot while V. H. Cress, the attendant, was attempting to serve a half dozen customers who were calling for their cars.

Both bandits had guns and they ordered Cress into an expensive roadster. One of the robbers took the wheel and before the astonished customers could make a move the car roared out of the lot and west on Hollywood Boulevard. While one of the bandits drove the other kept his pistol plainly visible, but pressed against the breast of Cress.

Cress later telephoned the police that bandits had robbed him of $27 and then thrown him out of the car.

A half hour later M. E. Lewis, owner of a filling station at 2150 Venice Boulevard, was held up by two men and robbed of $15. He described the car as a roadster, similar to the one taken from the parking lot. Police were inclined to believe both robberies were committed by the same bandits.

NEW TUNNEL PLAN OFFER

Downtown Group Proposes Pedestrian Box [illegible] Los Angeles to Olive Street

At the suggestion of the Downtown Business Men's Association, City Council has asked City Engineer Jessup to report on the feasibility and cost of a pedestrian tunnel from Los Angeles to Olive streets, between Sixth and Seventh streets.

The matter will be considered this week by the Tunnels, Bridges and Viaducts Committee.

Jessup also will report on the matter of arcading the buildings fronting on both sides of Broadway from Fourth to Ninth streets and on Seventh street from Spring street to Grand avenue. This proposition has been discussed by city officials in the past.

The suggestion of the five-block tunnel came to the association, according to Managing Director N. P. Alexander, from W. Ross Campbell, a member of the association.

President Baker of the City Planning Commission is inclined to believe that such a tunnel will interfere with rapid-transit plans.

PARTY RESULTS IN ARREST

WITH the promise of growers that their most exquisite blooms will be on display when the sixth annual gladiolus show opens at the Biltmore on Thursday next, officials of the California Gladiolus Society today will complete final preparations for the event.

At least one exhibitor is to have more than 150 varieties of gladiolus in his display, which will include 2800 individual spikes in a range of colors making a floral rainbow. Upward of 500,000 blooms will be used to create the illusion of an outdoor sunken garden in the large exhibit room.

Last-minute entries indicate that at least 200 displays will be made by amateur and professional growers who will vie for hundreds of valuable prizes for original ideas showing varied uses of the gladiolus.

SWIMMING CLASSES TO OPEN FOR GIRLS

JURY OF ELEVEN TO DECIDE CASE

First Instance of Kind in This City's Federal Court

Nearly Half-Million Involved in Ten Week's Fight

Trial That of Group in Texas Oil Promotion Project

Eleven jurors, for the first time in the history of the local Federal court, today will be given a case to decide involving nearly $500,000. It is the case of A. F. Luse, head of the Southern States Production Company, and others who are co-defendants. It has been on trial in the court of United States District Judge James for ten weeks.

It is charged by Asst. U. S. Attys. Redwine and Gallagher that the defendants misrepresented that the company had title to oil lands in Texas. Other defendants are Miss Anna Morrison, secretary of the company; S. J. Price, G. C. Leach and E. A. McClintock.

According to testimony the company maintained an office in Los Angeles and sold a large number of oil-land leases in Texas. Paul Schenck and D. G. Taylor, defense attorneys, asserted that the defendants lived up to the contracts given the various persons, who said they lost by their investments.

When one of the jurors became ill, the government and defense attorneys stipulated, according to a recent law, that eleven jurors could decide the case.

SOUTHLAND IN RACE FOR CONVENTION

Local Legionnaires Will Make Bid for Veterans' Conclave Next Year

Beginning an intensive drive to raise funds for a campaign to bring the 1931 national convention of the American Legion to Los Angeles, plans are announced for a rally of Legionnaires at the Hayward Hotel Sunday, next.

Sponsored by the 1931 American Legion National Convention Committee, composed of representative members of the veterans' organization from all over the State, efforts are being made to finance a trip to the national convention in Boston this year, where the Californians will bid for next year's conclave. Andrew J. Copp, Jr., prominent in Legion activities here, will preside at the meeting next week. The rally will open with a dinner scheduled for 7:15 p.m.

In making known the plans yesterday Tom H. Allen, chairman, urged that every member of Legion posts in the vicinity of Los Angeles make an effort to attend, as the obtaining next year of the convention will mean much to the organization in this State.

Among those who will attend the dinner are: Phil Dodson, national committeeman; B. W. Gearhart of Fresno, State chairman of community betterment; E. Snapper Ingram, City Councilman and national head of the Forty-and-Eight; Charles McGonegal, commander Los Angeles County Council, and Judge Leonard Wilson.

STUDENTS CRAM FOR LAW QUIZ

Record Group Will Take Bar Examinations Here Early in August

Graduating exercises mean the beginning of a period of real study for several hundred Los Angeles students.

The students are among the 425 who have registered with the Los Angeles office of the State Bar for the law examinations to be held here on August 4, 5, 6 and 7. A total of 274 others have applied to take the quizzes to be held in San Francisco on the same dates.

Fred P. Luke, local secretary of the examining committee, said the group of applicants is the largest in the history of California.

Many who failed to pass the last examinations have entered the lists again. The last test was held in April and out of the total of 366 applicants who took the examination here only 130 passed. At San Francisco, 203 were examined and eighty-five passed.

The recent Los Angeles session of the State Supreme Court was marked by the admission to practice of 165 attorneys.

Rolph to Begin Campaign Here

Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, will arrive at noon today to begin a week's speaking tour of Southern California in behalf of his candidacy.

Tonight he will speak before the San Fernando Valley Women's Republican Club at Van Nuys. Tomorrow he is to address a meeting of a State Retail Shoe Dealers' Association at San Diego and on Wednesday will talk before the Los Angeles Civic League.

Other meetings to be attended by the Mayor during the week include the Foothill Breakfast Club, the local Kiwanis Club and the Jesters' convention on Thursday and the Los Angeles Republican Study Club on Friday. He will be Flag Day speaker at Avalon on Saturday. On the 17th inst. he will address the Santa Monica Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church.

Today's Bible Text

For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory; while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.—2 Cor. iv:17, 18.

PROFESSOR
Charles H. Tugwood of Volcano, Cal., reports a professor so absent-minded, that he kissed a pancake and poured syrup over his wife.

WAR NEWS
Another revolution must be brewing in Bolivia. A news dispatch says that Dr. Siles will return to the Presidency next August.

SHOWING 'EM OFF
One naturally is drawn toward the conclusion that Gov. Long of Louisiana pays more, proportionately, for his pajamas and underwear.

WHY BE MISERABLE?
The center of population in the United States is moving west and south. The people are learning that the struggle for existence is more endurable under ideal climatic conditions.

DUST
The spiffy new police uniforms will bring joy not only to the people who see cops, but coppers to the tills of the dry cleaners and those who sell cleaning fluids.

WIND CHANGES AGAIN
News from Indiana, following that from Florida and other places, indicates that the Literary Digest vote was taken too early in the season. The weather always is wetter in the early spring.

BLOODTHIRSTY
Eighteen thousand people paid to see Primo Carnera flatten another victim. Evidently the desire to see a fellow-being knocked cold outweighs the verdicts of the boxing commissions in the eyes of the fight fans.

AIRY STYLES
Published photographs of Amy Johnson confirm the news reports that the girl who flew from England to Australia in nineteen days wore shirts and shorts. And the pictures should score heavily against the Paris style-makers who are trying to curb female freedom.

TOLERANCE
An unsolicited contribution of $25,000 from John D., Jr., toward New York Catholic charities was accompanied by a letter which said, "Sympathy which reaches out to relieve suffering and to increase happiness knows no sectarian divisions." Let us banish them from politics, too.

IN GOOD HANDS
In giving its chairmanship for another year to A. C. Rees of Salt Lake City, the American Plan Open-Shop Conference continues its destinies in good hands. A. C. Rees has had the headship of this conference since its beginning in 1921 and has been a hard fighter for the true interests of both employers and employees all over the country and a strong proponent of industrial peace.

Mr. Rees set up in a recent speech an industrial code of ten sections, too long for quotation here, which ought to be taken as a model for the establishment of good industrial relations. One of its cogent paragraphs reads: "Any organization, either of management or men, that condones, teaches or practices the lowering of personal efficiency, the limitation of output, or discrimination against men on account of their affiliations; or that results in creating discord between employees or between employers and employees, is not entitled to recognition and has no place in industry."

This code was based upon "the right to pursue unhindered one's chosen profession or vocation; the right to choose one's affiliations; the right to work; the right to labor for oneself and one's dependents; the right to rear one's family in respectability," which, he said, were all required, in unobstructed enjoyment, for human happiness.

In such a program capital and labor can join and find a great deal more profit than is to be discovered in antagonism.

FOR PARTY VITALITY
Members of the Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee voting at Pomona the other day to censure Gov. Young for the Governor's lack of party loyalty have performed a service of genuine importance not only to the cause of the Republican party, but to the community and the State.

Apart from the chagrin of the political adherents of Gov. Young and the natural elation of the Governor's political foes, the committee resolution expressing sharp disagreement with Young's renewed espousal of nonpartisanism is certain to have a beneficial effect on party organization here and elsewhere in California.

Political parties, forming a necessary part of our economic and social life, are wholly the product of the collective principles, ideals and purposes of their membership and they are useful in public service only when well organized and loyally supported both by the rank and file and by their leaders.

By their very nature, political parties represent greater security to orderly government than the temporary and untested programs and pledges of an individual. Party platforms and policies represent collective judgment based on knowledge, experience, investigation. The political party is a continuing agency, with a solid background of known performances, growing stronger and increasing in ability or gradually declining and disappearing strictly on a basis of public service. A party pledge and guarantee has the weight of mass responsibility behind it. At best, the individual declining party allegiance presents either an entirely selfish appeal or one emanating from temporary and untested purposes and theories.

Political sentiment in California is overwhelmingly Republican, and hence the schemes and plans of a relatively small group of professional politicians within the party have for the most part failed to misuse or exploit party action. Such exploitation, however, has occurred from time to time and Gov. Young is a member of the clique chiefly responsible for this condition.

He is less a Republican than a member of a political machine operated by those seeking control of party affairs and his admission of disregard for party obligation is consistent.

Mr. Young, lacking the qualities of genuine leadership, has for two decades been a cog in the wheel of the Johnson-McCabe political machine. This machine has not been a beneficial instrument. It has furthered the personal ambitions of its bosses and it has been used whenever and wherever possible to strangle independent action of the Republican party.

The type of political procedure advocated by Gov. Young is destructive of party organization, conducive of party disloyalty and calculated to destroy confidence in party responsibility.

Hence, in declaring themselves in "complete disagreement" with the Governor's views on Republican loyalty, the Republicans of Los Angeles have taken a stand for a party more responsive to the people as a whole and a party in less danger of domination by political boss, machine or demagogue.

NO USURY CONSPIRACY
Acquittal of the sixteen defendants in the so-called Julian usury case on trial for several weeks before Superior Judge Aggeler brings to a close one of the most unusual legal proceedings in the history of the local courts and at the same time definitely and permanently clears up one aspect of the Julian crash which has long tended to obscure the main issue therein.

Virtually all of the defendants are prominent in the business, professional and fraternal life of Southern California. They were indicted first in 1927 during the rising tide of indignation and confusion growing out of the tragic collapse of the Julian Petroleum Corporation. Despite the fact that the defendants were accused of entering into a conspiracy to commit usury, an offense in no way related to the over-issue and looting of Julian stock, they have been pilloried from time to time by uninformed or unfriendly sources as actual participants in the oil company's destruction.

Calling the defendants into his court two years ago, Superior Judge Doran, explaining that his action was taken without the advice or knowledge of the then District Attorney, Asa Keyes, ordered the cases against them dismissed in the interests of justice.

The 1930 grand jury, without extensive investigation of the evidence and information gathered by the 1927 inquisitorial body, and ignoring the action taken by Judge Doran, returned new indictments on the old evidence and instructed the District Attorney to try the issue.

The contention of the defendants that their dealings with the Julian corporation constituted nothing more than the purchase of stock, and was not in the nature of a loan, was approved by Judge Aggeler in his decision last Friday, the court holding that no evidence had been presented showing or tending to show a usury conspiracy.

Thus, in an exhaustive sifting of the facts, the defendants involved are shown to have been innocent of any corrupt or criminal intent. Their trial under a criminal complaint was based on a legal technicality at best, inasmuch as the offense charged is a misdemeanor in its original purpose and becomes a technical felony only under the meaning of the statute relating to conspiracy.

It now seems that an outright dismissal of the case just concluded would not have been beyond the limits of simple justice, and while this course doubtless would have been welcomed by those on trial as a vindication of their conduct, the actual trial and acquittal have served a larger purpose by removing any stigma that might have attached to the defendants in the absence of an open and full exoneration by the court after a hearing of the facts.

The District Attorney's office is to be commended for courageously carrying out under considerable handicaps a task that was not self-imposed and which doubtless was distasteful under the circumstances.

Of Course She Said It Sweetly

Gushers nearly always overdo it. A woman whose wealth is very new and who never learned any foreign language, or even the domestic very well, tried to show her cultured appreciation at a drawing-room recital in Hollywood the other evening.

"That tenor is simply divine," she enthusiastically told her hostess. "His voice is so beautiful and I could understand every word he said. I surely admire your taste."

"Indeed!" said the hostess, smiling. "And how would you like a little group of French songs for the next number?"

"Oh, no, please, let's stick to good, plain English. I can't understand a word of French, and I do so enjoy understanding every word."

"How very remarkable! You know, all the songs he has sung so far have been in French, my love."

Dogs and Cats

A reader takes up the cudgels for Minou, our cat, charging that we evinced an unfair attitude toward Minou when he assassinated a trustful quail which was sitting on its nest in our back yard. "Judging from the way you write about them," she says, "you would feel, if Brownie, your neardale, captured a bird, that he was a remarkably clever dog. But when your cat does it you class him almost as a murderer. Cats are useful, catching mice, gophers and other pests. Most city dogs are quite useless. They bark and keep people awake nights. I can't see why men love dogs so much better than cats. Cats are three times as affectionate and cuddly."

Well, to tell the truth, we never walked a mile for a camel, but we certainly would walk one for a cat to which we had grown attached. Yet we confess we prefer dogs, and will do our feeble best to enlighten the clearly unbiased lady who accuses us of bias.

Last summer we had to be away for three days, the whole family of us, and we left Brownie with a neighbor. But Brownie broke out of jail and searched for us. He showed up at the homes of friends living miles away, sniffing anxiously and peering in hopefully, but when he saw we were not there would not even stop for lunch. He went to every place his memory told him we might be. Each night, the neighbors said, he showed up at our house, nosed all around it and then trotted disconsolately away. He belonged to us and whither we had gone he wanted to be going.

He was not at home when we got home the third evening. He did not get home for long hours afterward. And then his feet were bleeding from constant travel and his coat smelled strongly of blue sage, as it always does when we take him on a hike up Mt. Wilson. We knew that, failing to find us elsewhere, he had trotted over the mountain trails on which he had accompanied us.

When he saw us he just dropped down, happily, on the porch and went to sleep. He was too tired and weak even to lap water or warm milk.

There are a lot of reasons why we love Brownie. The other day baby Sylvia ran away and only Brownie saw her going. Straight down the middle of the street she ran and Brownie ran circles around her, barking. Motorists slowed down and a neighbor captured the runaway and phoned us. Four of our five children have ridden, sat on, pinched and affectionately abused Brownie in their babyhood and he has been their protector. But it is his unquestioning fidelity which endears him most.

Cats, on the Other Hand

Minou, too, is astonishingly good to children. Sometimes Sylvia almost kills him with kindness, but never once has he scratched her. He does catch mice and gophers—in fact, he's the best gopher trap we ever saw. But we have had to move twice within the last few weeks and both times Minou hid and refused to move with us. We had to go back to the old house several times to catch him and when we did he scratched and clawed his way out of our arms and hid again. Once he got away from us, once from our helpspend and once from the children. But the fourth time we held him so in our coat that he couldn't scratch and managed to transport him to our new home. Once he felt at home there he was all right, but when the alterations were finished and we moved back to our original home he again hid out. He was craftier that time—distrustful of all efforts to lure him from the house he had come to look on as home and it took the whole family hours of effort to capture him again. He did not scratch us then, but he did try hard to get away. Yet once we got him back to his original home he was as content as ever.

It seems that dogs have an inexplicable loyalty to people while cats have an inexplicable loyalty to houses. It might be good for Southern California if more of us could get catty in that respect and stay in the same place long enough to take root. But all the same, we confess we prefer dogs, fond as we are of Minou.

AIRPORT DEDICATED
With the dedication of the Los Angeles municipal airport the city is now ready to accommodate commercial and privately owned aircraft and the air fleets of the army and navy in the increasing numbers certain to attend the coming progress in transportation by air. The dedication marks the status of Southern California as a prime contender for first air travel honors in the next decade.

The two-day formal dedication presented an occasion for exhibiting the spectacular side of man's conquest of the most unstable element, after centuries of inability to master the secret of the birds. It was, therefore, chiefly an exhibit of the romance and poetry, the dramatic side of this last addition to man's ambitious program to conquer time and space.

Behind this dedication, however, is the solid determination of the builders and operators of all kinds of aircraft and their accessories to make Los Angeles the Detroit of the airplane business. Thus the possession of our own airport, commodious, modern and equipped to the moment, forms another springboard from which we may leap from the census of 1930 to yet longer giant strides by the time the next census taking rolls along.

Nor is it likely, with the inevitable advance in the number of airplanes and the call involved for still further accommodation of aircraft, that Los Angeles will rest content with its present achievements in supplying airports. We look forward to immense activity in the building of aircraft and the extension of aviation in the near future. And we believe that Southern California is destined to get its fair share of the big business connected with all branches of this movement. Dedication of our municipal airdrome is an earnest that we are alive to the great future ahead of aviation.

ENJOYING THE TRIP
Twenty-four passengers on the Graf wrote 5000 letters and post cards in twelve days. Not much time for sightseeing. The letters cost $1.30 each and the post cards 65 cents.

NOT IN THE DARK
Doran declares that New York City police officials are hampering enforcement "in many obscure ways." There is nothing obscure about totally ignoring a condition.

THEM WAS THE GOOD OLD DAYS
By James J. Montague

Though still the hayseed scents the breeze
In zones once called The Sticks,
No more along the lane one sees
The rustic race of hicks.
The lass who once said: "Mar an' Par,
Won't be t'hum today,"
Now speaks the late vernacular
Prevailing on Broadway.
No infant "Si" drives the cow,
The urchin's name is Rudy now.

The gentle daughter of the grange,
With freckles on her ears,
Has undergone a certain change
Within the last few years.
She does not rise at dawn to milk,
Nor wear a ragged wrapper,
She clothes her form in shiny silk
Like any other flapper.
And hopes some day that she'll make good
In leading roles at Hollywood.

Oh, simple, swee rusticity
And soft bucolic charm,
Which in our youth we used to see
Upon the dear old farm!
We find alone in yesterday
The quaintness that we prized,
The people of the U.S.A.
Have all been standardized.
No countryside can be elysian

CHOOSING YOUR CAREER

XIX

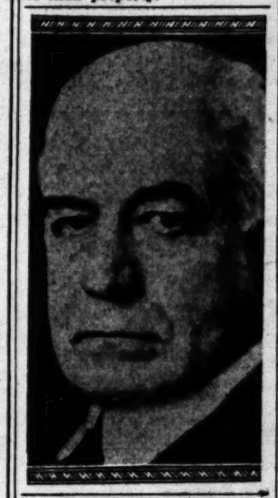
LIGHT AND POWER

BY GEORGE B. CORTELYOU

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

[George B. Cortelyou is president of the Consolidated Gas Company of New York and a director in many public utility corporations. He began his career as a private secretary. He was secretary to Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt, first Secretary of the Department of Commerce and later Postmaster-General and Secretary of the Treasury.]

The gas and electric light and power utilities are, as is well known, regulated industries. The rates they charge are controlled by public authority. They are permitted to earn no more than a fair return on the value of their property.



As an offset to this, they usually enjoy exclusive franchises within the territories they serve and are thus relieved of competition one with another.

Nevertheless, a large and increasing percentage of their business is competitive. Large-scale industrial uses are mainly of this character.

Keeping in mind the distinctions between the utility business and other kinds of business, what do the utilities offer you young men about to choose your life work and what do they demand of you?

They offer you a permanent business. So far as we can tell, both gas and electric service are here to stay. Every day new uses for them are found and all indications point to their permanency in our homes and industries.

They offer you a growing business. Both gas and electric service show a continuous growth over a period of years. Indeed, the growth of the light and power business has been one of the outstanding phenomena of the past decade. Taking the industries together, the capital invested in them today is not far from $13,000,000,000 and is increasing at the rate of a billion or more a year.

They offer you a stable business. It is not subject to sudden and violent fluctuations. Its income base is so broad and diversified that it is not affected seriously by depressions in particular industries.

They offer you a many-sided business. It performs all the functions of the manufacturer, transporter, wholesaler and retailer. It takes its products through the complete cycle of operations from the coal pile to the consumer. Many and varied services are required in the process. Its customers are the entire public, and "service" is its watchword.

Now, what do they demand of you?

Much, of course, depends upon which department of the business you desire to enter. If it is one of the engineering departments, then you should have a sound theoretical training, preferably in some technical school or college. If the accounting department, then you should know something of the principles of accounting. If the sales department, you should know something of and be keenly interested in salesmanship. And so on through the other departments.

In whatever department you enter you will find yourself in the company of others who, like you, are striving to advance themselves. If you are observing, you will soon see in what directions you can better your chances of promotion. You will, for example, take advantage of such educational facilities as your company offers that will make you a more efficient employee.

You will cultivate an inquiring and receptive mind and you will talk with older men who know the business and can give you helpful information and advice. You will read books and magazines that deal with the utility industry and its problems. You will neglect no opportunity for self-improvement.

While permitting yourself a proper amount of amusement and recreation, you will not allow these or other outside interests to divert you from your main objective, which is to make a success of your job. One of your greatest assets is your health and you will need to take particular care of it, for if it becomes impaired you are under a serious handicap.

You should not become discouraged if your advancement in the beginning is not as rapid as you had hoped. You should remember that it is not the start of the race but the finish that counts; and that the higher executives of your company are as anxious that you should progress to the limit of your capacity as you are. They much prefer to develop executive material within the ranks of the organization.

Probably no other business has so many public contacts as the utility business. Certainly none is more affected for good or ill by public opinion. It cannot succeed without the good will of its customers. Success depends chiefly upon two factors: rates and service. It should be the constant aim to lower the one and raise the other.

To you young men to whom such a prospect of public service appeals the utility field offers ample scope for whatever abilities you possess, and it demands of you that you shall truly represent and embody the spirit of service for which every public utility should stand.

If these conditions are met, you will have your full measure of material rewards and personal satisfaction.

LIGHT AND POWER

By The Foothill Philosopher

We had the good fortune to attend the corner-stone-laying ceremonies for the Southern California Edison Company's magnificent new office building and were struck by the fact that, as the president of the company cemented the great stone into its place, the chimes from the tower of a near-by church sent vibrating upon the air the golden tones of "Lead, Kindly Light." Whether the coincidence was accidental or providential, it seemed beautifully appropriate that while a building was being dedicated to the purpose of serving a great community with light and power for use in work and pleasure, the heavenly Bureau of Light and Power, through another material agency, was pleading with men to remember the Source of material blessings and spiritual qualities.

Wonderful as is the power that comes to us by wire from above and under the earth, useful and comforting as is the light transmitted to us from the great plants of the electric companies, magical as is the music that reaches our ears through the ether from far-off places, these all are but symbols of the divine power, glorious light and transcendent harmonies that man may know and enjoy if he sits still within the temple of his own heart, meditating upon the intangible, ineffable beauty and goodness of life. And, because power, light and tone are one in essence, the soul that, with reverence, enters the temple of silence in which abide the twin angels of Love and Truth, can convert, at will, power into light or light into power and can transmute the waves of thought and emotion into songs of joy the very memory of which will lift his daily life out of the commonplace into the kingdom of gladness.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Outdoor Sports?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

There is a cool tang to the air on the outdoor athletic field of Banning Evening High School. Huge flood lights make match games possible—in baseball, basketball and tennis. The school is at 1500 North Avalon Boulevard, Wilmington. There is no charge for the use of the field, nor for tuition, but students must furnish gym suits and shoes, which should not total more than $2.50.

The indoor equipment is also free to the public and includes a handball court, mats for tumbling, boxing and wrestling and various apparatus for developing or corrective gymnastics. At all times, students have the free advice of Merle R. Helbach, who formerly played end on the University of California football team and who won a "C" there in boxing. He later played semi-professional baseball.

Men's athletics are on Monday and Wednesday and Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 to 9. Women's classes in games, dancing and gymnastics are on Monday and Wednesday evenings, 7 to 9. All classes are free.

At 9 tonight Jeanne Dunn will be soloist with the Van Dyne orchestra in an hour of "discreet rhythms and blues." At 10 tonight Felipe Delgado, Spanish baritone, will delight you with thirty minutes of Latin song.

KNX at 7 tonight offers "Under the Makeup" with a party at an English comedian's apartment after the show. After the show the whole cast, including the orchestra, is to storm the apartment. WASHING "GUN" ALSO DEADLY

Inventor's Demise Laid to Chill in Demonstrating Automobile Device

As he was giving a demonstration of an automobile-washing "gun" he had invented, Michael Samuel Gooley got wet, took cold and died, it is said by Attorney Earl Wakeman, who filed Gooley's will for probate.

The decedent left his $12,000 estate to his wife, in addition to patents on the gun, which Mrs. Gooley expects will prove valuable. Gooley died March 21, last.

ATTIC MURDER RULING SLATED

Court to Decide Question of Separate Trial Today

Motion Made by Attorney for Mrs. Oesterreich

Sanity Angle in Sanhuber's Case Ground for Plea

Decision is scheduled for today on whether or not Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich is entitled to a trial separate from that of Otto Sanhuber, both being charged with the murder of Fred Oesterreich in Los Angeles on August 22, 1922. Superior Judge Hardy will approve or deny the motion of her attorney, Jerry Geisler.

The motion was introduced in Judge Hardy's court Thursday. It asked for a separate trial for Mrs. Oesterreich chiefly on grounds that Sanhuber is to be tried as to his sanity. In view of this fact, Mrs. Oesterreich contends, she should be granted a separate trial, so that she can conduct an unprejudiced defense to the death charge.

Shortly after his arrest Sanhuber confessed to shooting Oesterreich, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello. In this asserted confession Sanhuber stated that he had lived for eleven years in secret rooms in the Oesterreich homes in Milwaukee and Los Angeles because of a strange fascination for Mrs. Oesterreich.

When the evidence was presented to the grand jury, Sanhuber was indicted and charged with the murder. A week later the matter was reconsidered and Mrs. Oesterreich also was named as a defendant in the case.

BOWLING GREENS ASKED

Representations of urgent need of additional greens in Los Angeles parks by the Southern California Lawn Bowling Association in order to bring the world's bowling tournament to Los Angeles here in 1932, during the Olympic Games has been referred by the Park Board to Supt. Shearer for investigation and report.

COIN-BOX ROBBERS JAILED

An ingenious scheme for obtaining money by prying open perfuming vending machines in Santa Fe railway stations resulted in Dr. Roy Ankenbrand, 25-year-old chiropractor, and Wilfred E. Collatz, 32, his traveling companion, viewing the City Jail from the inside after they had been taken before the municipal courts on petty-theft charges. Each of the men was sentenced to serve sixty days in jail, Collatz when he pleaded guilty before Judge Curtis, and Ankenbrand after a trial before Judge Stafford in which he was found guilty.

W. A. Thomas, special agent for the railway company, reported that he had trailed the two men from Albuquerque, N. M., and that nine different stations had had their perfume machines broken and robbed. The Pasadena station machine was broken shortly before the two men were arrested in the waiting room of the station here, he said.

Pair Will Hear Sentence Today

Frank J. Pritchett, formerly cashier of the First National Bank of Culver City, and E. H. Grose, a jeweler, are scheduled to appear before United States District Judge Cosgrave for sentence. Pritchett was convicted on five counts of misapplication of bank funds and Grose was convicted of five counts of aiding in the asserted misapplications.

R. R. Westfall, who was jointly accused, pleaded guilty and testified on behalf of the government. Pritchett's activities are reported by Asst. U. S. Atty. Layng to have been more than $100,000.

Tradition goes Up in Smoke as Women Puff

Ann Harding

A telegram from her mother in St. Louis completely rearranged the life of Ann Harding, actress, yesterday morning in a manner that sounds like interesting fiction.

Five generations of Miss Harding's family, covering a time span of more than a century, have lived on their estate known as the Capt. James Vermillion plantation of about 350 acres near Norton, Va. In all that time not a leaf of tobacco ever has been raised on the property, although it is in the heart of the richest tobacco country in Virginia. It has been a tradition of the family from the very first that tobacco was objectionable to women, therefore, tobacco was eliminated, just as it was when Nathan Hale owned the same plantation before he sold it to the Vermillion family.

Miss Harding's mother, now in control of the property, has maintained the family tradition until a week or so ago when she attended some sort of a function in St. Louis, where many of the women were smoking. The mother made other inquiries on the subject, and decided that the tradition had become obsolete—then she wired her daughter in Los Angeles of her decision, suggesting that the two of them go back to the family home and take personal charge of the place with intention of raising tobacco. It is estimated by Miss Harding that the income of the plantation will be tripled, and she started eastward in a T.A.T.-Maddux plane for fear her mother might change her mind.

ROCK HEARING NEARS END

Proceedings May be Completed Tomorrow in Fight Over Referendum Petitions

More findings of fact will be presented to Superior Judge Tryon tomorrow in the injunction proceedings brought by Wilkie Woodard, a taxpayer, to restrain City Clerk Domingues from certifying petitions for a referendum election on zoning ordinances passed by the city, which permit the operation of rock-crushing plants in the Santa Monica Mountains.

Attorneys for both sides will spend their time today, outside of court, going over the transcript of the proceedings up to date which have consisted largely in checking up on the names of about forty-five persons who circulated the petitions for the referendum. Efforts are being made to determine whether the circulators were legal residents and voters in the areas in which they worked.

It is expected that the hearing before Judge Tryon will be completed tomorrow, after which the judge will certify to the findings which will then be presented immediately to the Supreme Court.

The plaintiff has a petition for a writ of mandamus pending in the Supreme Court.

After the matter is in the higher court attorneys for the City Clerk will be allowed fifty days in which to file their briefs. It probably will be late in August or September before there is a final ruling in the case.

Woodard seeks to enjoin the City Clerk from certifying to the sufficiency of the referendum petitions on the grounds they do not contain a sufficient number of signatures of legal voters; also on the grounds of irregularities in circulation.

"Gas Attack" Source Being Investigated

Deputies of the Sheriff's homicide squad today will further their investigation to determine the source of a strange and overpowering gas which last Friday night invaded the home of Benjamin J. Williams, 2435 Flower street, Walnut Park, and routed him, his wife and two grandsons from the house. Having discarded the theory that burglars loosed the gas preparatory to robbing the house, the officers will inspect an ice-making apparatus in the belief there may have been a leakage of ammonia.

Williams was reading to his grandsons, Robert Hodgson, 15 years of age, and Richard, 10. His wife had retired. An overpowering odor, accompanied by a burning sensation in their nostrils, suddenly assailed the family. All rushed outdoors, returning later to air the house and being almost overcome again by the mysterious fumes. The first investigating officers also reported being nearly overcome shortly after arrival at the house. Investigation thus far has failed to disclose the cause of the odor.

Party Arranged for City Planner

Planned as a semipublic farewell party, Gordon Whitnall, retiring director of the City Planning Commission, will be honored at a luncheon to be given at the City Club next Saturday. C. J. S. Williamson, manager of the real-estate and civic-development department of the Chamber of Commerce is in charge of arrangements.

Whitnall's resignation was announced several weeks ago. He said he will engage in private practice. He has been identified with planning activity in this city since 1913.

Mail-Fraud Case Put Off to July

Elmer B. Jeffries, head of the Jeffries Automatic Service Company, venders of automatic sandwich machines, will go to trial the second time before United States District Judge Cosgrave on July 15.

Through an arrangement between the court, Asst. U. S. Atty. Redwine and defense counsel, the case was set down for another trial. Jeffries is accused of using the mails to defraud in connection with the promotion of his company. He was once tried, but was granted a new trial by United States District Judge Pollock.

DRAIN FUNDS ASKED

The Board of Public Works has asked the City Council to appropriate $735 to cover the cost of culvert work at the northwest corner of Sunset Boulevard and Echo Park avenue to drain overflow water from the sidewalk. The Council transmitted this request to the Public Works Committee.

NEW TARIFF TO BE TOPIC AT MEETING

Tentative Regulations Will be Discussed at Chamber Luncheon

Tentative regulations proposed under the administrative provisions of the new tariff will be discussed at the weekly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce harbor and foreign commerce committee tomorrow noon. At the suggestion of Collector of Customs Schwaebe, invitations to the meeting have been sent out by Clarence H. Matson, manager of the chamber department of foreign commerce and shipping, to local customhouse officials, customhouse brokers, representatives of common carriers, importers and others interested in foreign trade.

The object of the discussion is to develop suggestions and criticisms of the new regulations, in view of the fact that they seriously affect carriers and importers of foreign merchandise, the issuance of delivery permits and the production of bills of lading, certificates of ownership with duplicate bills of lading, etc.

Rattlesnake Bite Antidote Row Revealed

Coincidentally opportune perhaps was the biting of Little Chief White Eagle, 49-year-old Indian, by a rattlesnake in a Main-street show simultaneously with the published report yesterday of Dr. Walter M. Dickie, State Director of Public Health, on "don'ts" for victims of the rattling reptile.

Dr. Dickie declared that potassium permanganate, which anglers and nimrods have carried for years in the mountains, is of small value as an antidote, so he says "don't use it." It is still used, however, by police surgeons here, who disagree somewhat with Dr. Dickie.

The biting of Little Chief White Eagle reveals that police surgeons at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital now use an antivenom extract which is injected into the victim. This was used as an antidote for the Indian, and he was removed to the General Hospital yesterday in much improved condition. He was bitten on the right thumb.

The taking of precautionary measures against rattlesnake bite is one of the first thoughts of the hundreds of thousands of vacationists and anglers in the California mountains at this season. Police surgeons here all agree that every camper should carry a small bottle of the potassium permanganate crystals as an antidote.

Smuggler Up Today on Three New Charges

John Frank Smith, 24 years of age, who now is facing a sentence of a year and a day in McNeil Island Federal prison, is scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge Cosgrave on three different charges, all involving the asserted smuggling of alien Chinese into this country from Mexico.

Smith was convicted of smuggling Chinese into the United States. While his case was pending he was rearrested on three charges, one for asserted perjury in testimony he gave during his first trial and one for conspiracy to bring nine alien Chinese into the country from Mexico in April, this year. Another indictment charges him with the overt act of bringing the Chinese into the country. All three cases are to come up today before Judge Cosgrave to be set for trial.

The assessment district map for the improvement of Denker avenue from Eighty-fifth street to Manchester avenue, submitted by the City Engineer, has been referred by the City Council to the Public Works Committee.

THOUSANDS SEE SIXTEEN RESCUES AT MANHATTAN

MANHATTAN BEACH, June 8. (Exclusive)—Sixteen persons were dragged from the surf here today before the eyes of 35,000 persons who thronged the beach for the first time as charges of the Los Angeles County Playground Department. The beach last Sunday fell under the jurisdiction of the county, but was visited by no sizeable crowd until today.

Only four of the rescues were of persons in serious danger, the others being principally cases of fright and near-exhaustion.

Mrs. A. Delaney of 1153 1-4 West Ninety-fourth street, Los Angeles, fainted in the surf while witnessing another rescue. Lifeguards went to her aid and brought her ashore, where she was revived.

Bergero Peterson of 2123 West Seventy-eighth Place, Los Angeles, suffered a heart attack in the water. He, too, was rescued, revived and sent home.

Claude Dillon of 4903 Estrella avenue, Los Angeles, was seized with cramps while swimming beyond the breakers. Swift response by the guards saved his life. He is in Hermosa-Redondo Hospital.

J. H. Nelson of 211 Forty-first street, Los Angeles, sank when overcome by exhaustion. Other swimmers announced his distress and lifeguards brought him in and resuscitated him.

Sixteen county lifeguards now patrol the beach here. They are commanded by Victor Hostetter.

"The Love Racket"

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

NOW the Edgar Selwyn office has picked the Pacific Coast as a tryout spot for a new play.

PAUL MUNI

"The Man Saul," a new piece by Sidney Buchman, will be tested at the Pasadena Community Playhouse in July. Paul Muni, who hasn't been seen on the stage in a long time, not, in fact, since he joined the picture colony, will, with Morgan Farley, appear in "The Man Saul," which is not a biblical story, but a tale of two brothers.

Richard W. Krakeur, general manager for Selwyn, will come here from New York shortly to make arrangements for staging the play and to confer with Selwyn, now in Hollywood, about next season's plans. Buchman, incidentally, has another play coming along. It is "Storm Song," and is to be produced by Sam H. Harris.

Before "The Man Saul" arrives, the Pasadenans will do "Marco's Millions" with Harrison Ford and Beatrice Prentice. This is due the 19th inst., and will be quite one of the most pretentious productions of the year, notwithstanding that it arrives in what the Pasadena Players usually think of as the hot weather doldrums.

New Vine-street Play

Percy Haswell, Vernon Steele, Dulcy Cooper, Pierre White, Clarence Muse and Albertina Pickens are in the cast.

Glendinning at El Capitan

Ernest Glendinning, who played with Gertrude Lawrence last season in New York in "Candle Light," is going to have the principal role opposite Minna Gombell in "Nancy's Private Affair" starting next Sunday at El Capitan Theater. Glendinning, a Broadway leading man, was in the original production of "Nancy's Private Affair."

ERNEST GLENDINNING

Two other fairly well-known leading men, Leyland Hodgson, seen lately with Lenore Ulric in "East of Suez," and Donald Douglas, who sang in "Follow Thru," are in this show. Then there will be Kathryn Givney, Mia Marvin, Effie Afton, Donald Campbell and Margaret Booth.

"Brothers," with Bert Lytell, is on the calendar to close Saturday, to make way for the new show.

Society Women in Show

Dan Slattery, Erlanger representative in charge of production of "Subway Express" at the Mason the 30th inst., murmured something yesterday about getting two or three Los Angeles society leaders to take parts in the show, which has a cast of more than forty persons. He wouldn't be definite.

Rehearsals for "Subway Express" are scheduled to start at the Mason this morning. From New York comes word that the two young women who wrote "Subway Express" have another play on the way. They are Martha Madison and Eva Kay Flint, and the new play is "The Up and Up," which E. A. Blatt and M. J. Nicholas will do there next month.

Coming This Way

Katherine Cornell is en route here from New York by way of Panama to join her husband, Guthrie McClintic. Miss Cornell plans to vacation the most of the summer in California, starting out again with "Dishonored Lady" about August or September, playing it on the Pacific Coast and gradually working back East. Henry Duffy is due to arrive in town Thursday. He has two new shows going on the boards next week, and he always shows up in time for the final rehearsals.

Notes from New York

Jed Harris is planning a production of Gogol's farce of grafting officialdom, "The Inspector-General," which is by way of being a semiclassic in Russia.

On the eve of his seventy-seventh birthday anniversary David Belasco is preparing four plays as his next season's contribution to Broadway. At the moment he is very secretive as to the identity of most of the quartet but says he will make known full particulars in Atlantic City on his birthday, July 25.

One is, of course, the Hattons' adaptation of the Hungarian play in which Lynn Overman will act at the Belasco Theater early in August. The literal translation of its title is "The Gigolo and the Princess," but that will be changed. Another of the Belasco productions will be for Beth Merrill who has recently encountered unusual difficulties in her efforts to get on Broadway. As for "It's a Wise Child" the present plan is that it shall go atouring early in July, playing a return week in Atlantic City before heading for the west coast.

"Jungle Love," with Agnes Ayres, may open at the Liberty Theater July 23, or it may go to Chicago.

AMERICAN LEGION PARTY ARRANGED

Community Post, No. 46, American Legion, will stage a special banquet at George Olsen's Club tonight. In addition to Olsen and his music, tonight's program will feature George Murphy and Juliette Johnson, Babe Kane, Jack Shutta, Dave Franklin, Jack Lester and the McCune Sisters.

Last Repertory Play Due Tonight

Elise Bartlett

Plays an important role in "My Son," a comedy drama by Martha Stanley, which will terminate the Civic Theater's season at the Music Box Theater.

"SOCIAL LION" ANNOUNCED

Jack Oakie, popular comedian of "Close Harmony" and "Fast Company," will be seen at the Paramount Theater in his latest Paramount picture, "The Social Lion," starting Thursday.

Oakie has a supporting cast of comedians in this rollicking comedy-romance by Octavus Roy Cohen. Skeets Gallagher, Mary Brian and Olive Borden head the list of featured players.

Directed by A. Edward Sutherland, responsible for the direction of "Close Harmony" and "Burning Up," "The Social Lion" also includes Cyril Ring, Charles Sellon, E. H. Calvert, James Gibson, Henry Roquemore, William Bechtel, Richard Cummings and Jack Byron in the cast.

Clara Bow's latest screen romance, "True to the Navy," will complete its engagement at the Paramount Wednesday night.

ART FURTHERED IN LEAGUE PROGRAM

Dances and Playlets Offered in Pleasing Manner at Theater Mart

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

The Art League of Hollywood, whose avowed mission is the rapprochement of all art and artists, through creation of an art consciousness, gave evidence of strength and power in a varied program presented at Theater Mart.

The loveliness and fragility of Japanese art was expressed in a sort of ambient flow of motion and exquisite gesture by Shizu Okajima in four traditional dances. Also this mysterious little maid of the East in softly modulated voice poetized exotically colored fragrances of Japan.

Feodor Kolin, Russian pianist, in his own composition, "The Dance of Salome," created that strange anomaly, the sybaritic creature of sinister emotional variations, whose dancing orgy leads to the final oblation, "The Head of Jokannan." Mr. Kolin played with feeling, intensity and a fine reserve.

Josef Vikus from the Imperial Theater of Petrograd appeared in "A Conversation Between Two Dogs." Understanding neither the language of dogs nor of Russia this critic was at a decided disadvantage. It was dramatically conceived, but enacted with a primitive ferocity, which is far from the ideals of the Anglo-Saxon theater. Mr. Vikus has imaginative gifts of striking proportion, and repression would make his work interesting.

The one-act play, "The Mask," from the pen of Herman Brownstein, futuristic in manner of approach and in staging, presented the eternal conflict between the haunting beauty of spirit as exemplified in the poetic soul, and mortal life. The dautless spirit of the poet was well represented by Sherwood Walgamott. His voice was peculiarly ingratiating in quality and his diction pleasing.

Clarence Muse, Negro star of "Hearts in Dixie," whose voice gave character to that portrayal, appeared in Negro songs with pictorial backgrounds. Mr. Muse is the possessor of a splendid baritone voice and there is dominance and emotional feeling which enables him to present his songs with an artistic fervor.

Agnes De Mille Will Present Recital Here

Agnes George De Mille, daughter of William and niece of Cecil De Mille, will add further brilliance to the family name, it is said, on the 24th inst., when she will be presented in a dance recital at the Windsor Square Theater.

Miss De Mille visits here after an absence of four years, during which she has been appearing in New York and other eastern cities. Two of her numbers which have elicited the highest plaudits of critics are the Can-Can, the European dance of the nineties, seldom seen in this country, and her interpretation of the tragic ballet girls after the paintings of Degas.

The youthful artist has studied under Theodore Kosloff here, Thamara Karsavina in London, Volanine in Paris and Constantin Kobeleff in New York.

DE MILLE CHOOSES McCREA

Joel McCrea, who was discovered by Cecil B. De Mille in "Dynamite" and who during the past year at R.-K.-O. studios has been groomed for leading roles, has been chosen for the principal part in "The Silver Horde," a Rex Beach story to be filmed in Alaska.

Ear Phones for Deaf Installed at Fox Circle

To make it possible for deaf patrons to enjoy to the fullest extent the music and audible importance of sound films the Carthay Circle Theater will add private ear phones to its theater equipment Saturday.

Patrons desiring ear phones will apply for them at the box office, obtain a ticket or requisition for the ear-phone set, which will be supplied by the superintendent of the theater auditorium.

The ear-phone service will be installed prior to the completion of the showing of "All Quiet on the Western Front," current attraction, and the number of sets will be doubled with the premiere of Will Rogers in "So This is London."

Jerome Sheldon Cast in Drama

Jerome Sheldon inherits the role in "Crime" which was created by Chester Morris and will be seen as a gum-chewing gunman named Rocky Mosby in the play starting at the President Theater on the 16th inst.

"Crime" is said to be a frank story of crooks and romance and is based on the exploits of "The Candy Kid," a notorious criminal who terrorized the country a few years ago. Kenneth Daigneau will portray the Beau Brummel crook leader, and others in the cast include Ruth Matteson, Marie Myers, Leonard Strong, Ralf Belmont, Francis Bolger, George Henry Trader and Arthur Wellington.

"The Whispering Gallery," the current attraction at the President, is now in its final week.

Veterans Will Sponsor Play

Production of a psychic war play, "Paths of Glory," by Wallace Starke, at the Windsor Theater on the 29th inst., under the sponsorship of the Quentin Roosevelt Chapter, No. 5, Disabled Veterans of the World War, was announced yesterday by the author. The play, which is to be staged by William H. Strauss, New York stage director, is described as being one of intense realism.

Starke stated that the cast has already been selected and includes LeRoy Mason, Ruth Hill, Colin James, Wallace McFarland, Paul Panger, Arthur Belasco, William Mahlon, Ernest Erskine, Sally Carter, Earnest Young and George Leland.

YOUTHFUL HARPIST CHARMS IN CONCERT

Rosamond Lovelace revealed the fact in her recent recital at the Beaux Arts Theater that she can be termed one of the most talented of child harpists.

Little Miss Lovelace's repertoire consisted of compositions of the masters and her interpretation displayed a player who does not read the lines mechanically but colors them with nuances that portend an individual aspect. The two selections from Donizetti's "Lucia" were finely done, Hasselman's "Ballade" showed technical display, while in the more lyrical numbers she revealed her ability to color.

The baritone voice of Thomas Dunn, the asisting artist, was at its best in the more simple melodies. Mr. Dunn's interpretation of "Star of Eve" was artistically done with excellent intonation and phrasing.

CHAPLIN HAS PRAISE FOR AIR PICTURE

Noted Comic Calls Hughes Spectacle Tremendous in Drama and Enactment

Leading producers of the film industry are lavish in their praise of "Hell's Angels," now showing at Grauman's Chinese Theater. Charlie Chaplin is the latest of the outstanding celebrities of the film colony to comment on the production. Chaplin states:

"'Hell's Angels' is the most tremendous production since the advent of talking pictures. The Zeppelin sequence is one of the most dramatic and edifying episodes I have ever seen in pictures. It is the drama in modern machinery—but not only this—the treatment and the acting are superb and realistic."

To accommodate the large patronage, Sid Grauman has instituted a series of midnight matinees, including a complete showing of his spectacular prologue and the air spectacle, the third of which will be staged Saturday night.

Judge Lauds Prison Drama at Majestic

Judicial compliments and indorsements have been numerous for "The Last Mile," John Wexley's prison-riot drama now being enacted at the Majestic Theater. The most recent notable to praise the play is Superior Court Judge Charles S. Burnell of this city, according to the theater management.

Judge Burnell declared that he was deeply impressed with the brilliant treatment accorded the subject of prison life. And although the play is consistent with the ordinary routine of his own procedures in court, he avers that the drama is so powerful and dynamic in theme as to grip the most calloused theatergoer.

The entire production of "The Last Mile" is under the personal direction of Lillian Albertson. Tickets for the play may be obtained only at the Majestic box office and the forty branch ticket offices.

Mary Pickford to Be Honored

Paying tribute to Mary Pickford, the Wampas (Western Associated Motion Picture Advertisers) is giving a dinner in her honor tonight at the Roosevelt Hotel in Hollywood. At the dinner the Wampas will confer upon Miss Pickford an honorary life membership in the organization.

Among notables who have accepted the invitation of the Wampas are Douglas Fairbanks, D. W. Griffith, Maurice Chevalier, Ernst Lubitsch and Charles Butterworth. Lewis E. Lawes, Warden of Sing Sing Prison, a visitor in Hollywood, will be another honored guest.

Jubilee to Be Held at Bowl

With the support of the motion-picture industry as well as the active co-operation of a large group of local theatrical men, the second annual Hollywood Midsummer Jubilee, to be staged at Hollywood Bowl on July 2, will feature a program comprising stellar attractions.

The service of all artists participating in the show as well as the rental of the Bowl are being donated for the occasion as the entire net proceeds of the special performance is to go toward purchasing additional beds and hospital equipment for the Los Angeles Sanatorium.

Tower to Show 'Journey's End'

Local patrons will have the opportunity of witnessing the motion-picture version of "Journey's End," in a popular run at the Tower Theater starting Saturday.

Accredited as one of the most realistic conceptions of the World War produced in motion-picture form, "Journey's End" includes in its cast Colin Clive, Ian Maclaren, David Manners, Anthony Bushell and others.

FIVE TECHNICOLOR PICTURES SHOWING

The effectiveness of Technicolor is being exploited currently here in film productions holding forth in five theaters.

RUGGLES CASTING FOR "CIMARRON"

Among the many problems confronting Wesley Ruggles in casting "Cimarron" for R.-K.-O. is that of finding males of four different ages, from 5 to 35 years, who look enough alike to foster the illusion that they are all the same person as he grows from infancy to maturity. Ruggles is selecting these players "in reverse," that is picking out the grown man first, and then seeking three younger persons who resemble him.

ALMA REAL IN RECITAL

Alma Real appeared in a short song recital at the premiere showing Saturday night at the Million Dollar Theater of "Alma de Gaucho," a Chris Phillis production featuring Mona Rico and Manuel Granada. While Mme. Real is not in the cast of "Alma de Gaucho," she is one of the most popular of the Latin players, having recently sung in "One Mad Kiss," "El Precio de un Beso" and "Sombras de Gloria." In the near future she will be seen in "The Yankee Don."

CITY'S HUGE GROWTH LAID TO CHURCH INFLUENCE

High Standard of Life Declared Reflected in Los Angeles Census Returns

Declaring that the church is "the vitamin of civilization, prosperity and liberty," Dr. Bruce Brown, in his sermon at South Park Christian Church yesterday said that "the main reason why Los Angeles has increased from one-half to twice the size of San Francisco is the standard that was lifted here by the influence of the church."

"The saloon and the church are the two emblems of two classes of people," said Dr. Brown. "Let every church building in this city be turned into a saloon if you want a modern bedlam. The poison centers of crime and degradation of our nation are all in the infected portions of our great cities, from which the churches have been driven out. No power on earth can keep this nation from going 'Red' if the battle is won by the church haters."

PASTOR TERMS BIBLE TORCH OF HUMANITY

"Our confusion today, difference of doctrines, splits into denominations all have come about because men in their 'wisdom' have set up their judgments and opinions instead of following the guidance of the spirit through the word of God," declared Dr. George Dorn in his sermon yesterday at Hollywood Lutheran Church.

"In the word of God, we have the truth of God as the only hope for every problem and the only hope for real Christian unity," said Dr. Dorn. "Christian unity never can be accomplished upon a basis of expediency or good fellowship, financial economy or compromise. We cannot unite on minimums of faith, but we can unite on maximums of faith. It will never be accomplished by whittling down convictions, but it can be accomplished when we all believe tremendously in God's word, in the all sufficiency of a living Christ and in the guidance of the Holy Spirit. That first Pentecost, 1900 years ago, designated the beginning of the spiritual life, the inauguration of the spiritual kingdom of the Messiah. Marvelous phenomena, even of a physical type, accompanied that scene. 'A tongue of fire' was the form assumed by the spirit, a most suitable emblem, pregnant with meaning and indicative of the large place which the human voice was to play in the work of the new dispensation."

HINDU TEACHER CALLS GOD 'GREATEST AXIOM'

"The God Nobody Knows" was discussed yesterday by Swami Dhiranada at Figueroa Playhouse. Excerpts from the address follow:

"Who can define the indefinable, express the inexpressible and know the subtlest of the subtle? Yet there is not a single stage in the history of humanity when man has not attempted a description of the nature of God and has not said through its inspired ones, that God can be known. We do not adequately know things right at our hands. How have we known so much about God, the Invisible King of the universe? Every man feels more or less that there is 'something' back of everything, and in order to express that something he has created theologies, calling Him personal or impersonal and by many other names. But no names express Him, nothing can prove Him. He is the Greatest Axiom. We cannot stand apart from Him to prove Him nor liken Him to anything.

NERODE DISCUSSES CREED OF GANDHI

"Gandhi's Religion and the Uniqueness of Jainism" is the subject of an address given at Mt. Washington Center yesterday by Bramacharee Nerode. The speaker said in part:

"Jainism is an elder contemporary of Buddhism. Its ethical system is more rigorous than that of Buddhism. According to it, true freedom consists in an independence of all outward things. The radical conversion of the inner man is the way to freedom, which was also proclaimed by the Light of Nazareth in no uncertain terms. The Jainas do not believe that being is permanent without becoming change or end, as such a theory takes away the initiative of the soul and makes moral responsibility meaning less. Jainism holds that the world is filled with all that is living. From this recognition arises the infinite compassion of the Jainas, which also is characteristic of Mahatma Gandhi."

SERMON GIVEN ON DUTIES OF PARENTS

"Parents are not entitled to honor, obedience and respect merely because they are parents," declared Dr. Sheldon Shepard in his sermon yesterday at First Universalist Church.

"Parents are entitled only to that measure of honor which they merit by virtue of being the right kind of parents," said Dr. Shepard.

"That goes, too, for teachers, officers, preachers, and all the rest of us. I will tell you why childhood and youth are losing their respect for age, people and institutions: We have tried to make children respect too many things which are not respectable. A biological incident is not enough to justify us in demanding that a child respect and honor irritability, poor judgment, intemperance and lack of consideration in a parent. Children should be taught, also, that they are not entitled to care, help and indulgence simply because they are born into a home. In proportion to their attainments, they must earn consideration and love by playing their part of the game on the square."

CREATOR DISCUSSED BY CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

"God the Only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon yesterday at all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The lesson-sermon consisted of citations from the Bible and correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. One of the Scripture selections included the following account from Luke: "And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to Him, and said unto her, Woman, thou are loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her; and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God . . . and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by Him."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" presented these words from the chapter entitled "Science of Being." "Physical causation was put aside from first to last by this original man, Jesus. He knew that the divine Principle, Love, creates and governs all that is real."

EQUESTRIAN TUNNEL IN PARK APPROVED

Construction of an equestrian tunnel in Griffith Park, immediately south of the water department's gatehouse, near the junction of the bridle trail and golf course, to bring all equestrian travel from the park mountains to the river, has been approved by the Park Commission, providing it is not held responsible for operation or flood waters. The request, from the City Engineer, points out that the location is the lowest ground where the necessary headroom may be obtained under Riverside Drive with a minimum of excavation.

DANISH SHIP ARRIVES ON MAIDEN TRIP

Travel Time from Coast to Europe to be Reduced With New Liners

Europe yesterday was brought days closer to the Pacific Coast with the arrival from Copenhagen on her maiden voyage of the new Danish liner Amerika, first of four seventeen-knot sisterships which the Danish East Asiatic Line is putting into the trade. The 16,000-ton motorliner, finest in luxury of passenger accommodations and in mechanical efficiency in the European trade, was given a rousing welcome as Capt. Carl Knudsen brought her to dock.

As a token from the Danish people of Southern California, Knudsen was presented with a huge bouquet of Southland flowers by Mrs. Jean Hersholt, wife of the film actor and chairman of the Danish Olympic Committee, who also was in the welcoming party. Official greeting of Los Angeles was presented to the captain by Paul Chandler of the Chamber of Commerce, others in the party, including Ryan A. Grut, Danish Vice-Consul; Christian A. Jensen, president of the East Asiatic Company, and Walter F. Wilkenson and James Sullivan of Balfour, Guthrie & Co., owners' agent.

In both her cabins and public rooms the Amerika has a spacious luxury and taste in appointments unequaled by any other European-Pacific liner, while her propelling machinery is of unusual interest to engineers. She is driven by the first of the new Burmeister & Wain double-acting, two-cycle Diesel engines, which develop 7000 brake horsepower at a weight of only 115 pounds a horsepower. On her trials the Amerika exceeded 17.5 knots, while on the 4th inst., at only part throttle, she logged 406 miles.

Her commander, Capt. Knudsen, is commodore of the great Danish East Asiatic fleet, having been an officer with the line since 1900. He made his first visit here in 1899 aboard the famous British bark Primrose Hill, the next year joining the Danish East Asiatic steamer Annam as fourth officer.

The Amerika, which was open for public inspection yesterday afternoon, will sail this morning for San Francisco and other North Pacific ports.

CROP OUTLOOK ROSY THIS YEAR

Conditions More Promising Than in Some Time

Spring Produce Output Has Been Up to Normal

Chamber Report Gives Data on Varied Products

Southern California agricultural districts have passed through another spring and early summer season with normal field and orchard conditions prevailing, according to Southern California Crops, a monthly market and field report of the agricultural department of the Chamber of Commerce. Generally speaking, the outlook for most crops is more promising at this time than has been the case for two or three years past, due largely to the fact that the soil moisture condition has been above the three-year average, says the report.

Most crops being marketed now are bringing satisfactory prices, the report states, and such State-wide reports as are available place most summer and fall maturing specialties in a satisfactory statistical position.

SUMMARY GIVEN

The chamber report summarizes Southern California agricultural conditions at the present as follows:

"Latest estimates indicate that between 16,000 and 17,000 carloads of Valencia oranges remain for shipment after the 1st inst., which may be compared with 30,000 carloads after that date last year. These data on supply indicate the strong statistical position of the California Valencia crop and are responsible for the optimistic views held by growers and shippers for a continued strong and healthy market situation throughout the season.

"Present marketing conditions in the avocado industry are very satisfactory to producers. The Calavo growers of California report that returns to their members are averaging higher than any previous time in the history of the industry. A 1000 per cent increase over the present season's production is indicated for next year, the association officials declare.

SHORT WALNUT CROP

"It is now definitely realized that Southern California's 1930 walnut crop will be a comparatively short one, as is true in almost every district of the State. At this time conditions indicate a 75 per cent of last year's output as the maximum crop of the season.

"Deciduous fruit prospects in Southern California are rather spotted with some districts promised good yields and others below normal. Peaches are generally light around Ontario, the principal producing section, but a good crop of this fruit is promised in the Hemet-Nuevo section. A large crop of apricots is in prospect in Ventura county and in other producing districts of Southern California this fruit will show a good yield, equal or above last season.

"Harvesting of the Beaumont cherry crop is under way with the crop around 50 per cent of normal. The fruit is of excellent quality, however.

HEAVY GRAPE OUTPUT

"With a heavy crop of grapes in prospect, interest of the entire State is focused on the efforts of California grape growers to effect an 85 per cent sign-up of vineyardists under the Federal Farm Board Industry Stabilization Campaign. Reports from all parts of the State indicate that growers realize that this plan represents the only salvation of the industry and that the sign-up is progressing favorably.

"Estimates for cotton acreage for California still remain at around 10 to 25 per cent less than last year when 309,000 acres were planted. However, with better quality lands selected for planting and field conditions above average, yields are expected to equal or exceed those of last year.

"The first cutting of alfalfa is generally completed throughout Southern California districts and the second cutting now is well under way. The alfalfa market is in a rather weak condition with prices $3 to $6 a ton below those on this date last year.

LIMA BEANS

"It is not anticipated that there will be any increase in acreage planted to baby limas in Southern California over last year, but plantings of this variety will be increased in Central California districts. Regular lima-bean acreage will be about the same as that of 1929.

"The principal interest of vegetable and melon growers has centered on the Imperial Valley where cantaloupe shipments are at their height. Yields are uniformly light throughout the valley and a considerable acreage has been abandoned. Prices have dropped off somewhat during the past week."

Asked if she wasn't amazed at the speed of the modern airplane, Mrs. Gilmore replied that she thought Bragunier was driving very slow, although the plane was actually hurtling through space at more than 100-miles an hour.

LEGION PLANS CELEBRATION

Rousing Fourth of July Program to be Drafted by Citizens' Committee Tonight

The citizens' committee of more than seventy business and professional men of Southern California will attend the first rally tonight at 8 o'clock at the Hollywood American Legion Post headquarters, to prepare for the coming Fourth of July celebration to be held under the auspices of the twentieth district, Americanism committee.

Wright Hubbard, commander of the district, which comprises a large part of Southern California, has issued the call not alone to the committee, but to the heads of all posts throughout the district.

"We are going to make this Fourth of July event the outstanding one of all in which the American Legion has ever taken part," Mr. Hubbard said. "From an amusement standpoint there is nothing that the various committees have neglected and from the patriotic angle we are confident that the projected co-operation assured will aid us in strengthening loyalty."

Unique among features planned for this celebration is the pledge of loyalty to the Constitution and flag to be repeated at sundown and broadcast from all radio stations, so that those who remain in their homes may repeat the pledge, as those who are at the Santa Monica Pier will do, immediately following the blowing of taps by buglers from various posts.

William Gibbs McAdoo, a member of the citizens' committee, already has petitioned Senators Johnson and Shortridge that added battleships and naval equipment may be stationed off Santa Monica Bay. Ralph J. Starkey, secretary of the division, feels that most members of all posts in the twentieth district will attend, accompanied by their families and friends.

Speakers and features of the occasion will be announced later.

SENIOR CO-EDS ATTEND FETE

Trojan Women's Clubs Play Host

Miss Olive Waring

AN AFFAIR at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, Wednesday afternoon, was sponsored by the Trojan Women's Clubs of Pasadena, Long Beach, Glendale, San Diego, Bay Cities and Orange county, honoring all senior women at University of Southern California. More than 900 invitations were issued to senior co-eds, Trojan faculty women, faculty wives, representatives from Los Angeles high schools, and wives of visiting delegates to the semi-centennial celebration.

Miss Olive Waring, past president of the Los Angeles Trojan Women's Club, was one of the assistant hostesses. Others included Misses Elizabeth Von KleinSmid, Margaret Alraston, Bernice Palmer, Mary Biwen, Bertha Green, Edith Palmer, Mary Ethel Butterfield, Constance Vachon, Catherine White, Beryl Kennedy and Mmes. Warren Bovard, Frank C. Touton, Karl T. Waugh, Andrew Life, Lester B. Heilman, Elbert Kennedy, Helen M. Morehouse, Gladys Wadsworth Tuttle, John Woods, Harry Silke, George Dennison, Lucy Huse Cate, Marion Foss and Mary Chaffey Riggins.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

The Ant Season

Always wash the outside of the milk bottle before putting it into the refrigerator. It may have collected a few ants while on the porch or step and by washing the bottle you may save yourself endless worry and work of having these pests in your refrigerator.

A Bad Start

The mother is very foolish who waits until the very last minute to get up and who ge's her children off to school in a tremendous rush. It starts the day off in a tension for the child and concentrating and sitting still in school come very hard after the nervous turmoil.

Banish the Germs

Few people realize how quickly the germs collect on the fly swatter and nothing is ever done to get rid of them. Pour boiling water through it daily and keep down the germs.

Paper and String

One of those heavy paper shopping bags will be just the thing to suspend on two hooks in the cellarway to hold wrapping paper and small bits of string—out of the way, but convenient.

Less Cleaning

The insides of the windows accumulate more dust than the outsides, and if they are wiped off on the inside each day with a soft cloth they will not have to be washed so frequently.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

MILK IS A NATURAL FOOD FOR BABIES

If there is such a thing as a natural food, milk, no doubt, comes under this category, as it is the only food distinctly provided by nature as a food for animals. After about the age of 2, however, it is not a complete food, as it lacks iron. In babies this lack of iron in milk is provided for by a large quantity of iron being stored in the liver and other tissues.

When mother's milk is not available for the baby, the best substitute seems to be cow's milk or goat's milk. The human race has been using animal milk for about the last 12,000 years so that it has proven its value as a useful food.

When using milk, you have your choice of either the raw certified milk or the pasteurized. When raw milk is used it should only be from cows that have passed a health inspection. If there is any doubt about the health of the cows or the cleanliness in the handling of the milk it should be pasteurized. Pasteurized milk does not have as much food value as milk in the raw state because the heating which it undergoes destroys some of the vitamins, especially vitamin C. However, this deficiency can be made up if, in addition to the milk, fresh fruit juices or other foods containing vitamin C are used.

Pasteurizing milk is no doubt the best plan for large communities because of the necessity for so much handling and transportation. While pasteurizing cannot make the milk clean, it does give an element of safety in the use of milk so treated. This is much more important in summer than in winter, as the heat of the summer months encourages a greater growth of bacteria. It has been said that no disease epidemic has ever been traced to pasteurized milk, but many epidemics have been traced to raw milk which has been produced under unclean condition. For this reason it is probably the safest plan for the average family to depend upon pasteurized milk unless they are able to buy certified inspected raw milk, which is usually more expensive.

Milk requires about the same length of time to digest as any other protein. However, when mixed with any other proteins digestion is delayed in the stomach and for this reason it is much better to use milk alone or in combination with some of the acid fruits. Digestion takes place far easier if the acid fruits are combined with the milk, as this combination produces small curds which the digestive juices can penetrate more easily.

Milk is a real food and for this reason it should not be taken between meals. One may make an entire meal of milk, using as much as desired, and adding some acid fruit or some of the nonstarchy vegetables, such as spinach or string beans. The milk diet is often of great value for those who are suffering from some form of gastrointestinal disturbance. An exclusive milk diet is probably the best treatment that has been devised for ulcers of the stomach. Undernourished children, too, often benefit by the use of an exclusive milk diet. In some diseases, such as chronic catarrh and frequent colds, the use of milk does not seem to be advisable, and where there is poor liver functioning it is advisable to avoid cream, or milk that is too rich.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

PETER SEES A FUNNY NOSE

If things are strange, they must be queer;
It seems to me that this is clear.
—Peter Rabbit.

Peter Rabbit isn't always as observing as he should be. Most of us are not. We see, yet do not see. We pass over little things. Peter had watched Starnose the Mole swimming and then had seen Starnose come ashore. Without noticing anything peculiar about Starnose, to Peter he looked very much like his cousin, Miner the Mole. He was the same general shape and his gray coat looked much the same.

Starnose was an uneasy little fellow. It seemed to Peter that Starnose wasn't still a minute. Most of the time he had his nose to the ground and was poking under the leaves and under the grass with it. So Peter took no notice of that nose until at last Starnose paused in front of him and lifted his head as if he were looking up into Peter's face. Then Peter's eyes fairly popped. They looked as if they were going to jump right out of his head. "What is the matter with it?" he cried.

"What is the matter with what?" demanded Starnose in his sharp, squeaky voice.

"Your nose," replied Peter. "What in the world is the matter with your nose?"

"Nothing is the matter with my nose," squeaked Starnose, and his voice sounded indignant despite its squeakiness. "There isn't a thing the matter with my nose."

"But there must be!" cried Peter, still staring. "I never saw nor heard of a nose like yours. What under the sun did you ever do to it?"

"I haven't done anything to it," squeaked Starnose. "It is just as Old Mother Nature gave it to me. I wouldn't trade noses with anyone I know. So there!"

"But what are all those funny little things all around the end of your nose?" asked Peter, and he was staring in the most impolite manner.

"Those are not funny little things at all," replied Starnose promptly. "There is nothing funny about them. Those are little feelers and there are twenty-two of them. I don't know what I should do without them."

"Huh!" exclaimed Peter. "I don't see what good they are."

"Those are not funny little things at all," replied Starnose promptly

"That is because you don't know as much as you might," squeaked Starnose. "If you couldn't see any better than I can—and you might just as well say I can't see at all—you would want something to tell you about things. Those little feelers around my nose do just that; they help me a whole lot."

"Your cousin, Miner doesn't have them and he gets along all right," said Peter.

"My cousin Miner doesn't live the way I do," replied Starnose. "He sticks more closely to his tunnels than I do. Of course, I stick pretty close to mine, but I do come out once in a while. I like to run on the surface and take a swim now and then. When I find things which may be good to eat, I use these little fingers on my nose to find out about them."

"I see," said Peter. "Of course, you know that no one else has a nose like yours, so you must excuse me for thinking it a funny nose. Of course, I ought to have known that it has a use of some sort. Old Mother Nature doesn't give people things unless there is some use for them. I suppose it is that nose of yours that gives you your name."

"Right you are, Peter Rabbit, right you are," replied Starnose. "Well, I have gossiped long enough and my stomach is empty. I must get something to eat and must get it quickly. Excuse me, Peter, while I go look for some worms."

Before Peter could open his mouth to reply, Starnose had begun to burrow into the soft earth.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

by Honore Booth

FASHION EXPERT OF HARPER'S BAZAAR

While the question of skirt lengths has somewhat receded into the background, due to our having accepted a certain tentative standard for morning, afternoon and evening clothes, still there remains that little hesitancy about the exact length, of whatever type costume we are thinking of at the moment. Paris broadcasts "a gradual lengthening," which may bring back the ankle-length skirts for general daytime wear.

for suits, morning frocks and our so-called "sport clothes" in the leading midseason collections, they are about thirteen and three-quarter inches from the floor. For the frock that is worn in town with full length or perhaps three-quarter length coat, they have been lengthened to eleven and three-quarters and twelve and three-quarter inches from the ground. Later in the afternoon, they descend considerably, some reaching the ankle bone or even the instep either all 'round or unevenly in scallops—or some in up-and-down hem lines. Of course, these figures are general. Certain designers vary these an inch or so, longer or shorter.

LONG AND SHORT OF IT

The well-dressed woman of today has something to say herself and does say it, and she knows that exaggeration of anything is one of the most fatal tendencies of all modes—she is the ultimate dictator—and who will not be her willing subject?

ELABORATION IN SKIRTS

The tendency toward greater elaboration in evening skirts recalls the simple bodices and heavily trimmed skirts of the late sixties. A model recently seen was one with a tunic effect similar to an umbrella, with pointed sections. Some of the new models show extremely full skirts, almost verging on the crinoline. One, in white chiffon has curved bands of tight shirring on bodice and hips, and immensely wide skirt, falling softly and cut in wedge-shaped sections. It takes almost as many yards as one of the old-time prima donna's dancing dress.

HANDLING OF CHIFFONS

Another important detail about evening skirts is the new handling of chiffon in plaits, pressed or more often unpressed, sometimes of the kilt type, and sometimes in box plaits—both wide and narrow. This has been done in chiffon and net.

SHOULDERS TO HIPS

So much attention has recently been centered on shoulders, with the numberless capes and capelets, frilled shoulder straps that came to us from Empire model, that it is only natural that the center of interest should go somewhere else—and it is to the hips that it seems to be going, showing itself in an evening mood of peplum, frills, or in yokes sometimes plain, sometimes decorated as well as in the perkily flared short wraps of the Chanel variety. In this we have a "hippy feeling" but such charming disguises for the "hippy look."

WORD ABOUT TWEEDS

A new note in tweeds is the reversion from the open-weave jersey-like fabrics toward the more solidly woven materials. Tweeds are being slowly but surely relegated to their proper place—traveling and sport. Though women will continue to wear them, other woolens are getting a "look-in" at last . . . light weight and twilled woolens, wool voile, etc.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

FISH AND VEGETABLE PIE

Two cupfuls of milk, three tablespoonfuls of butter, four tablespoonfuls of flour, one and one-half cupfuls of cooked diced carrots, one cupful of cooked peas, one and one-half cupfuls of flaked fish two tablespoonfuls of onion juice, a seasoning of salt, paprika and one tablespoonful of chopped parsley. Make a white sauce of the milk, flour and butter, add the vegetables, flaked fish and seasonings, oil a baking dish, pour the mixture in, cover the top with seasoned mashed potato, brush with melted butter and bake in a moderately hot oven until well browned.

HAMBURGER PASTRY ROLLS

Season one pound of hamburger with salt, paprika, finely chopped parsley, and a few drops of onion juice. Roll out in the form of tiny finger rolls, brown them quickly in a hot saute pan to which has been added a little shortening. Make a regular baking powder biscuit dough, and cut it into good-sized rounds, lay a roll of the hamburger on each round, moisten the edges with a little water, and fold one side of the round over the other. Place on a lightly oiled baking tin, and bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes. Serve with a tomato or mushroom sauce.

LEMON ICE BOX COOKIES

One cupful of butter or shortening, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, three eggs, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one teaspoonful of grated lemon rind, five cupfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and one-half cupful of candied orange peel. Cream the butter and sugar, add the well-beaten eggs, lemon juice and rind. Sift the flour and salt together, and gradually add it to the mixture. Shape into small rolls, cover with waxed paper, and place in the ice box overnight. The next day, slice thin and on the top of each cookie place a small piece of candied orange peel. Sprinkle with a little sugar and bake in a quick oven until slightly brown.

JELLIED SOUP WITH MEAT

One and one-half tablespoonfuls of gelatine, two cupfuls of chicken stock, one-fourth of a cupful of cooked rice, one-half teaspoonful of onion juice, two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice, a few grains of cayenne pepper, a seasoning of salt, and two or three drops of tabasco sauce, two cupfuls of cooked meat, cut in small cubes, one-half cupful of whipped cream, two teaspoonfuls of finely chopped parsley. Soak the gelatine in part of the cold soup, heat the rest of the soup and combine, add the seasonings and meat. Allow to heat thoroughly, when the mixture is cooled and starts to thicken, fold in the stiffly whipped cream, spread the minced parsley in the bottom of the mold, pour in the mixture, and allow to become solid, cut in cubes, and serve in bouillon cups.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

The Inside of the Oven

Keep the inside of the oven clean. Scrape out the shelves and bottom and wash with hot soda water solution at least once a week. It will give you better service and prevent that nasty burnt-food smell that comes from an oven containing cooked-over foods.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

NIGHT BEST TIME TO SLEEP

The baby's sleeping hours are subject to periodic changes. As baby approaches the end of his first year it seems better for him to take shorter naps in daytime to encourage a long, unbroken sleep at night.

"My baby has cut two hours off his daily naps and added an extra hour at night," writes Mrs. H.A.F. "He now sleeps until 8 or 8:30 in the morning and then won't sleep again until 11:30.

"Please tell me how to protect baby from sunburn? These first hot days he got very bad burns even though I cold-creamed him beforehand. Also now at 8 months shall he have meat broth as well as cereal and vegetables? Your column is so sane and practical you are a life-saver to us young mothers. Incidentally, I have eczema. Can my baby acquire this?"

LET HIM SLEEP

I should be glad that baby is learning to sleep all night and I should no longer waken him for a feeding in the first part of the night but let him sleep as long as he will naturally. Then you may find that he won't take a 10 or 11 o'clock feeding any more and will sleep straight through.

I am afraid that baby is having too long exposture to the sun when he gets such bad burns. Reduce the time to fifteen minutes and increase it very slowly. It never pays to keep baby out in the sun until he burns, for the skin should be slowly and gradually accustomed to the sun so that it browns. This tanning is itself a protection from the dangers of sunburn. Oil the skin well and see that baby isn't exposed longer than fifteen minutes now for a week or more.

BROTH NOT ESSENTIAL

Meat broth has no special advantages in baby's diet. It is practically without nourishment and is merely an appetizer, fluid in which to serve vegetables. The nourishment is in the vegetables or bread served with it, not in the broth, though it does contain extracts which pep up the appetite.

Eczema is in no degree contagious. But it is possible for your baby to be sensitive to the same food or external elements to which you are sensitive. Apparently he is not, for eczema in the susceptible child usually appears early in his life. If he is now being breast fed it is just possible that when you put him on cows' milk he may show a sensitivity to it. We have a leaflet on eczema which will show you the numerous causes of it and give you a clearer understanding of what may be causing you to have it.

Ada: Women over 30 years of age may have a little harder time than younger women but if they are in good health and under the care of a good physician there is no reason why they cannot bear children. Have a good physical examination by your doctor and don't worry.

Why cling TO OLD FASHIONED METHODS?

YOU will be interested in the letter below telling of the experience of one housewife who tried Ben-Hur Drip Coffee. It represents the common experience of tens of thousands who are using this delicious coffee made in a Ben-Hur healthful Coffee-maker.

"This new idea in coffee-making has put Ben-Hur Drip Coffee in a class by itself, and I'll venture to say that any housewife who has given this modern method of coffee-making a trial will never go back to the old crude way of boiling or percolating coffee."

"Ben-Hur Drip Coffee has been constantly served at our breakfast and dinner table since your Company first put this wonderfully delicious coffee on the market."

"We buy Ben-Hur Drip Coffee because we know it to be a much more healthful drink than the ordinary boiled coffee. The filter papers used in making this coffee produce a clear, transparent liquid, with no grounds whatsoever. Its exceptionally delicious flavor, which is absolutely void of bitterness, always invites you to a second cup."

"The very short time to make it is another advantage over the old system of coffee-making and considering the economical standpoint, the Ben-Hur Drip Coffee takes one-third less than any other coffee on the market. We consider Ben-Hur Drip Coffee a most delicious, healthful and economical beverage." Mrs. C. A. Blegan, 2814 East 6th Street, Los Angeles.

PASADENA, June 8.—Breaking all previous records, 1013 Pasadena Junior College and John Muir Technical High School students will receive diplomas at colorful joint commencement exercises which will be held in the Rose Bowl Friday night, the 21st inst.

Of the total number of graduates, the junior college lower division will head the list with 528. Muir High School will follow with 310, and the junior college upper division will grant 149 diplomas. Of the junior college upper division, ninety-four will receive certificates entitling them to matriculate as college juniors.

The total number of graduates, 1013, includes twenty-six graduates of the school of nursing, and exceeds last year's record by sixty-two.

Final plans for the spectacular pageant, "Dreams of Youth," which will precede the presentation of diplomas, are nearing completion. Ida E. Hawes and Emma B. Mundy, director and associate director of the event, announced today.

A fifty-foot castle will tower above the graduation stage and will be tinted rose, gold and purple by powerful floodlight beams. More than 1000 underclassmen and elementary school children will participate in the program which symbolizes the high hopes and spirituality of youth.

INNOVATION IN SPEAKERS' SELECTION AT GLENDORA

GLENDORA, June 8.—As an innovation in commencement programs, five popular members of the graduating class of Citrus Union High School have been selected to be the speakers for the occasion, according to announcement made by Supt. F. S. Hayden.

VENTURA COUNTY PLANS SERIES OF COMMENCEMENTS

VENTURA, June 8.—Nearly 350 grammar and high-school students in Ventura county are to receive their diplomas at commencement exercises, which are scheduled the coming week in most of the schools throughout the county. Six of the county schools already have had their graduation rites, as they closed late in May. Closing dates for the schools of the county vary greatly, but this is explained by the fact that according to State law children must attend school 170 days of the year. As length of vacations differ in schools, the closing dates necessarily vary, Mrs. Blanche T. Reynolds, county school superintendent, said.

Monday night graduation exercises will be held in the following schools and with the following students receiving their sheepskins: Simi Valley Union High School, twenty-five students; Las Posas, one student; Nordhoff Union Grammar School, sixty-three students.

Tuesday night will find the following exercises under way. Center, eight students; Piru, six students.

Exercises Thursday night are at these schools: Santa Paula Union High School, about sixty students; Oxnard Union High School, about sixty students; Hueneme, thirteen students; Ocean View, five students; Oxnard Grammar School, sixty-seven students; Santa Ana, three students; Somis, twelve students.

Friday night will see a class of fifty given diplomas at the Fillmore Union High School.

Schools in the county which already have held graduation ceremonies follow: Moorpark Union High School; Apache, Briggs, Conejo, Mupu, Moorpark Union Grammar School, Rio, Santa Paula Union Grammar School, Santa Rosa, Saticoy, Timer and Torrey.

Other graduation exercises scheduled in advance are: Nordhoff and Ventura Union High schools, Avenue, Pleasant Valley, Ventura, Simi Valley Union and Temescal Joint Grammar schools, all on the 19th inst.

DIME TAKES GIRL FROM PASADENA TO DENVER

PASADENA, June 8.—How a 12-year-old girl, with only 10 cents in the pocket of her school dress, could travel from Pasadena to Denver, and arrive there in good health, was the mystery Mr. and Mrs. William Price of 757 East Green street, were seeking to solve today following receipt of a telegram announcing their daughter Pearl's safe arrival there.

Missing for almost two weeks, since her disappearance here following disclosure of a "50-cent theft from a schoolmate," detectives throughout Southern California have been seeking to solve what at first appeared to be a kidnaping.

News of the child's arrival in Denver was contained in a telegram from Mrs. Helen Berger, Pearl's aunt, received by her parents here. The telegram gave no details to explain how the girl had managed to live and travel.

SAN DIEGO AIRPORT IN NEW DRESS

Improvements Are Ready and Others Planned for Completion This Summer

SAN DIEGO, June 8.—The next few months will witness many important developments in the plan of the Harbor Department and Chamber of Commerce to make the municipal airport here the equal of other outstanding flying fields in the United States.

The field now comprises 142 acres of which approximately eighty acres are surfaced. Red electric lights are being placed on all high-tension-line poles near the airport. This work will be completed this week.

On July 1 the government will begin installation of a radio beacon. By means of a loop antenna this beam of light can be thrown in twelve different directions. The tower will be erected in the lee of the Westgate Cannery to minimize interference from arriving or departing aircraft. The beacon will cost $25,000 and will be manned by a government personnel of three radio technicians. The United States Weather Bureau also will begin immediate installation of a meteorological station at the airport as an added factor of safety to air navigation.

According to Port Director Joseph Brennan, the Harbor Commission, which has jurisdiction over the field, has approved tentatively plans for an administration building of distinctive Spanish architecture. The first floor of this building will contain a commodious waiting - room, coffee shop, cafe, United States customs and immigration offices, women's loungeroom, barber shop and rooms for the display and sale of aeronautical accessories. The second floor will contain the office of the airport manager, radio communication department, quarters for the Department of Commerce aeronautical inspectors, restroom for pilots and office space.

Graduates Not Going "Back to Farm," It Seems

SANTA ANA, June 8.—"Back to the farm" is not included in the plans of 1930 Santa Ana High School graduates, it was revealed today in a survey to determine prospective farmers in the class. Only six out of the total of 126 signified their intentions of taking up agriculture or allied occupations.

Startling but true was the fact that of the nine students who now live on farms not one plans to follow the occupation by which he now receives his livelihood. The six who plan to enter this work all live in the city.

BOY'S FELINE FARM TOUGH FOR GOPHERS

SEPULVEDA, June 8. — Jack Smithers, 13 years of age, who lives on Nordhoff street, has a cat that has just had eight kittens. At two times previously the cat has had nine kittens and another litter of eight. Young Smithers doesn't believe in giving any of his cats away. All of them are on the place, which makes a total of twenty-six, including the mother tabby. All the cats are in the pink of condition and show their sleekness and fat. The boy says he never has to buy any food for his pets "because they know every gopher hole within two blocks of our home." There are also two barns near by which furnish a rat-and-mice diet, according to young Smithers.

Supervised Play Program Made for Venturans

VENTURA, June 8.—Three supervised summer playgrounds will be opened here July 1, Councilman T. E. Cunnane, chairman of the Playground Commission, has announced. The announcement followed a meeting at which the commissioners designated the playground sites, hired three supervisors, set the length of the season, and mapped a daily schedule.

The Sheridan Way school playground will serve that portion of the city north of Main street and west of Ash street. The May Henning school campus will handle children from the area south of Main street and west of Ash. The Washington school will take care of those east of Ash street.

Vernon Hebel, junior high school coach, was engaged as chief supervisor at $160 a month. He will be in direct charge of the May Henning playground and will oversee the other two. Mrs. E. C. Honan, Sheridan Way school physical director, will direct activities at that school at a salary of $150 a month. Mrs. C. Dooley, physical education instructor at Washington school, will supervise play at that location. The season will run two months from July 1, concluding on August 31.

The playfields will be operated on a six-day basis, with Sunday a holiday. They will open at 9:30 a.m., close at 11:30 a.m. for lunch, resume at 1:30 p.m., and shut down at 5 or 5:30 p.m. for the day, according to tentative hours decided upon.

A definite daily program and a list of extra equipment needed are being prepared now by Hebel for submission to the commission.

McBratney, well-known importer and merchant, as president, it was announced yesterday by C. M. Commins, secretary, following the annual election of officers.

"We accomplished more for Monrovia last year than during any other year of my three years as secretary of the chamber," Commins emphatically stated, and pointed out that Monrovia, known as the Gem City of the Foothills, had received nation-wide publicity last year through articles appearing in foreign and eastern magazines.

C. J. O'Connor was elected vice-president; W. J. Ellery, local banker, was reinstated as treasurer for a second term and Commins was unanimously appointed for another year.

DEFENDERS READY FOR FIRES

Everything in Readiness in San Diego County to Fight Forest and Brush Blazes in That Area

SAN DIEGO, June 8.—With a large crew of government and county men already in the field, everything is in readiness for combating forest and brush fires within the county this summer. Unexpected storms in higher county elevations have delayed the fire hazard there, according to Neal Blake, government meteorologist here. Lower levels, however already are very dry. Cleveland National Forest probably will be closed about the 15th inst. to smoking except in camps, specially posted areas, and other places of habitation.

Fifteen county fire wardens were placed on duty in various towns throughout the county the 1st inst. Fire-fighting equipment is in readiness in every town. In the Cleveland National Forest nearly the entire summer crew is in the field. In addition to the three district rangers kept in the forest the entire year, there are now sixteen men in the summer crew.

"I do not want to prohibit smoking in the Cleveland National Forest until I have to," L. H. Anderson, supervisor of the forest, said. "Although it probably will be necessary to do so about June 15."

T. G. Holland, an assistant to Luther Gordon, chief county fire warden at La Mesa, said the county crew of paid fire fighters is four more than the number of men employed this time last year. The large county fire truck is stationed at Bostonia ready to answer fire calls from any place in the county.

Fire forecasts will be issued daily from now to the end of the fire season, Blake said. Reports will be received daily by the Weather Bureau from government rangers in the mountains. It is on these reports that the local forecast will be based. With increasing commercial aviation activity here and with the southern air mail route to the East expected to begin operation soon, mountain weather reports will be used by Blake in giving forecasts to aviators. This will be the first time, he said, that these reports have been used for flyers. In commenting on the county fire hazard, Blake explained that it isn't the heat but the humidity that creates a danger. Seldom do fires start when the humidity is more than 50 per cent. They are not serious, he added, when the humidity is in excess of 30 per cent.

HIT-RUN DRIVER KILLS WOMAN

Mrs. A. L. Minear Struck Down in San Bernardino

Body of Victim Hurled 100 Feet by Impact

Death-Car Description Like One Found in Colton

SAN BERNARDINO, June 8.—Mrs. A. L. Minear, 56 years of age, 130 California street, was killed instantly last night by a hit-and-run driver whose automobile, going at fifty miles an hour, struck her as she crossed the interestion of Mt. Vernon and Rialto avenues. Her body was hurled about 100.

One of the headlights of the automobile was knocked off in the accident and recovered by a service-station operator who also obtained two of the machine's license numbers.

Dispatches from Colton today announced the finding there of an abandoned car registered to C. W. Black, automobile dealer, of 583 Main street, Riverside. One of the headlights was reported missing and two of the license numbers, according to police, tally with those of the death car.

MARCH FIELD AVIATOR KILLED IN MOTORBIKE FALL

Huntington Beach Adopts Ordinance Requiring Bond to Clean Up Derricks

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 8.—Following a heated argument between the City Councilmen and representatives of oil companies, lumbermen and a group of citizens, the city officials have adopted an ordinance which provides that oil companies must post a $5000 bond with the city to guarantee that the property will be cleaned up when drilling operations cease and the well is abandoned. The ordinance also requires a list of owners in the company and definite information how the waste water and rotary mud will be taken care of.

P. E. Wells, representing a group of citizens, declared that the bond is excessive and requested that it be reduced to $1000. Mayor Bowen stated that the Council did not desire to bring any hardship to the small oil operators, but that the fund merely covers the expense of abandoning the well as required by the State Mining Bureau. He also stated that the city officials favor the oil industry.

Councilman Conrad moved the adoption of the ordinance, Councilman King said that he would second it if it was reduced to $1000. Mayor Bowen then declared that he would second it if the bond were reduced to $1000. The Mayor had the Inglewood ordinance which governs the same conditions read. Inglewood requires a $45,000 bond, steel derricks and thirty days in which to clean up after abandonment. After hearing this read King seconded the motion.

J. E. Mackie, structural engineer for the National Lumbermen's Association, and former building inspector for the city of Long Beach, attacked another clause in the ordinance which provides that steel rigs must be used when within 125 feet of another derrick, structure or road. He declared the ordinance discriminatory. He contended that since the insurance companies do not differentiate between wooden and steel derricks it proves that wooden derricks do not cause more fire hazard than steel derricks, and it does not matter whether the wooden or steel derricks are congested. Stating that the lumber interests consider this matter seriously, he added that they may take it into the courts.

W. A. Greer, superintendent of the Associated Oil Company here, was called upon by Mayor Bowen. He stated that steel derricks are of later construction, that termites attack wooden structures and the wind blows the wooden derricks down easier than it does the ones constructed of steel. Fire Chief Sargent also recommended steel derricks.

Joash Day at Church Provides Goodly Amount

UPLAND, June 8.—The congregation of the First Methodist Church rejoiced today at announcement that Joash Day in the church provided $8000 in cash and $24,000 in pledges toward the building fund for a new church edifice to be constructed at an early date.

The sum was more than the church board had anticipated, and thus far $35,000 has been pledged for the fund. Walter W. Horak is treasurer of the church building fund and Dr. James A. Stavely is pastor of the church.

REBEKAHS HOLD ELECTION

MONTEBELLO, June 8.—The Harmony Lodge of Rebekahs met at the Odd Fellows Temple and elected the following new officers for the coming year: Noble Grand, Mrs. Ethel Kieselhorst; Vice-Grand, Mrs. Mary Mintier; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Susan Monroe; Financial Secretary, Helen Evans, and Trustee, Mrs. Gertrude Johnston.

STELLAR HONORS IN LAKE LEGEND GIVEN

Helen Freeman

SAN BERNARDINO, June 8.—Stellar honors will go to Helen Freeman, well-known stage star, as the heroine of "The Legend of the Lake," picturesque Indian pageant-drama to be staged by the residents of Lake Arrowhead on the 14th and 15th inst. at the mountain resort, according to an announcement just made by Russell Stimmel, the director.

Miss Freeman is prominently known for her appearance in leading roles on New York's Broadway in such productions as "Desire Under the Elms" and "Beyond the Horizon." She was one of the founders of the Theater Guild and starred in its first production. She appeared as the Magdalene in the 1929 Pilgrimage Play.

In the Indian pageant drama she will have the role of the Indian maid, Newahna, who offers herself as a sacrifice for love of her tribe. Miss Freeman is particularly fitted for the tribal role through having spent much time on the Navajo reservation in New Mexico.

Among others already chosen for the cast by Stimmel are Esther Waggoner, Marlyn Fisher, Aimee Torriani, Ann Brackenridge and Henry Fisher, Jr. The production will feature spectacular aquatic episodes, novel Indian dances and rituals, and special musical interpolations. The play will be staged in a natural amphitheater formed by a canyon indenting the north shore of the lake.

FIRE RAZES DERRICK IN OIL FIELD

Spectacular Early Morning Blaze in Huntington Beach Causes Loss of $6000

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 8.—An early fire this morning sent the fire department scurrying to Seventeenth street near Main street. Tracy No. 1, owned by F. J. Vandersypt of 256 East Bellevue Drive, Pasadena, was on fire. After a two-hour fight, the fire department put out the fire but not until the derrick was almost burned down, platform of derick burned, and bull wheel, and machinery ruined. A tank containing some oil tipped over and was destroyed when the foundation burned.

Fire Chief Sargent estimated the cost of damage at about $6000, and that the fire started from a short-circuit in the electric motor or from a slipping belt. Oil in a sump hole adjoining the derrick caught on fire and burned for some time.

The well, one of the oldest in the field, was started in 1921 by Tracy and in 1922 Vanderzypt took it over and completed the hole, bringing it in an 800-barrel well. It has been on almost constant production since then and was pumping about seventy-five barrels daily at the time of the fire.

BOY'S SIDE PIERCED BY SLIVER OF GLASS

PASADENA, June 8. — William Johnson, local boy, was climbing on the fence when he fell, breaking the glass in a window pane which had been lying on the ground. A fragment of broken glass pierced his left side and emergency hospital physicians at first feared his left lung had been punctured. Pasadena Hospital physicians, however, today stated that the lung had not been pierced. He soon will return to his home at 1503 East Colorado street.

Preschool Clinics Conducted at Ontario Bring Back to Health and Strength Many Little Ones

ONTARIO, June 8.—Preschool clinics conducted for the past few months by Ontario public health department for children who plan to enter school in the fall, have brought about wonderful results, according to Miss Bertha Schwarzwaelder, head of the city nursing staff. Forty-nine American children and twenty-six Mexican children were examined by the city nurses. Of this number thirty-five were found to be in perfect health while forty were said to have physical defects, which their parents were urged to remedy at once.

Physicians who gave their time in the five clinics are: Dr. G. J. Fleming, Dr. J. H. Titus, Dr. W. M. Chapman, Dr. R. L. Alexander, Dr. C. L. Emmons.

A dental clinic was also made possible through the Lions' Club, for children whose parents were unable to pay for such service. A total of seventy-six children were treated at this clinic; 400 children were given free vaccination for smallpox; six children were aided by the crippled childrens' fund of the Community Chest.

Two hundred underweight children were found at the beginning of the school year and all but thirty-two of them were brought to normal weight by drinking milk provided from the Community Chest and the Rotary Club. Most of the defective children were Mexicans.
